Farm Policy Needed!

The unnecessary and tragic plight of the debt ridden farmers of Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba is due to the continued failure of the Dominion government to take remedial action at the appropriate time.

Three necessary steps must be taken by Ottawa to give the farmers a FARM POLICY which will compare favorably with those which have proved to be so successful in the United States and New Zealand:

1—The accumulated farm debts of the past fifteen years must be drastically reduced or entirely wiped out at the expense of the Dominion government and in part by the mortgage companies, where excessive interest charges have been levied.

2—Debt reduction without parity prices would be useless, therefore PARITY PRICES must be established—and guaranteed.

3—All payments made by the farmers of principal, as well as interest, on debt must be allowed to be deductible from net income before payment of war income taxes.

Farming is the most vital industry in Canada and takes first place in war. All other war industries in Canada are guaranteed a profit and return of capital.

No foreclosures of mortgages should be permitted by the governments of Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba until the Dominion government gives the farmers the same protection freely granted all other war industries.

THINK IT OVER!

WASHINGTON, June 19—(AP)—Tapping of Canadian oil resources on the Mackenzie river to supply fuel for the army and navy was disclosed today by Robert Patterson, United States undersecretary of war.

"It has been very successful," he said in reply to questions at a press conference about the oil development, which has been a closely guarded military secret.

Oil from the project in the Yukon territory, he said, will be used to supply army and navy forces in the Alaska area. He said he was unable to state specifically where the oil from the field is refined but understood it was at a refinery farther to the west which is producing aviation gasoline.

WHOLLY MILITARY

The project as a whole, Patterson said, is wholly military and "purely for our needs up there."

Known as the "Canol project," an abbreviation for Canadian oil, the development is under the direction of Brig.-Gen. James A. O'Connor, commander of the Northwest Service Command.

LENGTHY PIPELINE RIVALS ALASKA HIGHWAY

A pipeline, more than 1,000 miles in length, is a construction project that rivals the Alaska Highway.

Coupled with the immediate military significance of the pipe line is the supremely important development of nearly-forgotten rich oil resources in the great Canadian northland.

Refineries and other establishments, and the drilling of many new wells, are part of the immense development going on now in the sub-Arctic region around Fort Norman. The whole project will be

Country's Coastal Provinces Placed Under Martial Law

LONDON, June 19.—(CP)—Reuters News Agency reported from Algiers today rumors were current that Italian peace envoys, possibly including Crown Prince Umberto and Marshal Pietro Badoglio, were in the French African capital as Mussolini presided over a cabinet meeting in Rome which the Italian radio said approved new decrees.

Official London quarters said they had no confirmation of the rumors of peace envoys in Algiers, and efforts to verify the rumors there were unavailing. Umberto commands an army group, Badoglio was deposed as chief of staff early in the war.

Mussolini stepped back into the limelight last night after a week of strange silence, declaring nine threatened southern Italian provinces "operation zones."

STRIPE IN PARTY

The Morocco radio asserted that the Fascist party directorate had asked Mussolini to relinquish the entire conduct of the war to the party. This unconfirmed report, recorded by the Associated Press, suggested that strife within the party was rampant and that efforts might be underway to oust Mussolini in a move preliminary to eventual bargaining with the Allies.

During most of the week, reports emanating from Italy have pictured Carlo Scorza, secretary of the Fascist party, as the dominant figure in the government.

Trustworthy reports from inside Europe said a tide of Italian bitterness has been rising against Mussolini.

These reports said Mussolini was attempting to shift the blame for his errors upon the Fascist party

For Bankruptcy

Amendments to Farm Debt Act Said Required

REGINA, June 19.—(CP)—Experiences of recent years had indicated certain amendments were necessary to the Farmers' Creditors' Arrangement Act, which if made would provide a type of bankruptcy legislation applicable to farmers, Hon. J. W. Estey, attorney general of Saskatchewan said Friday commenting on a booklet which has been published by the Dominion Mortgage and Investment Association.

"As a matter of principle, it seems that the farmer with a large capital investment and carrying on a business of very considerable size is entitled to a type of bankruptcy legislation adapted to the nature and character of his business," said Mr. Estey.

ENTITLED TO LEGISLATION

"The farmer was entitled to that type of legislation just as much as those engaged in Mercantile, Industrial and other types of commercial business are entitled to bankruptcy legislation."

The federal government has announced that at the present session it would introduce legislation proposing amendments to the Farmers' Creditors' Arrangement Act. The prairie provinces last year and again this year, presented briefs to the federal government urging the need of such amendments.

The Dominion Mortgage and Investment Association also made representations to the federal government and has now issued a pamphlet opposing amendments "except for the purpose of restricting the operations of the act." Practically all lending institutions (except the banks)carrying on business in the west are members of the association.

Wavell Named Viceroy of India; Plan East Asia Military Command

By E. C. DANIEL

LONDON, June 19.—(AP)—Great Britain appointed Field Marshal Sir Archibald P. Wavell, commander-in-chief in India, as viceroy of India today, and announced the intention to create a separate East Asia military command to wage an offensive against Japan.

Gen. Sir Claude Auchinleck was appointed to succeed Wavell as commander in India. The separate command decision is presumably one of the major products of the Washington strategy conferences between Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt.

Who would head the proposed East Asia command was not disclosed.

FIVE-YEAR TERM

The announcement of Wavell's appointment to a five-year term succeeding Lord Linlithgow, and designation of Auchinleck to return to his 1940-41 command in India concluded:

"It is proposed to relieve the commander-in-chief in India of responsibility for the conduct of operations against Japan and to set up a separate East Asia command for that purpose. Further an-

VANCOUVER, June 19.—(CP)—Benjamin J. Barker of Calgary who pleaded guilty to smuggling $3,023 into the United States last year, was fined $50 and $2.50 costs, and the time he was in custody, in police court yesterday by Magistrate George R. McQueen.

Quebec Session Passes 25th Hour

QUEBEC, June 19.—(CP)—The Quebec legislature went into its 25th hour of almost continuous session at noon today as opposition members, red-eyed and weary but still determined, continued filibuster tactics in an effort to block passage of a government bill dealing with the management of a sugar beet factory.

Led by Union Nationale Leader Maurice Duplessis, the opposition read practically every scrap of literature they could find concerning the sugar beet industry, prolonging a session that began at 11 a.m. yesterday and has been broken only by short recesses since.

Except for short adjournments, the assembly sat all day yesterday and throughout the night. There was a brief recess at 11 a.m. today before the house again resumed the all-out debate.

SEIGNIORY CLUB, Que., June 19.—(CP)—Alan Brown of Gatineau Power Company was elected president of the Canadian Electrical Association at the 53rd annual convention today.

By J. F. SANDERSON

WASHINGTON, June 19—(CP)—The appointment of Field Marshal Sir Archibald P. Wavell as viceroy of India was regarded here last night as a forecast of intensified warfare against the Japanese in the Burma area, probably an all out offensive to reopen the Burma road at the end of the monsoon season this fall.

The immediate question here to the appointment, announced in London last night, was favorable, because it placed in the Viceroy's palace an acknowledged strategic expert and, perhaps, a man who might be able to pacify the conflicting and divided political elements of India.

Particular importance was attached here to one paragraph in the London announcement, the one explaining that, while Gen. Sir Claude Auchinleck will succeed Sir Archibald as commander-in-chief in India, it is proposed to relieve him "of responsibility for the conduct of operations against Japan and set up a separate East Asia command for that purpose."

Edmonton Airmen Dies of Injuries

SIMCOE, Ont., June 19.—(CP)—LAC J. A. Holgate of Edmonton, one of the two men listed as dangerously injured following a mid-air crash between two R.C.A.F. training planes at Hagersville, Ont., Tuesday, died last night in hospital at the No. 1 Bombing and Gunnery school at nearby Jarvis. Six men were killed in the crash.

Holgate was thrown clear of the plane when it crashed, along with PO. R. C. Herring of Hamilton, Ont., who still is in hospital.

LAC. Holgate was the son of Mrs. Betty Holgate of 8205 109 street.

German Industrial City Of Duesseldorf "in Ruins"

By WALTER CRONKITE

LONDON, June 19.—R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. bombardment of the great German industrial city of Duesseldorf has devastated more than 1,000 acres in the heart of the Nazi war production centre and the total may be 1,500 acres, the air ministry news service said today.

The news service said that the estimate of damage to the Rhineland city was not complete.

The R.A.F. term "devastated" means more than 60 per cent. destroyed. Duesseldorf has been hit by three great R.A.F.-R.C.A.F. night attacks.

TWO SQUARE MILES

The total damage at Duesseldorf probably will be more than two square miles destroyed, the news service said, adding:

"This is the most shattering blow to the German war potential so far struck in the battle of the Ruhr valley."

The first survey was based on aerial photographs taken after the June 11 R.A.F.-R.C.A.F. raid.

Straight Deal Derby Winner

NEWMARKET, Eng., June 19.—(CP)—Straight Deal, a 15-to-1 shot owned by Dorothy Paget, one of Britain's most prominent horsewomen, won the historic Derby today by sweeping from fifth place in the last half mile.

The Aga Khan's Umiddad was second and his Nasrullah was third. Persian Gulf finished fourth and the favorite, Kingsway, owned by Lord Astor, finished fifth.

The race was worth approximately $18,000 to the winner and was run in a strange setting, stripped of all its pre-war finery.

First reports had said Kingsway was fourth, but an official Derby ruling put the favorite fifth.

BUENOS AIRES, June 19.—(AP)—Gen. Pedro Ramirez's government issued a decree last night suspending provincial elections scheduled for Sept. 5, and also banned the word "provisional" in referring to the present government.

Independent Group Postpones Meeting

CALGARY, June 19.—(CP)—The meeting of a five-member committee to prepare recommendations for reorganization of the Independent Citizens' Association of Alberta has been postponed indefinitely, said J. C. Mahaffy, M.L.A., yesterday. The meeting was scheduled for Saturday morning in Calgary.

The committee will meet at the call of the chairman, A. G. Baalim. Mr. Baalim is president of the association and the other members of the committee are Mr. Mahaffy, leader of the Independent opposition in the Alberta legislature; J. J. Bowlen, M.L.A., Calgary; J. Percy Page, M.L.A., Edmonton and Hugh J. Macdonald, M.L.A., Edmonton.

Newspapers Again Face Price Increase And Cut in Rations

WASHINGTON, June 19.—(AP)—A double dose of trouble for United States newspaper publishers loomed last night with recommendation for a cut in newsprint use July 1 and the disclosure that a newsprint price increase will be discussed at a conference between the office of price administration and Canadian producers. O.P.A. accepted an invitation from the Canadian Prices Board to send one or two delegates to Montreal next week "for a discussion of newsprint prices."

Geostrategic Analysis

FINLAND

The possession of Petsamo, the only Finnish port on the Arctic Ocean, would be of limited value to the Allies as long as the adjacent part of Norway is in German hands. It is futile to consider the narrow stretch of coast between Norway and Russia, with Petsamo in the centre, the isolated object of a sea-borne invasion. Geopolitical conditions, particularly the distance from English bases and the possibility of German naval interference from the Norwegian coast, make such an operation quite illogical.

The only reasonable way to take possession of this port and the adjacent territory without simultaneous attack against northern Norway would be by land attack from the Russian and Murmask district combined with a naval attack from Russian bases.

However, any plans for the invasion of the northermost part of Norway should include an attack on Petsamo from the west in coordination with land and sea attacks from Russia.

NORWAY

(a) OBJECTIVES: (1) Greater safety for the northern sea routes, especially the supply lines to northern Russia. This objective is in part attainable by the occupation of the northern half of the Norwegian coast line only. (2) A control of the Skagerrak, which is the only German outlet from the Baltic Sea into the North Sea except for the Kaiser Wilhelm Canal. This objective could be reached by the occupation of the southern part of the country alone. As a consequence

Girl Scribe Says City Hospitality Is Solidifying Canadian, U.S. Ties

This article has been written specially for The Edmonton Bulletin by Jane Meyer, feature writer with the Chicago Herald-American. Miss Meyer is visiting northwestern Canada on a special assignment for her paper. The Chicago writer is a veteran reporter with nine years' experience. She has "covered" many important stories. A recent scoop she secured was an exclusive interview with Brig.-Gen. Claire Chennault, famed leader of the American Flying Tigers in Burma and now commander of the U.S.A.A.F. in China. Miss Meyer obtained a "beat" interview with General Chennault in Washington, during his visit to the U.S. last May. He vowed to Miss Meyer that he will "visit" Tokyo before he next returns from the Far Eastern war zone. In addition to being an accomplished writer, Miss Meyer is a qualified airplane pilot.—EDITOR.

Canadians making their first trip to Chicago seemingly brace themselves for one thing. A shooting on every street corner. This conception springs from the wide publicity that prohibition day gangland murders received.

Americans now flocking to Edmonton on their first visit have equally erroneous ideas about what they'll find at journey's end.

Most of them are amazed at Edmonton's fine stores, buildings and homes. Pin them down as to why they're surprised, and they'll vaguely reply that to them the Canadian Northwest meant the Mounted Police in their handsome red coats, a la Hollywood. Or trackless virgin timber, with lakes, rivers, Indians, dog teams and Eskimos all jumbled into one heterogeneous mass.

GET "ACQUAINTED"

It's about time that we two friendly peoples, so similar in thoughts, appearance, aims and ways of life, get acquainted. Unfortunately it seems to have taken a global war to complete the introduction.

Americans here are grateful for the hospitality and welcome that the people of Edmonton have ex-

Rumor Italian Emissaries Are Seeking Peace

national directorate and that this was the reason for the eminence of the directorate in Italian affairs earlier this week. However, all members of the directorate were appointed by Mussolini, whose title of Il Duce means "leader of the party."

The report of Italian peace envoys recalled the dictum of Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt at Casablanca in January, in which they declared that the only peace terms to Axis nations would be unconditional surrender.

In recent days, peace feelers have been reported—without confirmation—from Rumania and Hungary, Balkan Axis satellites. Axis sources have denied consistently all stories suggesting its members were seeking separate peace.

By J. EDWARD MURRAY

LONDON, June 19.—Italy's invasion coast went under martial law today as the Allies ordered an all out aerial bombardment of the southern Axis partner and Eurasian reports told of gathering British troop and naval concentrations in the eastern Mediterranean.

An Ankara dispatch said that sea and ground concentrations in Syria might be a prelude to an assault on the Aegean islands lying east of Greece and Crete. The Allied navies were said to be standing by off Syria for an "attacks."

Premier Mussolini's own newspaper, the Popolo d'Italia of Milan, said the bell was about to ring for the "last round."

"Perhaps it already has rung," the newspaper said. "We are standing squarely on our feet, ready for anything."

From radio Algeris came a report that German Marshal Albert Kesselring has taken over command of the Italian air force as result of German dissatisfaction with the conduct of the Italian air command during recent Mediterranean operations.

The new Italian martial law decree affects southern provinces along a 700-mile stretch of coastline following orders for the evacuation of Sardinia from Naples, Sardinia and Sicily.

Almost simultaneously, radio Algiers broadcast a warning from the Allied command in North Africa that British and American planes have been ordered to bomb Italian war industries and communications "with as much thoroughness and as systematically as they hammered your harbors and your naval vessels during the African campaign."

URGED TO SEEK SAFETY

"Therefore," the broadcast told the Italian people, "the Allied commander-in-chief advises you to abandon the vicinity of these buildings and take your families away to safe places. The Allies intend to destroy your lines of communication as long as they serve the aims of the Axis."

The warning came as the terrific air offensives that led to the capitulation of Pantelleria and Lampedusa a week ago still were fresh in the minds of the Italian people.

Premier Mussolini's decree declaring eight additional Italian provinces facing the Tyrrhenian, Ionian and Adriatic Seas "zones of operations under martial law" was reported by Berne dispatches to strengthen a current belief here that Italy fears Allied invasion forces may by-pass Sicily and land directly on the Italian mainland.

CUT ITALY IN TWO

This, Berne sources said, would cut Italy in two, if successfully developed, and isolate Sicily, which is separated from the toe of the Italian boot by the four to seven mile wide Messina strait.

The new martial law decree made all citizens of Foggia, Bari, Brindisi, Lecce, Taranto, Cosenza, Catanzaro and Matera provinces subject to military penal laws.

The decree also extended martial law to all sections of Reggio Calabria province not included in a similar decree announced May 21.

Thus the entire toe, sole and heel of the Italian boot as far north on the west coast as a point northeast of Cosenza and on the east coast to a point opposite Foggia has been placed under military control.

Sicily and Sardinia were placed under martial law under a decree issued May 11 just after the fall of Tunis and Bizerte.

ANOTHER DECREE

Another martial decree last night announced that the first military territorial war tribunal will be opened at Cosenza July 1 with jurisdiction over Reggio Calabria, Catanzaro and Cosenza provinces.

A Zurich dispatch relayed by the London radio said that the Italian government had ordered the evacuation of civilians from Naples and all larger towns of Sicily by June 10. The evacuation of all towns in Sardinia will be completed by the end of this month, the broadcast said.

A Berne dispatch said that unconfirmed reports published abroad that a revolt had broken out in Naples and that martial law had been discredited by informed quarters there as "premature."

These quarters also denied foreign reports that Fascist Secretary Carlo Scorza had taken over direct action from Mussolini. Scorza, as party secretary, is Number 2 man in Italy with a free hand to control Fascist members holding key government posts, but he still must answer to Mussolini, it was explained.

OTTAWA, June 19.—(CP)—Postmaster General Mulock announced yesterday resumption of the trans-Atlantic air service for ordinary air mail letters to members of the armed forces in the United Kingdom. The service was curtailed some months ago due to lack of space aboard ocean planes. The postage rate is 30 cents a half ounce.

tended. They realize that they have crowded the citizenz, occupying all available housing facilities, and jamming the restaurants.

So acute did this become at one time that the War Department considered evacuating all American wives. Fortunately for the morale of both the husbands and wives, this plan was abandoned. It was rejected largely because the Canadians did their utmost to facilitate the finding of proper accommodations for American families, and make them a part of the community.

The situation has generally ironed itself out, and both Canadians and Americans are living happily side by side, in an 'actual hands across the border existence.

Hotel men have taken the influx in their stride, and somehow have provided excellent rooms for their guests.

The Canadian and American military in Edmonton functions so harmoniously that to the observer it's often difficult to realize that there are two armies from two countries. They work almost as one in their fine co-operation.

MAYOR SPREADS WELCOME

Mayor John W. Fry has spread the welcome mat. His departments give every assistance to American civilians and military.

It was my privilege to attend one of his bi-monthly meetings of the American Women's Service club in the Empire Room of the Hudson's Bay Company. The club's treasury had a surplus, and there was a motion to donate a certain amount to one of the Canadian war organizations. Mrs. Richard Thomas, secretary of the club, said that it would be a small way to show the Canadians how grateful the American ladies were for everything that had been done to make them feel at home in Edmonton.

The American women decided to hold a tea, at which they would fill 25 ditty bags for those unsung heroes, the men of the Canadian Merchant Marine.

They unanimously voted to assist Edmonton women one day a month in the war stamp booth, taking over the selling of stamps to further Canada's war effort.

Over the tea cups at the end of the meeting, they discussed their victory gardens. One woman told me she had taken down her storm windows. She had them removed at the time of year here that she did in the States. It was too early for this climate. And she related the neighborliness of her next door resident who noticed this matter, and came across the backyard to advise her to leave them up at least six weeks longer.

These things, maybe. But important things. The details that go to making up friendly living. Of getting along together. And when you think of the problems the war has here that much easier. Making it possible for American military and construction men to maintain their families, and to look forward to victory because their loved one are close at hand.

SOLIDIFY FRIENDSHIP

Little people. Doing more to further better understanding between two countries simply by getting along happily side by side. By sharing the exigencies of war together. In accomplishing these elementary things, Canadian and American citizens have done more to further good will between the two countries than their respective diplomats could achieve in years.

M.P. Asks Action On Gopher Menace

OTTAWA, June 19—(CP)—Victor Quelch (N.D. Acadia) said yesterday in the House of Commons that determined efforts should be made to kill every gopher in a wide Alberta area, where they carried fleas which could transmit plague germs to humans and animals.

Speaking during discussion of agriculture department estimates, Mr. Quelch said poisoning could not be depended upon to kill the gophers because in the territory affected farms were few.

He read an advertisement from the Hanna, Alta., Herald, indicating the need for killing the plague carriers.

Unless the situation were checked at once, plague germs might be spread across Canada, Army operations in the vicinity were concerned with gas experiments, and such gas might be used in destroying gophers.

Agriculture Minister Gardiner said studies in the area were being conducted by the health department, and agriculture department entomologists co-operated.

Jap-Owned Land In Fraser Valley Sold For Veterans

OTTAWA, June 19—(CP)—State Secretary McLarty announced last night that 769 parcels of farm land in the Fraser Valley area of British Columbia, formerly owned by Japanese, have been sold to the director of the Veterans' Land act for future disposition to British Columbia men now in the armed services.

Proceeds of the sale will be credited to the accounts of the former Japanese owners. It was negotiated by Mr. McLarty, as custodian of enemy property, on the recommendation of the advisory committee on rural property set up under Judge Whiteside of New Westminster, B.C.

The owners of the land have been evacuated from the protected areas of British Columbia, of which the Fraser Valley is part.

Northern Oil Field Proves Big Success

completed by the end of 1943, it is hoped.

Despite official military secrecy concerning the project, members of the Canadian parliament have discussed the entire project without reservation in the house of commons.

Oil findings in the Norman field, 400 miles northwest of Whitehorse on the Mackenzie river has surpassed all expectations of geologists.

Oil and gasoline for the planes blasting the Japanese in the Aleutians and the ships and power-driven equipment in the Alaskan theatre of war, will soon flow from the great Canadian field to bases of active warfare, it is confidently predicted.

ALL PRODUCING

So far not a single oil well drilled has failed to produce.

The story of the progress of the pipe line is one equally as thrilling as the construction of the great military highway to Alaska. Great highways have also been built to supply construction crews working on the pipeline.

Hundreds of skilled workers from the United States, veterans of pipe line construction, have battled the bitter cold of the worst winter in 40 years and the heat and insects of blistering summer days, to get the big project underway.

SEVEN EXPEDITIONS

"We sent seven expeditions into the field to find the best route," Gen. O'Connor stated.

"A pipe line is 90 per cent high-way," he added.

Airplanes, horses, tractors and dog teams were used in surveying route of the line.

Much work has already been done on the pipeline itself and the work is driving steadily ahead.

When completed the line will bring crude oil to a refinery which is to be erected in the vicinity of Whitehorse, and refined oil will be extend from there, south along the highway and north to Fairbanks.

Official news release concerning the pipe-line construction was made Saturday in Edmonton by Capt. Freeman C. Bishop, public relations officer for the Northwest Service Command of the United States Army.

Legion Convenes Protest Meeting

A meeting will be held at 4:15 p.m. Sunday in the Memorial Hall, of all ex-servicemen's organizations, women's auxiliaries to servicemen's organizations and dependents, according to J. H. Van Slyke, secretary-manager of the Edmonton branch of the Canadian Legion.

Course of action to prevent the eviction of servicemen's wives and dependents from their homes, will be discussed and decided upon. Prime Minister Mackenzie King; Hon. James A. MacKinnon, M.P., minister of trade and commerce; Mrs. Cora T. Casseiman, M.P.; Hon. J. L. Ralston, and Minister of Justice Hon. Louis St. Laurent will receive a resolution, sent by wire recently. The resolution asked immediate action to be taken by the Dominion government with regard to the eviction of soldiers' families from their homes.

President of the Edmonton branch of the Legion, H. E. Tanner will be in the chair at the Sunday meeting. Speakers will include representatives from various organizations.

"Secret Weapon" Aided American Landing on Attu

WASHINGTON, June 19.—(AP)—Radar—the most publicized secret weapon of the war—made possible the successful American landing on Attu in the Aleutians, the congress learned yesterday.

Maj-Gen. Dawson Olmstead of the United States signal corps told the house of representatives appropriations committee:

"In the battle of Attu in Alaska, when our forces arrived and wanted to get men ashore in small boats, the weather made visibility so bad that the water could not be seen from the deck of a ship. Radar was brought and the men landed by the use of radar."

Radar, developed in Britain, is a radio device used for detection of ships, planes or other objects obscured from vision.

U.S. Production Behind Schedule

Copyright, 1943, by British United Press

WASHINGTON, June 19—American Under Secretary of war Robert P. Patterson said today that war production has fallen behind schedule, and warned the United States it must buckle down to the job of producing war materials or the opportunity to exploit recent military successes will be lost.

"The war department is concerned over the army production situation," he said.

"Production in May of materiel for the ground forces supply program, which was scheduled to rise to two per cent, from $1,553,000,000 in April to $1,582,000,000 in May, actually declined three and one-half per cent. to $1,484,000,000.

The war production board only yesterday had disclosed that the United States produced 7,200 airplanes in May for a new monthly record.

Ottawa Takes Over Quebec Shipyards

OTTAWA, June 19—(CP)—Munitions Minister Howe last night announced the establishment of Quebec Shipyards Ltd., a crown company, to co-ordinate the shipbuilding activities of Morton Engineering and Dry Dock Co. Ltd., Quebec; George T. Davie and Sons, Ltd., Lauzon, Que., and the shipbuilding division of Anglo-Canadian Pulp and Paper Mills, Ltd.

President of the new company is Wilfrid Gagnon, and the directors are Elliott Little, formerly director of National Selective Service and general manager of Anglo-Canadian Pulp and Paper Mills, Ltd.; Maurice Samson, C.A., of Chartre, Samson, Beauvais, Gauthier and Co.; and Edouard Simard, vice-president of Sorel Industries, Ltd.

Mr. Howe said a representative of organized labor also will be appointed to the directorate.

The new company will simplify and co-ordinate production programs of the three plants.

Infant Drowned In Horse Trough

DRUMHELLER, June 19.—(CP)—Roy Day Leafesty, 18-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Day Leafesty of Hand Hills in the Hanna district was drowned Wednesday in a horse trough partially filled with water. The little fellow a short time before was watching his parents working around the granary. When they missed him they made a search and found their child dead in the water.

Major Offensive

Nazis Used Greatest Sub Force In History Against Allies in May

MARGATE, England, June 19. — (AP) — Germany threw her greatest submarine force in history into an all-out sea offensive against Allied shipping in May, Harold Balfour, undersecretary of state for sir, told an audience today at a "Wings for Victory" bond selling campaign.

He repeated Prime Minister Churchills' assertion that Britain's May losses, nevertheless, were lower than any month since the United States entered the war.

The German offensive against ships laden with food, munitions and men was "the biggest effort to date" and was fought out over 10,000,000 square miles of sea, he said.

"Into it they put more submarines than ever had been used before," Mr. Balfour declared. "They attacked our convoys with the greatest determination. It was a major offensive mounted on a grand scale with great forces."

More U-boats were attacked by the R.A.F.'s coastal command than ever before in one month and U-boat sightings reached an unprecedented peak, he said, remarking that "next in importance to securing a kill on a U-boat is to make it submerge and stay submerged."

He cautioned that the current lull may be only temporary.

"The enemy is regrouping his shattered forces and filling up casualty gaps in his submarine ranks. When and where he will launch an all-out offensive rests with the future. The battle of the Atlantic cannot end until the war has been won," Balfour said.

Soviets Break Nazi Defences In Orel Area

MOSCOW, June 19.—Red army troops hammering at an exposed German salient southwest of Moscow, broke through German defences in an advance above Orel today and captured a new offensive line.

More than 100 Germans were killed in the thrust, launched from the new Soviet bridgehead northeast of Mtsensk, 30 miles northeast of Orel, the mid-day communique said.

Only 123 hours earlier the Soviets had announced the wiping out of 2,000 Germans in several days of fruitless Axis counter-attacks aimed at dislodging the Russians from four newly-captured towns in the area.

Continued aerial operations which cost the enemy at least 53 planes in 24-hours were reported in the communique. Artillery duels were reported along various sections of the long front.

SIEGE AT NOVOROSSISK

(The British radio said Berlin admitted the Black Sea port of Novorossisk, held by the Germans in the northwest Caucasus, was under siege of Soviet artillery. The city was described by Berlin as a "complete inferno.")

Air raids were centred in the Donets basin and near Leningrad as the Russians sought to cut off German strength that might be used to bolster a long-delayed summer offensive.

(A DNB, Nazi news agency, said patrol activity and German air raids behind Russian lines must be taken to indicate a coming action, "possibly part of a major military operation.")

Driver Is Arrested After Street Crash

William J. Collinson, 12514 114 avenue, driver of a city taxi, was arrested Saturday morning after he had crashed into the rear of a truck at 109 street and 104 avenue at 8 a.m. Driver of the truck was Lawrence DesJardine, 10809 100 avenue, who told police authorities he was about to pass the truck and stop on 104 avenue, when he saw a car coming. While he was waiting for it to pass, the auto crashed into the rear of the truck, careened to the east side of the subway, and came to a stop.

Collinson, placed under arrest, was charged with dangerous driving. The auto, damaged to the extent of $250, was towed to police headquarters' garage, where a bottle of liquor was reportedly found in a search of the vehicle.

Garson Says C.C.F. Violates Mandate

CARTWRIGHT, Man., June 19.—(CP)—Premier Stuart S. Garson told the electors of the provincial constituency of Killarney that the C.C.F. party had violated the people's mandate when it withdrew from the Manitoba coalition government last December.

He spoke here last night in support of A. W. Harrison, Conservative-Coalition candidate in the June 22 by-election. D. H. Chapman is the C.C.F. candidate.

Mr. Garson said the C.C.F. had no mandate but to support the non-partisan administration which they had "assisted in creating."

He said the Manitoba government has been in the forefront in the fight for attainment of Dominion-provincial financial relations, and he warned:

"If they are not put on a sound footing, the people of Manitoba, especially the farmers, will pay a large and unfair share of the costs of the post-war program."

Lt.-Col. Roswell Rosengren, chief Public Relations officer for the United States Army Engineers, Washington, D.C., will be guest speaker at a luncheon meeting of the Edmonton Junior Chamber of Commerce in the Macdonald next Wednesday at 6:16 p.m. A past president of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce, Lt.-Col. Rosengren will speak on "Young Men and the Army."

MADRID, June 19—(BUP)—Spanish dispatches from La Linea today said that large Allied landing barges with cannon mounted on the bow had arrived at Gibraltar from the Atlantic and that Allied convoy vessels had left Gibraltar for North Africa. A convoy of 18 merchant ships had been reported in Gibraltar where two British aircraft carriers, two battleships and 12 destroyers as well as three American destroyers were concentrated, the dispatches said.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, North Africa, June 19. —Large forces of bombers, mightier than those which blasted Pantelleria into surrender, loosed torrents of explosive and fire bombs on Sicily and Sardinia yesterday in a sudden intensification of the Allies' pre-invasion offensive in the Mediterranean, it was revealed today.

A British United Press dispatch from an advance airdrome said formation after formation of heavy, medium and fighter-bombers swept across the Mediterranean to keep the two steppingstone islands under a constant rain of bombs.

The raiders ran into swarms of German and Italian fighters and pitched battles ensued. When the day ended, however, 39 enemy fighters had been shot down and only eight Allied planes were lost, a communique reported.

HEAVIEST BATTLE

The Allied planes met heavy opposition over Sardinia. One of the hardest fights was over Aracl, where 22 enemy aircraft were destroyed by Mitchell bombers and Lightnings.

Their bombing attack resulted in the demolition of warehouses, jetties, railroad tracks and other buildings.

In addition to the big raids on Sicily and Sardinia, the Allied tactical air force carried out many patrols yesterday over Pantelleria Island and prevented a formation of enemy dive bombers from attacking the island during the evening.

R.A.F. long-range fighters from the Middle East command attacked a German schooner and four sailing vessels off the west coast of Greece, scoring many hits. Land targets also were attacked.

On Thursday night bombers from the same bases attacked Comiso, Sicily airdrome, starting fires and destroying hangars and other targets. All planes returned safely.

FOLLOWS WARNING

(The intensified aerial offensive followed a warning from Allied headquarters in North Africa, broadcast by Radio Algiers, that British and American planes will bomb Italian war industries and communications "with as much thoroughness and as systematically as they hammered harbors and naval vessels during the African campaign.")

At least three ships were sunk or damaged and docks, railway yards, airfields and other strategic objectives were blasted in a thunderous assault following two days of routine daylight patrols by the northwest African air forces.

Council Arranges Special Meeting

A special meeting of the city council has been called for Monday afternoon to deal with an application from the Edmonton Public School Board seeking an amendment to a zoning by-law to permit the erection of a two-storey stucco school building on the Forest Heights school grounds.

The present school accommodation at Forest Heights is inadequate to meet the pupil requirements, and an extension to the school facilities is urgently needed. There are now 143 pupils attending the school. This attendance taxes the capacity of the three room building beyond both health and teaching efficiency.

Funds for the school building were voted when school board estimates were considered last March.

Taken to Train: Returns to Police

A man who was twice placed on a train for Dawson Creek each time returned to the city police station. On the second occasion he was back before police officers who took him to the train.

Taken from the police station on Thursday, officers put the man on the train at 5:30 p.m. At 7 p.m. he was back in the station house, where he was kept all night. On Friday, he was again accompanied to the train and watched until the train pulled out at 5:46 p.m. While waiting for the train to pull out, he got off on the far side of the station, and once more had to be brought back.

The train left and police officers returned to headquarters. They got a shock when they found the man back there, ahead of them.

94 Jap Planes Instead of 77 Are Destroyed

ADVANCED U.S. BASE, South Pacific, June 19.—An amended official report on the result of the greatest air battle ever fought over Guadalcanal said today that Americans destroyed 94 instead of 77 Japanese aircraft on Wednesday.

Seventeen airplanes were destroyed by surface vessels—which the enemy sought to attack—in addition to the 77 brought down by American fighter planes.

The latest reports boosted the score to almost 16 to 1 in favor of the Americans, who lost six planes. One pilot was rescued.

A Liberty cargo ship and a small vessel, both hit by Japanese dive bombers, can be salvaged, a spokesman said. The cargoes were not entirely lost.

American casualties were 26 killed and 29 injured and 22 missing.

Pre-World War destroyers shot down four enemy dive bombers during the battle. One 1,200-ton destroyer was attacked time after time but was able to escort ships into port after repelling the attackers.

Both Lt.-Gen Henry H. Arnold and Gen. Douglas MacArthur messaged congratulations on the efficiency and courage of the American units.

13,000 Miners Strike in States

PITTSBURGH, June 19—Strikes in the Western Pennsylvania coal fields increased today, embracing approximately 13,000 of the area's 128,000 miners. More were expected to join in the strikers during the day in protest against the American War Labor board wage decision.

The Central Pennsylvania sector was hardest hit by the walkouts. A survey there showed approximately 6,000 miners idle in Cambria, Somerset and Indiana counties.

Equally hard hit were the fields farther west, where 6,500 men were on strike.

Report Von Papen Loses Envoy Post

STOCKHOLM, June 19. — The newspaper Svenska Dagbladet quoted the Berne radio today as reporting that Franz von Papen has been dismissed as German ambassador to Turkey. The ouster was attributed to a demand by German Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop.

The reported dismissal of Papen followed a series of diplomatic setbacks for Germany in Turkey.

The first was the conference early this year between Prime Minister Churchill and Turkish President Ismet Inonu in Adana, southern Turkey.

Premier Sukg Eusmy last week expressed friendship for Russia, Britain and the United States and dismissed trade with Axis countries with a slight reference to Turkey's trade and non-aggression pacts with Germany.

Report Settlement French Difficulties

ALGIERS, June 19.—A compromise whereby Gen. Charles de Gaulle could carry out his army reforms without involving the French war effort has been arranged, it was reported today.

The plan is said to call for a special committee of national defence headed by de Gaulle to share military powers with a war committee under Gen. Henri Honore Giraud.

Reliable French circles pointed out there was no assurance de Gaulle would accept the plan and said it might be revamped several times before any final solution is determined by the French Committee for National Liberation.

Giraud's committee would be charged with the main job of directing French forces fighting with the Allies.

Members of the liberation committee worked privately to iron out the situation but there was no indication a formal meeting would be held until Monday.

Bridgehead To Victory

the German fleet, which has had important bases and hiding places in the ports and fiords of Norway ever since that country was occupied in 1940, would be deprived of these northern strongholds and, with the Kaiser Wilhelm Canal exposed to continuous bombing from new Allied bases in southern Norway, would be split and isolated with a minimum of mobility. One part would be in the Baltic Sea and the other part in the North Sea and in French ports. There the German fleet would be much more exposed to Allied attacks than in its present bases, and could not be used to the best advantage. (3) Cutting supplies of certain strategic raw materials chiefly nickel and molybdenum. These two metals, although replaceable to a certain degree, are of great importance to Germany. Substitutes for other Norwegian products can be found more easily. (4) One speculative objective should be mentioned: after a successful invasion of Norway, Sweden might be persuaded to stop deliveries of war materials to Germany. Sweden iron ore might go via Narvik to England, and Swedish arms and other supplies might be available for the Allies, particularly for the invasion force itself once that force was safely established in Norway.

(b) GEOPOLITICAL CONDITIONS. Norway, especially along its coast, is very mountainous. Innumerable fiords and islands give the cost line a tremendous length, so that it is impossible to create effective defenses everywhere. Therefore numerous points can be attacked by sea and first footholds can be gained without extraordinary losses and complications. The extension of any bridgeheads gained, however, would be most difficult, in view of the steepness, height, and wildness of the coastal mountains which prohibit the extensive use of motorized land transport, and would slow the progress of larger offensive actions. These conditions are naturally aggravated by the fact that the same characteristics which would hamper larger drives farther inland favor the enemy by providing powerful natural defense positions. The nature of the coast line and its great distance from England would also permit German submarines and surface vessels now stationed in northern waters to continue to greatly disrupt and disturb Allied supplies to an invasion corps.

CLIMATIC CONDITIONS

Climatic conditions are favorable in summer but difficult during the long winter. Transportation means are scarce; few railways, few main roads, few navigable rivers. The country is the most thinly populated in Europe. It supports an average of only twenty-two inhabitants per square mile, and only three or four coastal districts, having larger towns, show denser populations. Apart from German military stores, which are likely to be destroyed before they could be seized by the invaders, no large supplies would be available anywhere, particularly now after nearly three years of war.

The opportunities for establishing landing fields are limited, and air support for the attacker would have to come partly from carriers. The establishing of supply lines from the landing points to places farther inland would be difficult. Also provisioning and reinforcing by air would be problematic due to the scarcity of landing fields near the coast. With the exception of Greece there is hardly any country in Europe where first successes on land could be so easily attained but where further progress would be so difficult.

A large part of the population has been so unwilling to co-operate with the German army of occupation that rigorous methods have been used by the German military authorities to break resistance. The chances for support of an Allied invasion army by the civilian population would not be extensive.

The distance from the Southwestern Norwegian coast to possible Allied bases in the British east coast is only about three hundred miles, therefore not unreasonably great. This distance would even allow the use of certain types of fighter planes flown from land bases or at least from carriers stationed not far from the British coast. But the distance between Northern Scotland and Trondheim is five hundred miles, and the more northern part of Norway could probably be more easily reached by Iceland. From Iceland distances of from seven hundred and fifty to a thousand miles must be covered. Bases in Iceland would be preferable so as not to provoke German air attacks against the important ports on the Scottish east coast.

(c) MILITARY PREPARATIONS OF THE ENEMY: In view of the extensive area the Germans must be expected to have uninterrupted fortifications only around the important points such as Stavanger, Bergen, and Trondheim. Besides there will be loose chains of carefully organized outposts and deep defense positions in favorable places all along and behind the coast. In Southern Norway large reserves will be concentrated at central traffic points inland, from which they can easily be distributed in all directions. The main airbases will also be found further inland. It is certain that the Germans have made preparations to blow up important bridges and other vital traffic installations which in high mountain country are likely to delay indefinitely the advance of an invading force. A powerful part of the German Navy is based in Norwegian waters and, if strongly supported by the Luftwaffe, would interfere with any Allied invasion fleet and hamper the maintenance of supply lines. The country has been in enemy hands for about three years, during which time England has never tried a major attack and afterward carried out several small actions with limited objectives, so the enemy has been forewarned. Railway and shipping facilities should be fairly intact since they have not been used for transit purposes as has happened in other occupied territories. For these reasons the Germans have had ample time and the means to establish powerful defenses. Any Allied penetration in depth, especially in the southwestern and southern provinces, would be certain to meet swift and powerful counteraction.

CONCLUSION: An invasion of Norway would only be a difficult and useful basis for a later all-out attack on Germany, except if Sweden as a possible jumping-off point for an attack against organized air mark and as an air base for planes operating, against northern and central Germany. Such action by Sweden, however, is highly improbable, at least until an Allied occupation of southern Norway has been completed. Even then the Swedish government cannot be expected to agree easily to its country becoming a theatre of war.

MAJOR EFFORT

A decisive success in the southern provinces of Norway would bring about the fall of the northern half of the country, although perhaps only after lengthy mopping-up operations. An attempted invasion of the southwestern coast would constitute a major effort to be undertaken in great force with powerful naval and air support. Special mountain troops and mountain artillery will also be would be required. The invader must be able to cover the few main communication lines from the air, particularly the roads that could serve his motorized troops, and also fight off the Luftwaffe, which would try to protect German reserves being brought up along the same roads. Ample use of parachute troops might be necessary. Initial operations would probably consist of a great number of simultaneous large-scale commando actions spread over a wide front in which specially trained and highly effecient reconnaissance troops would play a major part. Several sizable invasion armies would have to stand ready for action immediately after it had been discovered either where the enemy concentrated his reserves and where his weakest spots would allow decisive operations to be made. The Allies must also be ready and be able to counteract instantly in Sweden if the Germans should attack that country in order to prevent any Swedish move in favor of the Allies.

An attack against Norway's northern provinces alone would involve smaller forces and less effort, particularly in view of the narrowness of the Norwegian territory from the coast to the Swedish border. The whole coast between approximately the mouth of the Rana River and Petsamo is vulnerable in spite of the advantages which its shape gives to the defending forces. The failure of the British attempt against northern Norway in 1940 must not lead to any conclusions with regard to future operations. At that time the Allies had no experience, no properly organized air forces and from the beginning were in a hopeless situation against large German armies which at that time were already in control of the major operation in which Germany was involved. A future attempt by the Allies would probably only be met by so strong and concentrated a German force and would certainly be undertaken with means much superior to those at the disposal of the British troops in 1940. But even so an invasion of this northern stretch of territory might become a major operation, owing to the exposure of the invasion fleet and supply ships to submarine warfare and German surface vessels, and to the difficulties of using a sufficient number of fighter planes over a distance of eight hundred miles or more. The ultimate advantage to be gained by an invasion of northern Norway would be much smaller than that won by a successful attack against the southern provinces.

It remains to be seen in our final analysis whether the value of the objectives would warrant the risks and costs of operations against Norway. If successful, the operations could attain important though secondary objectives and have great psychological effect, without, however, being indispensable or decisive.

Intensified War in Burma Is Forecast

army was shattered by Field Marshal Erwin Rommel and driven back to within 60 miles of Alexandria in Egypt but who, nevertheless was the man who rallied his troops at the El Alamein line to save Egypt will be in charge of the military development of India, rather than given a field command.

There was conjecture here as to who will get the East Asia command, who will be the man in charge of actual operations against the Japanese. It was suggested in some quarters that Lt-Gen. Joseph Stilliwell of the United States Army, who now is in command of American forces in India and China, might be given this important job. Stilliwell is building up a sizable Chinese army in India and equipping it with American weapons.

Weather conditions in Burma probably will prevent aggressive action there until late fall or early winter. However, there is no similar bar to American attacks in the Pacific.

TOKYO EXPECTS THRUST

The massing of an estimated 120 enemy planes in the Guadalcanal raid that met stunning disaster strongly indicates that Tokyo believes a new and formidable American thrust to crack her insular defence ring is impending.

Placed together, the British preparations for an East Asia attack and Japan's obvious belief that an American sea-air attack is already brewing in the south Pacific strongly suggest the Washington strategy deliberations produced plans for the same sort of two-front attacks on Japan that proved so conclusively effective against the Axis in Africa.

Field Marshal Wavell Named India Viceroy

nouncement on this subject will be made soon."

This was taken by unofficial observers as a concrete expression of Britain's intention to prosecute the war against Japan with full vigor once Hitler is defeated.

The terms of the Wavell and Auchinleck appointments suggested here would be injected immediately into the job of creating a strong forward base in the subcontinent of 400,000,000 for the reconquest of the Orient.

DEFENSIVE TASK

It appeared that Auchinleck would have mainly a defensive task, while Wavell, whose position roughly would be that of a prime minister in relation to strategy, would apply his military knowledge as well as his political tact to the complex task of the offensive. Sir Archibald now is in Britain and will return to India in the autumn to assume the post of viceroy.

Auchinleck takes command in India immediately.

With growing emphasis upon the "experiment" in bomb Axis out of the war, it was rumored one of the R.A.F.'s aggressive air marshals might be considered to direct all Allied forces operating from India against Japan.

The terms of United States collaboration in the East Asia command are not known, but it would be a joint operation similar to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's highly successful campaign. There is no suggestion Gen. Douglas MacArthur's command in the South Pacific would be subordinated to the East Asia effort.

HINTS DIRECT ASSAULT

The creation of a command under an air officer would seem to imply a more direct assault on Japan, rather than a slow island-by-island advance.

The fact Wavell will not assume his new duties until the fall, however, suggested an immediate major advance in the Far East.

Gen. Auchinleck has been absent from public notice since he was replaced as Middle East commander in 1942.

While Wavell was selected primarily for his military skill, hopes were expressed in London quarters that his appointment may lead to better relations with Mohandas K. Gandhi.

Estimates Discussed

$400,000 for Allowances To Widows of Pensioners Is Approved by Commons

OTTAWA, June 19.—(CP)—An item of $400,000 to provide for compassionate allowances to needy widows of pensioners of the First Great War was approved by the House of Commons in committee of supply last night.

There was no opposition but Gordon Graydon, Progressive Conservative house leader, said the matter should have been dealt with by amendment to the pensions act instead of by an item in the estimates.

The allowances are not to exceed $240 a year or $300 in certain exceptional circumstances.

CONSIDER ESTIMATES

The whole evening was spent on estimates. Besides passing that item for Pensions Minister Mackenzie the house considered post office estimates and heard Postmaster General Mulock report 1942-43 was a record year for volume of mail carried and postal revenue.

During the discussion of the $400,000 pensions department estimate, Mr. Mackenzie said requests for such allowances in recent years and moved an amendment to the wording of the item to provide for the payments being handled by the war veterans' allowance branch rather than the pensions commission.

H. C. Green (Prog. Con., Vancouver South), said the payments would be welcomed, but he wondered why they should be provided for by estimates' item, rather than through legislation which would make the payment without a yearly vote being required.

Mr. Green said the amount should not be placed at $20 a month, but a small additional sum if widow had income. The payment should be at least $1 a day. This payment should be granted not only to widows but to all under the war veterans' allowance act and old age pensioners.

Free medical treatment should be available to widows who were eligible for the payments.

COVER IMPERIAL FORCES

Provision also should be made to cover the widows of men who served with imperial forces, and who had domicile in Canada on 10th Men who served with British forces in the last war and then came to Canada should merit the same treatment for their widows.

M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, said the payments proposed no more than a basic minimum.

Mr. Mackenzie said operation of the plan would be watched closely and if adjustments in the methods of operation were necessary they could be made later.

Stanley Knowles (C.C.F., Winnipeg North Centre), said he supported Mr. Green in suggesting that payments be made retroactive as far as possible. It would "unfair" to have the payments made available only in the future when the reason was that the house had been unable to reach the item earlier.

Mr. Mackenzie said he doubted if the vote could be made retroactive and expected it would be payable only after it had passed the house. He had brought the item before the house as the first in his departmental estimates.

URGES DISCRETION

Dr. Dan Melvor (Lib., Fort William), urged some discretion for the pensions commission to enable it to meet worthy cases of imperial force veterans in Canada who were unable to obtain pensions from the British government.

Gordon Graydon, Progressive Conservative leader, regretted the government had not dealt with the widows by legislation instead of by an item in the estimates. It would then have been possible to make payments retroactive.

The compassionate allowances item was approved and Postmaster General Mulock proceeded with his estimates.

The fiscal year 1942-43 was a record year for the postal service, it topped the previous high record established in 1941-42. The increase in gross revenue over the previous year was $3,697,975. The increase in net revenue was $2,874,890.

Increased revenues did not wholly reflect the increase in the volume of mail carried for there was an increase of more than $700,000 in the quantity of franked mail carried.

Answering a question from Hon. Gratie Sutherland (Prog. Con., Yale), Col. Mulock said the Canadian post office had nothing to do with mail coming from Britain to Canada until it reached Canada.

HAVING SOME TROUBLE

"I think I can say they are having some trouble there," he said. The fact is there are more planes going to Britain than there are returning and it is not easy for the British post office personnel to find space for all the airmail."

When they got behind the only way to catch up was to limit the accumulation of air mail letters on a fast ship. Otherwise all air mail would be always away behind.

Bracken Braves Rain Storm When Car Is Disabled

HALIFAX, June 19—(CP)—A blanket wrapped around his shoulders, John Bracken tramped a mile over a rutted country road through a rainstorm yesterday to reach Herring Cove for a talk with the fisherfolk of that Halifax county village.

A bump on the road disabled the Progressive Conservative leader's car, and he elected to risk a soaking to get to the village, where he chatted with a group around the stove in the general store and later adjourned to the cabin of a nearby home for a round-table session with some of the shore fishermen.

Dear

This week has slipped by so quickly. The weather has been varied, good and bad being mixed. After rains on Wednesday and Thursday, the sun broke brightly on Friday, and there was every promise that the week-end would be fair and warm. The baseball and fastball leagues are in high gear and are making good progress. The fans are turning out in large numbers and enthusiasm is at a high peak among the crowds and competition is keen among the league teams.

Tennis courts and golf courses are crowded on favorable hours, mostly with service men and war workers seeking relaxation from their training or labors.

Nearly $20,000,000 annually will be needed to provide adult Albertans with health services proposed in new Dominion government health legislation, it is reported by a special provincial legislative committee which has inquired into terms of the Dominion's suggested Health Insurance Act. Two deaths from streptococcus within a week were reported today by R.C.M.P. authorities who are conducting an investigation from Leduc, where the disease struck. Dead are: W. A. Littlejproud, 53, of Telfordville, who died last Friday night, and William Matthews, 20, and a neighbor of the first victim, who died Sunday afternoon in an Edmonton hospital.

Mike Miss, injured in an accident June 5 when he reportedly ran into the side of a truck and was knocked to the pavement, receiving injuries to the back of his head, died in hospital yesterday morning. The fourth case in the City of Edmonton at March 31 last stood at $1,887,842.45, an increase of $43,158.28 over the same date in 1942, it has been disclosed in the report of the city auditor.

Possibility of a strike of all miners in the Edmonton district was averted Sunday when at a meeting they decided to delay any action on their request for increased wages until July 1, after receiving assurances that the National War Labor Board would give a decision on their case June 25.

Sports: A record-breaking crowd of 7,000 saw the U.S. Army team nose out Dodgers 3-2 in a 10-inning encounter at Renfrew Park Sunday afternoon. Dodgers broke even on errors in the ninth and tenth innings. The Americans now sit at the top of the City Senior Baseball League standings with five wins and one defeat. Dodgers occupy the cellar position with one win and four losses.

One hundred and one students who failed in their studies at the University of Alberta have been reported to the Regional Mobilization Board Dr. Robert Newton, president, announced today. Of the total, 52 of the failures were in arts and sciences, four were in agriculture, and 45 in applied science. Before the province can hold a by-election in Calgary to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Premier William Aberhart on May 23, essential preliminaries must be completed, it was learned today. The provincial statute calls for an election within 90 days after occurrence of the vacancy, and thus Nov. 19 is the last possible date for the Calgary vote.

City commissioners recommended to council last evening that unless there is drastic reduction in fire insurance rates on municipal property, to establish rates that are commensurate with the fire risks involved in this type of insurance, the city should undertake to underwrite fire insurance risks on its own property on July 1 next.

Wage increases to junior and temporary civic employees, and an increase in the city's share of retirecent pensions from $25 to $35 a month, with the possibility of further provision to be made for past service, was passed unanimously by council to bring to a close the 1943 wage and working conditions agreements between civic employees and the city commissioners.

Leading the way for universities throughout Canada, first 16 youths of the profession to enter the R.C.A.F. after receiving partial training as members of the University of Alberta Air Training Corps, were sworn in at a public ceremony at the drill hall of No. 4 I.T.S. last night. In the service of the Canadian Pacific Railway for 31 years, and a prominent club member here, Charles Allen Steward died suddenly Tuesday at his home.

We were pleased to learn today that two Edmonton nurses now are serving with the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps at Currie Barracks Military hospital in Calgary, have been promoted to the rank of Lieutenant (nursing sister). They are Lt. (N.S.) Mary Josephine Jennings and Lt. (N.S.) Beatrice M. L. Simons.

In sports circles: Aircraft Repair Hornets trimmed Arrows 8-3 in a game that set a new high for errors at Renfrew Park last evening. The losers made 13 mistakes, eight of them in the fifth inning which let the Hornets score four unearned runs. The loss dropped the Arrows into a tie for second place with the Aircraft Repair men. Back in the city on a short leave, Lt. Dave LaRose is visiting his parents. Dave, who recently received his certificate at an eastern Canadian Officers' Training centre, will be remembered for his activities in junior hockey circles here. He was considered one of the best right-wingers developed in Edmonton, his last season with the Edmonton Athletic Club Juniors being 1940-41.

Because Edmonton is the focal point for operations on the Alaska Highway and related northern projects, a public relations office has been opened in the Tegler building for the Northwest Service Command of the U.S. Army. Capt. Freeman C. Bishop, a former newspaperman, is the officer in charge.

Edmonton Kinsmen Club held an auction sale on the Market Square yesterday and the sum of $4,100 was realized, to go to the Milk For Britain Fund. The sale opened at 1 p.m. and continued briskly until 5 p.m., when a heavy rain forced auctioneers and spectators alike to seek cover. However, the skies cleared and the sale was resumed at 7 p.m., and the final article did not go under the hammer until midnight. Norman G. Meldrum of this city will head the Debtors' Assistance Board of Alberta, it was announced today. Other members are George Woytkie, Edmonton, and W. H. Tompkins, Calgary.

Military call-up notices to male United States citizens living in Alberta will be sent out within the next few days, according to officials of the regional war services board, and those receiving them and passing their medical tests may enlist in either the American or Canadian armies. Single men between the ages of 19 and 40, and married men between 19 and 24 are affected by the regulation. Mr. Justice George H. O'Connor of the Alberta Supreme Court has been appointed chairman of a new western Labor Board to survey labor conditions in northwestern Canadian areas where both Canadian and American labor is employed, George B. Henwood ,deputy attorney general, will represent Alberta on the board. Other members are: Col. J. K. Keen, representing B.C.; Malcolm Ainsley, Edmonton, representing labor; H. G. Macdonald, Edmonton, the contractors, and William Carnill, Edmonton, the National Selective Service Board.

Carol Sipes, 18, of Vancouver, was instantly killed at Lacombe yesterday, when the motorcycle on which she was riding with W. Hyland Anderson of Rimbey, ran into the tender of a C.P.R. train at the crossing near Lacombe. Anderson is in hospital in a critical condition.

The name Alcan Highway has been consigned to the ash can. Today General James A. O'Connor, of the U.S. Army's Northwest Service Command, settled once and for all the controversy surrounding the name of the Alaska highway by announcing the name "Alcan" had been abandoned and henceforth the 1,600 mile lifeline to the north will be officially known as "The Alaska Military Highway."

Strong protest against evictions of dependents of men serving in Canada's armed forces, by Edmonton landlords and suggestion that the city build small apartments or courts to house those now under notice to vacate, were contained in resolutions passed at the regular monthly meeting of the Edmonton Branch, Canadian Legion, yesterday.

Two men were struck by a truck as they rode on a motorcycle Thursday afternoon, while another man walked into the side of a truck. All three were injured, two going to hospital. Preparing for settlement of the Pacific Northwest after the war, a group of government officials from Alberta and British Columbia, and representatives of the two Canadian railway companies, have just concluded meetings in Ottawa.

Millions of dollars will be spent in Alberta this year by large oil companies, for exploration and development work, Hon. N. E. Tanner, minister of lands and mines, announced today. He said the coming year will see the greatest amount of activity in the oil industry in Alberta's history.

R.C.M.P. announced today they had laid a charge of murder against Samuel Baptiste Desjarlais in connection with the shooting to death of George Pappas, Greek fur buyer whose body was found north of Lac La Biche two weeks ago.

June 19

It rained again last night. And how it did rain. But it seems that it may clear up during the day, although that is in the lap of Lady Luck. The forecast has been for fair weather, but as you know, at this time of the year, there is no telling an hour ahead just what the weather is going to be like. However, this is the time of the year when rain is needed to bring the crops along, and as this is mainly an agricultural country—apart from its war effort—one cannot complain at plenty of rain.

Two fastball games were played last night. In the opening canto of a doubleheader, pace of the Kingsway Park, the U.S. Engineers defeated No. 3 "M" Depot 8-7 in a closely-fought and thoroughly exciting exemplio that kept the cash customers at a high peak of enthusiasm throughout.

In the after-piece, the Bomberettes, a group of snappy and accomplished girls with the U.S. forces, edged out our own C.W.A.C. team by a one-run margin, the final count being 3-2.

Arrangements have been completed for a ceremony in connection with turning the first sod of the housing project that will bring 250 wartime homes to this city. The ceremony will be held on Monday, with Premier Ernest Manning, Mayor John W. Fry and other dignitaries participating. This project is counted on to relieve to some extent the acute housing situation that has arisen as a result of the influx of war workers and families of service men. The homes are to average in cost $4,000, and are to have full basements, with modern conveniences.

Word was received here today that Fit.-Sgt. Thomas Matheson Moran, son of Mrs. Samuel Moran of North Edmonton, is missing as a result of air operations, and that Sgt. Walter Lachman, son of Lukas Lachman, of 11823 107 street, has been dangerously injured.

Well, I believe it is time to close.

Best of everything until next week.

Looking Ahead

Butter stocks in Canada are 4,500,000 pounds larger than the five-year average at this point in the season. That is a lot of butter—but not when the rate of consumption is taken into account. It is less than one week's supply for the nation, very much less. The position has improved, after six months of rationing, by less than one fifty-second of the annual requirements. And because butter is largely a seasonal product it is the annual supply, not the actual present quantity in store, that has to be thought about.

Hence the ration allowance is not to be increased. The coupons will still call for only one half-pound per person per week. The control officials, surveying the long trend in the light of statistical information, and with knowledge of farm conditions and probabilities, foresee a slump in production next winter which will wipe out the surplus piled up during the summer. A slump severe enough that if the "quota" were raised for the summer there would be an acute shortage about eight months from now. That being the case, even the heavy butter-eater must agree that it will be better to make sure of having the half-pound each week than to indulge freely now at the certain risk of having little or no butter at all in mid-winter.

The Consumer Can Help

If any person did not know that Canadians are facing an emergent coal situation he has official advice to that effect. And any coal user who knew the fact but has made no effort to secure his home supply for next winter may see a warning in the order-in-council which declares such a condition to exist.

Under this order measures are being taken to step up production. The measures will in the nature of things depend upon how great the outlook may be found to be. And that in turn will depend in degree on how much buying of coal is done in the summer. If consumers fill their bins, or try to get them filled, far in advance, the extent to which increased production is necessary will become clear while there is time to take effective action. Otherwise a scarcity may develop far more serious than the public demand would indicate.

The prudent course is for the consumer to co-operate with the authorities by sending in the order at once. If consumers do this they will bring out the full extent of the demand to be met and provide a definite basis on which to calculate how much production must be speeded up to take care of next winter's needs.

Buying coal in advance in these circumstances is not hoarding. Production can be stepped up to whatever volume may be required, provided action is taken early. The more orders that pour into the coal offices during the summer, the more clearly will the position be known and the better it can be handled.

Adolf Versus the Radio

Berlin radio informs its hearers that "millions of Russian soldiers are waiting for word to join the battle" which it says the Red forces are precipitating on the eastern front. If the memories of the hearers are still able to function in spite of the distraction of bombing raids and pep appeals, they will recall that last fall the infallible Fuehrer told them the Red army had been effectively smashed, that Russia was through and "would never come back".

Whence come these "millions" of Russian soldiers Herr Goebbels now sees massed along the eastern fighting line, waiting the word not to retreat, but to launch an attack against which Nazis must shield themselves? For an army that had been knocked down and out eight months ago this recrudescence must seem even to the gabby Dr. to be remarkable. He of course dare not explain the phenomena, but that can hardly be necessary. It must be obvious to most Germans, as it is to the world at large, that the Hitler intuition slipped again when he announced the demise of the Red army.

It is now the duty of the radiomen to counter that unfortunate slip without referring to it, explain that the Red army is very much alive and is on the eve of starting a terrific offensive against the forces which were said to have destroyed it last summer. This they are doing with vigor and persistence. Russia, it might be supposed, was the aggressor which thrust predatory war upon the peaceful Reich and is about to deal it the most cruel blow of all!

In their raids on north German coastal targets a week ago, United States bombers shot down 150 and perhaps 170 Nazi fighter planes, for a loss of 32 of their own craft. That was much better than a four to one ratio, which is splendid going for an air force of any size composed of any class of planes, a ratio that has never been attained by an enemy force on any front in a pitched battle. The fighting was of course incidental. The mission of the bombers was to bomb the seaplane bases, which they did with satisfactory thoroughness, dealing with the enemy defence planes as a necessary side-affair.

But the news from Guadalcanal throws this fine achievement in the shade. Out of a Japanese armada of 120 bombers and fighters which attempted to destroy an Allied convoy American fighters downed 94, for a loss of 6 planes and 5 pilots. The ratio there was almost 16 to one. It was the highest score in point of numbers, and in proportion to losses, secured by United States fliers anywhere. The quite certain inference is that strong air reinforcements have reached that area of late. There is no question which side has superiority of machines and men. And there is room to suspect that Japan's first rank pilots are getting scarce, compelling the use of less well trained men.

General Eaker said in London the other day that the U.S. air force in the European theatre will not reach parity in numbers with the R.A.F. for some months. It is no secret that the force on the other side of the world is still of defensive, rather than offensive, proportions. The Nazis and the Japs will have much satisfaction, as they digest the defeats of the week, in reflecting that these air opponents are certain to multiply as the months go by.

A thousand men are expected to go east from Saskatchewan to help harvest the crops in Ontario, and perhaps other eastern provinces. The old time harvester excursion has thus gone into reverse under the influence of war conditions. As the eastern crops ripen early the harvesters can return in time to help in the western fields. The movement should not therefore seriously deplete the scant labor supply in sight for harvest time in the west.

It is disclosed that a Canadian ship which was lying at Singapore loaded with rubber when the Japanese captured the place made its escape and landed its valuable cargo at a home port. Shell holes in the vessel proved how narrow the escape had been. That of course is what Canadian seamen might be expected to try to do. That the exploit was successful shows there was navigational skill on the bridge, as well as courage on the part of the crew. Enemy warships and scout planes were thick in the Singapore area, and it must have taken some adroit dodging to get clear of them.

Looking Backward

From The Bulletin Files

1893: 50 Years Ago

Rev. Mr. Hanna, late of Medicine Hat, will succeed Rev. C. A. Procunier in charge of the Methodist church at Edmonton.

The Canada Gazette contains notice that after Jan. 1, 1893, the game laws of the Northwest shall apply to certain lands of Indians, which are mentioned. To those not mentioned the law will not apply. The bands in this vicinity which must abide by the game laws are Michel of St. Albert, Enoch of Stony Plain, Ermine Skin, Sampson Bobtail and Muddy Bull of Bears' Hill. The Riviere Qui Barre, Lac St. Anne, Lake Lake and Lac La Biche bands are exempt from the operation of the laws. All the Indians of the plains are placed under their operation.

Canada needs a policy that will keep our own men and our own money to develop our own resources.

The Imperial government, it is said, will declare the July convention of the Ulster Defence Association illegal.

Winnipeg Free Press: "The crop of last season was sold at extremely low prices. Wheat fetched from 45c to 50c a bushel, and barley and oats were cleaned out at fifteen and eighteen cents. It does not pay at these prices. There is little wonder that a storm arose over freight rates. It was felt that another experience like last year's would be disastrous." That is why the people come from the exclusive grain regions to Edmonton to go into mixed farming.

Different Now

Editor Bulletin: Remember when the collectivists, back in the last depression, were blaming the competitive system for all our woes?

Now, with plenty of fresh money about, cut-throat competition has disappeared but there has been no apology from those who used to say "you can't cure any fundamental ills by tinkering with the currency."

Canning

Editor Bulletin: I am not much of a hand to write letters, but would you permit me to give my opinion on those brainy ideas on canning without sugar? It may be very well to can that way if the fruit is tree-ripened enough, but when you have to add a cup of sugar to a quart of fruit before serving that's extravagance.

I only use half that amount when I can my fruit. There certainly aren't very many that have very much sugar left over from their weekly rations. I know I could never do it. So I'll just stick to my own method of canning and get twice as much out of it, and I hope every other housewife does the same.

Public Ownership League

Editor, Bulletin: On May 15, 22 and 28 I had three letters in The Bulletin, pointing out that Edmonton had a net profit in 1942 of $1,190,338, also of what public ownership could do in building 1,000 houses for the city by utilizing the city's vacant lots and securing a timber berth from the province where the price at the stump for 1,000 feet of spruce lumber is $3 per pulp, 1,000 feet 75 cents, and a civic owned bank where the people can secure their money at cost of production.

The problem for the people to consider is how to get results and get the system of public ownership extended to include other industries especially our natural resources where Edmonton is so wonderfully favored, such as coal, oil, timber, and the best agricultural land the sun shines on.

It is the duty of every patriot to see that the privileged few do not get control of Alberta's immense wealth in her natural resources and Edmonton's industrial wealth giving the big interests the power to exploit the masses.

This is where a public ownership league could be used to protect the people's interest.

The reason I am anxious to secure a public ownership league is to use the league to see that every citizen shall have the full benefit of what they are entitled to as a citizen of Edmonton and Canada. It is important that the league be independent and non-partisan because the leaders of the different parties are too centred on their own political parties and by the league being independent will give the league more influence to get results.

Democracy's Failure

Editor, Bulletin: There are many queer things done this side of the Atlantic in the name of democracy. The actions of John L. Lewis and his apeoplike followers give great joy and encouragement to the enemy, yet nothing can be done about it—under our democracy.

This leader of one of America's portion of workers is mainly responsible for a situation that creates much bitterness and dissension, besides blocking the war effort of millions. Many brave lives will be lost because of the stoppage of vital war supplies. Lewis sows the wind of discord, but it is the thousands of widows and orphans who reap the whirlwind of sorrow.

It is unfortunate that the tremendous loss of coal caused by several days' idleness of nearly 500,000 miners, should occur in this time of crisis. We here in Canada can not do anything about it, especially as our own strike record is a bit heavy, but we still have the right to express our opinions.

The men who are fighting to protect true democracy must wonder what makes Lewis and his cohorts defy the government so blatantly.

Farm Debt

Editor Bulletin: We are hearing a lot of propaganda these days emanating from the well organized and well financed debt collecting agencies, with regard to debt protective legislation for hard pressed Western farmers.

All these pamphlets, addresses, radio talks, lobbying etc., are carried on with the object of influencing the Federal Government with regard to the proposed Federal Debt legislation, which is supposed to give the farmer much needed protection, such as was to a limited degree in operation under Provincial legislation, and are asking to be beyond the constitutional powers of the Provincial legislature.

We are told by those interests that farmers are prosperous; that they don't need debt legislation. We were also told by one prominent financier on a visit to the West, that unless we in Alberta got ourselves better educated we couldn't get any more money in Alberta after the war.

To that gentleman we would say that if this war has taught us anything, it has taught us the way to meet threats of that nature.

Now, why is the farmer in debt in the first place? In this capitalistic economic system the farmer has to sell his product very largely on the basis of individual sales as against an organized purchaser and at the latter's price. Again, the farmer has to buy his requirements on the same basis. Furthermore, in peace time the farmer must sell his products on world wide price levels. He purchases his requirements including the money of our financial friends, in a highly protected market and at this inflated price, in which a profit is always included. Farmers of Canada have supplied the people of Canada with foodstuffs in most years at prices far below cost of production, a debt as yet unpaid, which I would refer to the attention of the aforesaid creditor interests. These are only a few of the economic reasons for the immense pyramid of farm debt in Western Canada.

In addition, there are all the losses due to weather and insect pests, etc.

Now the operation of the Farmers' Creditors' Arrangement Act, while beneficial, has only barely touched the fringe of the farm debt problem of Western Canada. Only a very small proportion of Western Canadian farmers have come under the provisions of the Act. There are two reasons for this: The first reason is that farmers seeing to what a limited extent reductions were made in the indebtedness of other farmers coming under the Act were somewhat loath to come under it, and the second reason being that changing economic conditions such as prices, etc., made provisions made and applied in one year, absolutely impossible of fulfilment a year or two later.

To the organized creditor interests of Canada in their present campaign, which if successful will result in thousands of hard working farmers losing their homes and farms, I would say: Consider the words of that great Irish co-operator, Sir Horace Plunkett, when he said: "Destroy your cities and in a year they will be rebuilt. Destroy your agriculture and grass will grow in the streets of your cities in a year."

JACK SUTHERLAND,
Vice-President United Farmers of Alberta.

Technical School

Editor, The Bulletin: I would like very much to know why, when so many boys and girls are called to destructive war machines, which I know we need, why a few thousands can't be spent just as easily for a technical school for the armed forces?

Why, of all things and at all times do they, who are responsible have to destroy the young boys and girls who, we are told so many times the future of the world depends upon, and who will soon be men and women to shoulders will rest the building up of a new world.

Maybe if some of the radio programs and the unnecessary travel that seems to go with it, telling us ways to economize in our homes, more suitable training for housewife has been doing for years, were to be curtailed along with a good many newly created positions brought on with the war, and that money used for some real institutes for the armed forces it would benefit everyone.

Last, but not least, I'm very sure if Ottawa would make a real effort to cut down expenses, as many of them being so unnecessary, an ample sum of money could be turned over for some much needed technical institutes for the armed forces, without having to rob the young people of a very practical and necessary part of their education.

Radicalism Means Thoroughness

Churchill and Baruch Are Both Called Radical Men

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

Now that Bernard Baruch has agreed to become assistant to James F. Byrnes of the office of war mobilization, we can hope for radical action.

What this country has needed for a long time are radicals in positions of responsibility. I am using the word "radical" in its exact meaning — of one who goes to the roots of things. The word has fallen into misuse. All who wanted to take radical action have been considered as "subversive elements."

Dorothy Thompson

But neither surgeons, nor good gardeners are subversive elements: though, if they are any good they are radical. I tried to teach radicalism to a 13-year-old boy this morning, in connection with the transplantation of a bed for seedlings. I told him that unless he spaded the ground deep, cultivated it twice, raking out all stones and clods of weeds, finally raking it repeatedly until the soil was pulverized, he would spend the rest of the summer trying to get out the witch-grass without injuring the plants; whereas, if he did it properly his work would be largely finished, once and for all.

But the boy was a liberal. He wanted to get everything on the surface; rake the fresh and pulverized soil over the clods and appoint a new committee when the weeds came up again. Any other procedure he regarded as exaggeration. Maybe he thought the weeds also had a right to live.

In the matter of that seedlingbed, I was following the advice of two great radicals—Winston Churchill and Bernard Baruch. Nobody thinks of them as such, because they lean toward conservatism in politics. Radicalism is not incompatible with a passion for preserving society, which both of them share. They have no desire to trade up both the weeds and the seedlings.

Courage

The essence of the radical intellect is to see what is necessary to achieve a certain end, and have the courage to do it, regardless of whether it is pleasant or conventional.

Winston Churchill knew, in 1934, that if you allowed the Germans to rearm there would be war. He was for every reasonable concession to the Germans—long before Hitler—except one: rearmament. He said so, day in and day out, so in England they said he was a man with a "single-track mind."

Churchill thought politically. Baruch thought economically. He thought: The Germans and Japs are going to make war. But in order to make war you have to have a war economy. They can be prevented from making a war economy, and can therefore be prevented from making war.

So back in 1936, Mr. Baruch first outlined a plan to prevent the war. It was radical and simple. It was to see that the United States should enter the field and systematically buy away from the world market, and at any price necessary to overbid the Germans, those essential raw materials which the Germans did not have and without which the manufacture of arms is impossible—such things as magnesium, chrome, industrial diamonds, etc.

People said it would be too expensive. He remarked dryly that it would be a bagatelle compared to a war. Now he has the office of strategic services is doing exactly that thing, as a mere detail of an enormous war program.

When war come, Baruch had a plan for avoiding inflation. It was not a pleasant plan, for it hit many vested interests, political and economic, from the top to the bottom. Its only merit was that it would work.

So instead of having a plan, we have the plansiness of the planners, who are mostly liberals, and don't want to hurt anyone except maybe a few of the rich. Thus has the liberal spirit degenerated.

It is not too late to bring order out of chaos. But whether Messrs. Byrnes and Baruch can do it depends upon the amount of authority they have. They will also fail if they have to make every concession called for by the intimate advisers of the White House, who have a finger in every pie.

Vigor

It is strange that men like Churchill and Baruch, who can no longer be called even middle-aged, have an intellectual vigor rarely found in younger men. In the original sense of the word they are more "radical." Usually radicalism is associated with youth. But what the world needs is the radicalism that makes a war economy, and the knowledge and experience, and is yet animated by a youthful spirit.

Most old men get calcified brains and hearts, and are afflicted with calcified interests. Youth, on the other hand, has an emotional bias toward ever-new proposals, without the experience to know what causes produce what consequences. Where you have a combination of experience, disinterestedness, and unimpaired intellect, you have a man who finishes a job, and leaves a strong world ship-shape for the generation to follow.

Such men can say, with that personal disinterestedness expressed by Mr. Churchill in his great speech on post-war England, "I have no political future." Such men can afford to be radical and brave.

Total War Nauseous to British

Hesitate to Go All Out In Bombing of Enemy Cities

By RAYMOND CLAPPER

LONDON—It is amazing that after all England has suffered, the constant visible reminders of destructions from the German air attack, there could be any question here about giving Germany and Italy the knocks from the air. This incredible controversy reaches a peak in a time when England is noting the third anniversary of her battle for her life after Dunkirk.

Raymond Clapper

The question was up in commons a few days ago when Harold Stokes called attention to what he said was an ever-growing volume of opinion in England which considered the indiscriminate bombing of civilian centres both morally wrong and strategically crazy. Over the week-end this was followed up by the Bishop of Litchfield, Dr. E. S. Woods, who is one of the best known clergymen in England. In an address to his diocesan conference he declared that to bomb Rome would be a crime against civilization and a betrayal of the very things for which England is fighting. He added that any military advantage we might gain would be more than offset by the moral damage to the Allied cause in the eyes of the world.

Such debate among England's shattered monuments to the Nazi terror from the air seems fantastic except for the fact that England continues to have free speech—the Hyde Park soapboxers still harangue crowds Sunday—and that Britain prides herself on her traditional sportsmanship, never hitting anybody when he is down. In fact, one newspaper carries a long article explaining that the enemy is trying to capitalize on that British trait to prolong the war. The British public is urged to remember that the bombing of Germany will shorten the war and thus save lives.

Just before I left Sweden the Nazis issued a long official list of Allied damage to ancient German churches, German libraries, art museums and other cultural monuments, evidently playing on this sentimental streak in the Allies.

But the British public, as well as the American, need only remember what Hitler did to Warsaw, Rotterdam, Coventry and Plymouth, as well as London, after announcing that the Luftwaffe would erase Britain's cities. Neither was Mussolini showing any chicken heart about the brutal methods of war, when he did less damage than the Nazis it was only because he was not strong enough to do more.

Now Hitler's newspapers are referring to the Allied airmen as air gangsters, or "luftgangsters," as the Nazi headlines spell it. Gobbels is saying the German people to put up with the Allied air terror with clenched teeth for the time being until the Reich can retaliate.

I cannot imagine that the British or the American government will listen to any sentimental appeals to go easy on Germany or Italy in the air war. Yet Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express thought it advisable to run a hard-hitting editorial declaring that there is nothing to be said to say that mercy must temper justice, that vengeance belongs only to God, that the destruction of dams and the release of floods is not clean warfare, that we must not sink to the methods of the Germans. The Express warns that as the doom of Germany becomes more certain such voices may grow louder and they will have a sinister inspiration.

The government shows no disposition to yield to any pleas to go easy. The American air effort is increasing in intensity as the forces are following the prescription of round-the-clock bombing. This, plus ground and naval action, will be intensified with the total destruction of Axis power is accompanied.

I have never heard any arguments against the all-out blitz from the Axis people when they had the initiative. The fact that there could be no reflection on the Allied side is undoubtedly a credit to Anglo-Saxon instincts, but it would be a reflection on Allied intelligence if it were allowed to defer the delivery of every possible ounce of force on the breeding ground of this war.

C.W.A.C.

Editor, Bulletin: I had the honor and pleasure of attending the conference of Civilian Recruiting Advisors for the Canadian Women's Army Corps, which was held in Calgary, June 10 and 11, 1943.

Could the civilian population have had the opportunity of seeing the army life of our girls as I saw it, it would have been a real eye opener to many. I found the officers of the C.W.A.C. to be the highest type of young womanhood one could ever wish to behold: cleancut, full of health, well-groomed girls. The same thing may be said of a private. I saw 400 girls proudly wearing the uniform of the C.W.A.C. I talked with them personally. They told me that certain duties had been acquired by civilian life were left behind when they entered the service. They said that the discipline also received in the army was such that it fostered in them the desire to be a much better person—to be a person worthy of wearing the uniform of Their Majesties' Service.

I visited Currie Barracks. I saw C.W.A.C. girls preparing food; girls who were the picture of health, with bright eyes, their faces spotlessly clean, and all doing their work cheerfully and efficiently.

I visited the girls' sleeping quarters. Clean, bright barracks, partitioned off into cubicles with four girls to a cubicle.

I am proud to be a Civilian Recruiting Advisor for the C.W.A.C. The opinions I have expressed are also the opinions of the ninety or more Civilian Recruiting Advisors who attended this conference. After meeting these girls, practically living with them for two days, we stand ready to stamp out any disparaging rumors we may hear about them. In such a large organization there are bound to be a few who will not measure up to standard—but these are very much in the minority. And for the sake of the thousands of splendid girls in our Canadian Women's Army Corps I firmly believe it is not only the patriotic thing, but the only decent thing, for every man and woman in the Dominion of Canada absolutely to eliminate unjust rumors and laud to the skies our girls who have heeded the call of our country and who wear the uniform of Their Majesties' Service.

MILDRED VINING.

Appreciation

Editor, Bulletin: I desire to express my appreciation of Mr. Harold L. Weir's fearless article on Farm Debt Adjustment. We know it takes a deal of courage to take the stand which he has, because there is no doubt that powerful financial interests are working strenuously against any effective debt adjustment for farmers.

His keen dissection of the workings of the Act and his showing how justice must be written into the law before it can be administered, is masterly.

This is a matter which should be of interest to every Canadian citizen because if the pressure which the mortgage companies are now exerting at Ottawa should have the effect of nullifying the efforts of those who worked for an act passed which has equitable debt adjustment written into it, the results will prove disastrous to farm production, the necessity for which is now beginning to be felt to carry on the war effort.

Net Earnings At Royal Alex Higher in May

With the net earnings of the Royal Alexandra hospital during the month of May at $48,719 there was an increase of about $1,000 over the figures for April it was revealed in the financial statement submitted at the regular monthly meeting of the board held Friday evening. Chairman George Campbell presided.

Cost of operation of the hospital was $32,512 or $362 more than in April. Total operational cost for the five months of 1943 is $254,500 or almost $12,000 more than last year. It is $3,500 less than the estimate. While all other departments have been maintained within the estimates medical and surgical supplies to date have over-run the estimates by $700 and departmental expenses $200, the report showed.

RECEIPTS LOWER

Cash statement for May showed a fall in net patients receipts of over $1,300 to $43,966, leaving a cash deficit for the month of $1,962. As at June 1 the net cash deficit for the first five months of this year stood at $283.16, an improvement over the 1942 figures which were $18,686.84.

In the report on the school of nursing and nursing service, Miss M. S. Fraser, superintendent of nurses stated there is a large number of promising applicants for the school of nursing and that it was planned to accept an unusually large class for September.

In the report of the purchasing department it was stated that 75,681 meals had been served during May at a cost of $0.289.24 or 12.25 cents per head per meal. To date 30,000 more meals have been served than a year ago at a total increased cost of only $7 and the cost per head per meal was 11.39 this year as against 11.74 last year. There was, however, evidence of rising costs during May compared with previous months and the month's expenditure for food exceeded the monthly appropriation by $800.

EXCEED APPROPRIATION

The issues for the month by the stores department were $3,126 or $122 above appropriation. To date the issues are $700 higher than last year and $240 higher than the estimate.

In the pharmacy the expenditures on drugs and surgical supplies exceed the appropriation by about $200 in each case. Total expenditures to date were $25,618 or $1,300 more than in 1942 and $1,200 above the estimate.

In his statistical report Dr. A. F. Anderson, superintendent, stated that there were 11,878 patient days during May. There were 24 deaths in the medical ward with an average age of 82 years. Of these 12 were due to heart disease, three to cancer and three to spinal meningitis.

There were 143 confinements and 146 births of which 93 were male and 63 female. Infant mortality was five during the month, Dr. Anderson stated.

In the isolation hospital there were 15,281 patient days. Highest among the contagious diseases was that of scarlet fever of which there were 64 cases.

CROSS INFECTIONS

Dr. Anderson stated that it was difficult to rule out what is known as cross infections—when a patient is admitted with one disease and later contracts another. Often, he explained, the period of incubation has commenced after the patient has developed one disease but does not break out with the second until after admission to the hospital. He cited a case of one patient who was admitted to the hospital with scarlet fever but five days later developed mumps and by that time would probably have transmitted the second disease to the other scarlet fever patients with whom he was confined.

It was decided that there would be no meetings of committees or board during July and that the board only should meet in August. During September there will be only a board meeting. First meeting will be held Friday, August 20 and the second Friday, September 24.

Woman Undergoes Grim Experience

HANSEN, Idaho, June 19—(AP)— Mrs. Eugene Brown had a harrowing experience. She was riding a horse hitched to a harrow. The animal bolted when a bee stung it, unseating Mrs. Brown. Her foot caught in the stirrup and she was dragged several yards. When one tine came loose from the stirrup she fell to the ground and the harrow passed over her. She escaped with bruises.

Major And Minor Notes

By John Oliver

SUGGESTION at the last city council meeting, that exploration be made regarding the possibilities of holding band concerts in Hyde Park on Sundays during the summer months, is one which it is hoped will be pursued by the city. Further, it is hoped that the conclusions reached will result in establishing such a series of entertainments. Band concerts in city parks are not unheard of here. As long as there have been parks and bands, there have been band concerts. Most particularly in the years immediately succeeding the Great War of 1914-1918 were there excellent concerts during the summer months, in Riverside, now Queen Elizabeth, and Borden parks. Then, as now, the Edmonton Regiment band was at a high peak of efficiency. The 49th Battalion recently had returned from overseas and its band, which had been one of the best in the Canadian Corps, was riding high in musicianship and artistic performance.

The Great War Veterans Association, the forerunner of the Canadian Legion of today through its local branch formed a band, which, dressed in uniforms resembling the Mounties, toured Western Canada with great success. Then there were the Newsboys Band which in its period of greatest achievement, went to the world's fair at Shepley, England and the Citizens' Band. All these groups were heard in the city parks. In successive years, and up until the outbreak of this war, the bands, dwindling in number and in size, continued to be heard. Since the ban on band concerts, of necessity, have been few and far between. Civilian bands are practically non-existant, due to enlistments and the depletion of numbers through employment in industry.

Now the available bands belong to the armed services. The 2nd (Reserve) Battalion of the Edmonton Fusiliers and Edmonton Regiment, respectively have military bands. There are bands at No. 3 "N" Depot and No. 4 I.T.S., R.C A.F. The two R.C.A.F. units are on full time duty. The Reserve Army military bands will be "on parade" once or twice a week. The Salvation Army band may be added to the list, but all appearances for the most part, are confined to playing for the sponsoring organization. The Schoolboys' band, also is worthy of mention.

Should the city council be successful in arranging summer concerts, it is likely that the two R.C. A.F. bands would provide most of the music and upon their availability will depend the extent to which the concerts will be heard in city parks this summer. The two Reserve Army military bands will be unavailable for a good part of the summer, owing to absence of the regiments at annual training at Sarcee Camp. The Schoolboys' band will disperse for the summer as will the Air Cadets band.

The commanding officers at both R.C.A.F. centres here have shown willingness to allow their bands to appear on auspicious and worthy occasions. While there are obvious difficulties in the way of such groups belonging to the armed services, appearing regularly in public concerts, there are arrangements that can be made, subject to exigencies of military service.

In Great Britain the outdoor concerts in Hyde Park, Green Park and other favorite spots in London, by bands of the Brigade of Guards, the Coldstream, Grenadiers, Scots, Irish and Welsh Guards, are heard by thousands every week. At Folkestone, Portsmouth and other points, the bands of the Royal Marines are heard and elsewhere famous bands play to millions of enthusiastic listeners in the beautiful parks plentifully sprinkled throughout the Old Country. Such concerts are events of considerable importance.

In this country, and the United States famous bands have won fame by their parks' concerts. The great Victor Herbert once was bandmaster of the Seventh Regiment in New York, in which post he followed Patrick Gilmore. Sousa gained great fame as bandmaster of the Marines' band before he formed his own organization. In The Mall, in Central Park, New York, Edwin Franko Goldman and his band delight millions every year. In Ottawa the band of the Governor General's Foot Guards; the Canadian Grenadiers in Montreal, the Queen's Own Rifles in Toronto and other bands make life more pleasant for visitors to parks during the summer.

Military bands have made great progress. Their performances today have reached heights that would have seemed unbelievable 50 years ago. No longer is the program of a band concert limited to marches, waltzes, polkas and gavottes, all excellent musical works, but not demanding, as a rule, any great individual or collective executive brilliance. Now, many great compositions are written by works specially for the band, and first class transcriptions are available of standard and classical orchestral masterpieces.

An indication of the status of contemporary band programs may be gained by scanning the agenda of the Goldman Band for the current season in New York. Many compositions will be given "first" performances. These will include Arnold Schoenberg's first composition for band and Dmitri Shostakovitch's "Jubilee March". Among the original works for band to be given are Deems Taylor's "Suite Marziale," and "Folksong Suite," and Tchaikovsky's "Marche Slave." New transcriptions for band to be performed are Bach's "Arioso," the love music from Mussorgsky's "Boris Godounoff," Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue," Gliere's "Dance of the Boys," Beethoven's "King Stephan" and "Prometheus" overtures, and Holst's "Jupiter" from "The Planets." Arrangements made specially for band of music by Kern and Gershwin will be played.

Among the composers whose original works were introduced last season and will be repeated this year are Aaron Copland, Morton Gould, Howard Hanson, Vincent Persichetti, Paul Creston, Domenico Savino, William Schuman, Pedro Sanjuan, Henry Cowell, Philip James, Percy Grainger, Leroy Sowerby and others. In addition standard works that have been in the repertoire for years will be played. All of which shows that the military band is a musical organization holding a place of great esteem in the musical world.

Exigencies of war have caused cancellation of the fifth biennial convention of the Canadian Federation of Music Teachers' Associations, which was to have been held at Banff. Information to this effect has been received by Mrs. T. Wilslow Hamilton, president of the Women's Musical Club, and third vice-president of the Federation from Lyell Gustin, the president. In lieu of the convention, an executive meeting will be held in Saskatoon early in July. It was reported that the programs of works by Canadian composers being given in the larger cities are faring enthusiastically received.

The third annual concert by All Saints Cathedral junior chorus will be given at the parish hall at 8:30 p.m. Monday. Soloists will include Bernard Pepper, Ruth Gillis, Lawrence Kay, Marguerite Ferguson, David Fairley and Catherine Allen. Fleming is the accompanist. This chorus won unstinted praise at the Edmonton district musical festival from Arthur Benjamin, the adjudicator and the Monday program is expected to show the chorus at its best.

They Walk in; March Out; That's Story of Soldiers' Life at Camrose Centre

By PTE. TOM FOLEY
Written for Army Public Relations and The Edmonton Bulletin

They walk in and they march out. That's a seven word story of a soldier's life at the Army Basic Training Centre at Camrose. It's a story spaced over a period of roughly 60 days—two months of hustle and bustle to men, who for the better part, are getting their first taste of army life.

Camrose is the No. 131 Canadian Army Basic Training Centre. It marks the first step in the life of a soldier. And Camrose stands as one of the finest of all Canada's Basic Training Centres. Camrose soldiers have received acclaim from many an advanced centre for the amazing knowledge of the army they have acquired after only two months of training.

What is the secret behind the story that is Camrose? What is it in this camp set in the central part of the province on the edge of the town of Camrose that makes it one of the most highly efficient in all the land?

There probably are many reasons. The calculating method of training a soldier has been carefully built up over a period of well organized years. But there is little doubt that the backbone of Camrose lies in a staff of instructors, blending youth and experience that can't be bettered in their field in any camp in Canada.

GIVES INTRODUCTION

A basic training centre operates to acclimatize the new soldier to army life. He learns the rudiments of army drill. He learns the two most important requisites of his basic training—discipline and team work. He re-models his life into the way of the uniform. It is one of the most important phases of his whole life in the khaki—his success or failure in the service will greatly depend on what he does or doesn't' at Camrose.

They walk in. There is very little doubt about that. After only a short time at a clearing depot the new soldier finds nearly everything the army has issued piled on his back and he moves to the basic training centre. It may be one of many places. It may be Camrose.

So the soldier makes the trek from the train to the camp on foot —pack and all. Perhaps the proper term should be "they stagger in."

FIRST GLIMPSE

He sees Camrose for the first time. He is with a strange bunch of men. But the first thing that catches his notice is the fact that the army's "muddling along" policy which he's heard so much about isn't present. Instead everybody in the camp seems to know where he is and what he should be doing at every minute of the day. His N.C. O.s don't miss a trick. He learns that the day at Camrose begins at 6 a.m., and ends whenever he gets his equipment cleaned in the evening. He finds that he has nine periods a day on various army subjects; all new to him. He learns that he has to be able to change equipment in a flash—and be able to smoke while he's doing it—if he wants to smoke at all.

The new soldier meets men from all over the Dominion, but mostly from Alberta. He is in one of four companies and in a platoon of about forty men.

OLD PALS

"How are you pal? My name's Taylor. Andy Taylor. I'm from Strathmore although I was teaching high school at Gleichen before I joined up."

"My name's Mossman. Call me Dave—not "Red" even though my hair is red. I come from Glenwood, a little town out of Carstairs, way down south."

"Glenwood? Hey! I know where Glenwood is. I'm from Lethbridge. My name's Red Smeed."

And there's Andy Forsythe from Edson, and Keith Hunt from Nobleford, George Kneiss from Calgary, and Bill Murphy from Edmonton. Men from the north and the south, from city and farm, and they all put on a uniform and you can't tell one from the other.

He learns a lot about the army that he didn't know before. He finds out that a lance corporal who has only one stripe, knows the army inside out. He has to or he wouldn't be a lance corporal long. He hardly ever paid any attention to fellows with only one stripe before.

EASY AT FIRST

His training begins fairly easy. He learns how to march and salute and sits in on several lectures a day where he hears more and more of this strange new life. And he learns much from training films given in the drill hall or the modern projection room.

As time goes on the training gets harder and harder. Sports occupy a top spot. Physical training is stressed. He is introduced to an obstacle course a quarter of a mile long with man-made obstacles every few feet. He carries webbing ammunition pouches, and pack on his back along with a respirator wherever he goes. And he is issued with a rifle that is a constant companion at all times. His route marches are no longer four miles, they are six, then eight and finally 10. He learns the finer points of a Bren gun, how to use a bayonet, and so on.

KEPT IN SHAPE

And at Camrose, equipment must be in top shape at all times. All webbing is cleaned nightly with a cursed substance called blanco. Brass shines to perfection. This is all part of the discipline.

But it must not be all work and no play. Maj. C. A. Welbourn, a company commander, calls sports one of the finest morale builders in the armed forces today. With Lt. J. A. McMullen of Edmonton, in charge, every kind of sport is included in the soldier's training. There are free shows, and good ones, three times a week. Late passes are issued anywhere up to three times a week.

Heading the No. 131 C.A. (B) T.C. is a soldier of the last war, Lt.-Col. P. J. A. Fleming. Actually the camp opened in October of 1940 under Col. E. R. Knight, V.D. Lt.-Col. Louis Scott, D.C.M., succeeded him, and Lt.-Col. Fleming, on the staff of A. 18 C.I.T.C., Currie Barracks, as adjutant and company commander took over command at Camrose in June of 1942.

SERVED IN FRANCE

Lt.-Col. Fleming served with the Fifth King's Regiment during 1914-1918 in France. But it seems the young soldier had been a bit vague about his years—he was discharged as under age. He re-enlisted in the Royal Flying Corps in 1917 and served in France for more than a year. He was in the R.C.A.F. from 1921 to 1925. And from 1925 until the outbreak of war he resided in Edmonton and was a member of the First Battalion, Edmonton Regiment, for many years. He is now 44 years old.

"We are strict here at Camrose," he says, "but we are not unreasonable. We insist only that every man does his job—and if he does we will meet him half way."

CRACK STAFF

The crack staff of instructors find the lance corporals average in age about 23 years. The age of many a sergeant is shrouded in mystery but they average about 40 and many of them saw service in the last war. Sgt. G. F. Erskine of Dawson Creek, B.C., a member of the Royal Highlanders, the Black Watch, has 15 years' service behind him. He spent five years in the North West Territories and seven in India.

Sgt. J. R. Ashmore of Edmonton was also in the Imperial army with the Royal Scottish Fusiliers. He enlisted in 1907 and has been in India, Burma, Africa, Gibraltar and holds the 1914 star. These men have a story to tell to the new soldier.

YOUNGER FELLOWS

But making up Canada's new army many younger fellows take on instructor's tasks. It's not only the returned soldier's job. And what they lack in experience they make up in enthusiasm. Every time a draft of soldiers comes into Camrose, one or more may be chosen to remain as instructors.

Lt.-Cpl. W. Gustilov of Regina, at the age of 19 years has been in the army six months—for the last three in Camrose as an instructor. He is the youngest N.C.O. in the camp.

It's a strange two months to a raw rookie. But he learns about the army and he does it the easy way. He learns there's a right and a wrong and all the skill that the officers and N.C.O.s of Camrose can instil into him.

And when he leaves he doesn't stagger out. He doesn't even walk out. He marches out.

Glasgow Expresses Thanks for Help

The Women's Auxiliary of the St. Andrew's Society of Edmonton, through its secretary, Mrs. William Walker, 9338 108A avenue, has received the thanks of the citizens of Glasgow, Scotland, for children's garments sent overseas by members of the auxiliary.

Thanks for the garments comes from Kathleen W. Stewart, lady provost, and organizer of the City of Glasgow Central War Fund.

The letter of thanks received by Mrs. Walker reads as follows: "Dear Mrs. Walker: It was with very great pleasure indeed that I received the parcel of beautifully knitted children's garments which were sent by you to the City of Glasgow Central War Fund.

"I have arranged that these goods be distributed, not only to children who have lost their homes through blitzing, but to children whose fathers are in the forces, and who are experiencing great difficulty in getting the little extras so essential.

"Please convey my personal thanks, and the thanks of the citizens of Glasgow, to the women responsible for this most generous gift, and express to them our sincere appreciation of their efforts. Sincerely, Kathleen W. Stewart."

Mrs. Walker said three parcels have been sent to the Glasgow fund, all of them containing hand knitted children's garments, such as sweaters, socks, suits, and jackets. The garments were all made by members of the auxiliary to the St. Andrew's Society.

Quotas of Goods Up by 10 Per Cent.

Edmonton has won a victory in the fight to secure increased quotas of goods for this war congested centre, it has been announced by Reg. T. Rose, executive secretary of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce.

Wartime Prices and Trade Board has granted a general 10 per cent increase in allocation of goods to Edmonton and a 15 per cent increase for the Edmonton area.

Dawson Creek and Peace River have also been granted increased quotas.

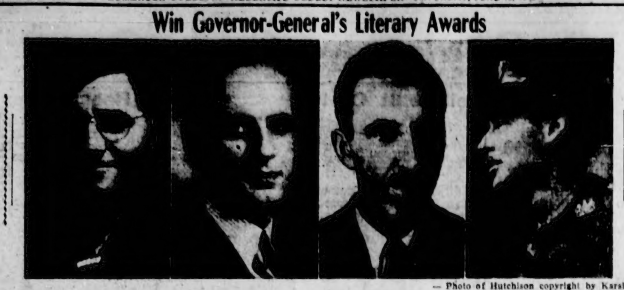

While expressing satisfaction over the increased allotments, Mr. Rose declared this city does not yet receive enough in the way of goods and supplies.

It was through a brief of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce presented to administrators of the Prices and Trade Board, that attention was first drawn to Edmonton's special needs.

Air Cadet Parades

Parades of the Edmonton squadrons of the Air Cadets of Canada at No. 4 I.T.S. drill hall will be held on Mondays and Wednesdays of next week at 7:30 p.m. The band will also parade at each parade.

Additional Church News To Speak Here

A former missionary to China and the Philippine Islands, the Rev. G. D. Strohm will be guest speaker at the 11:30 a.m. worship service at Beulah Tabernacle on Sunday. At 7:30 p.m. there will be an evangelistic service when Mr. Strohm will speak on "An Unforgettable experience in the Philippine Islands." A closing evangelistic message will be delivered by the Rev. J. D. Carlson, pastor of the Tabernacle.

The Rev. C. J. Hallman of Didsbury will be guest preacher on Sunday at Hope Mission when services will be held at 3 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. Sunday school will take place at 2 p.m. Superintendent H. Edwardson is superintendent.

June 20 is the third Sunday of the month and Grayson Dodd will conduct matins at 11 a.m. at St. Matthew's church, Riverdale. On Thursday, June 24, the Rt. Rev. W. F. Barfoot, Bishop of Edmonton, will officiate at a dedication service at which an altar cross, presented in memory of the late Mrs. Barnes of Riverdale, will be dedicated. The service will commence at 8 p.m.

Sunday is Trinity Sunday and at All Saints' Cathedral Holy Communion will commence services at 8:30 a.m. At 11 a.m. there will be matins and a sermon while at 3 p.m. members of the Canadian Corps association will parade to the church for a service. At 7:30 p.m. there will be evensong and a sermon. Anthem at that time will be "Hymn to the Trinity".

Guest speaker at the City Temple of Spiritualism on Sunday at 7:30 p.m. will be Mrs. Stoker. On Friday at 8 p.m. there will be an open circle.

"The Great Commission" will be the subject of the sermon to be delivered at the Sunday morning service at Central Lutheran church by the pastor, the Rev. Milton Johnson. Sunday school will take place at 10 a.m. Services for the day will be concluded with that starting at 8 p.m.

"I Saw Pearl Harbor Bombed!" will be the subject of a splendid address given by Miss Eileen Edwards of Toronto, during the Sunday evening service starting at 7:30 p.m. at the Pentecostal Tabernacle. She is here with the Peirce Evangelistic party. Miss Edwards was an eye-witness of the bombing of Pearl Harbor. Returning to India to resume her missionary work, on the morning of December 7 they sailed into Pearl Harbor during the bombing and were eye-witnesses to the inferno of bombs and fire, their own ship being the target for eight bombs from the enemy. On Wednesday evening at 8 p.m. Miss Edwards will tell some of her experiences in India. At each of these services, Miss Edwards will appear in her Indian costume. Rev. Willard Peirce of Kitchener, Ont., who is in charge of the evangelistic campaign being held in the Pentecostal Tabernacle, will speak at both services Sunday. At 11:30 a.m. his subject will be "Against the Storm." In connection with Miss Edward's address in the evening on the Bombing of Pearl Harbor, Evangelist Peirce will speak on "We Were Caught Napping." Mr. and Mrs. Sistig of Seattle, Wash., who are assisting in the campaign will present vocal and violin solos at each service.

Miss Eileen Edwards of Toronto, a member of the Peirce Evangelistic party at the Edmonton Pentecostal Tabernacle, who will tell of her experiences during the bombing of Pearl Harbor, Dec. 7, 1941, at the evening service Sunday. On Wednesday, Miss Edwards will tell of some of her experiences in India. At that time the meeting will take place at 8 p.m.

there will be a second communion service and the anthem will be "Ave Verum". Soloist will be Arnold Murray who will sing "Green Pastures." At St. Andrew's Presbyterian church the topic of the sermon to be delivered by the Rev. H. Douglas Stewart will be "O Jerusalem! Jerusalem!" In the evening he will preach on "The Bow in the Clouds." The minister, K. F. McKenzie will preach at Strathcona on the topic "The Door and the Shepherd." Mrs. Jean Dobbie will be soloist and will sing "He Shall Feed His Flock." At Westmount church the topic of the sermon to be delivered by the minister Andrew MacKenzie will be "When Prayer is Mockery." At Rupert Street, the minister the Rev. Wm. Simons will conduct morning worship.

Holy Communion will be celebrated at Metropolitan United church at 11 a.m. on Sunday with the minister, the Rev. R. McElroy Thompson in charge. In the evening commencing at 7:30 p.m. there will be a musical evening by the choir assisted by members of the Tait family and ensemble. The choir will be under the direction of Mrs. J. V. Dodds.

Guest preacher at Christ church Sunday morning at 11 a.m. will be the Rev. Professor F. D. Coggan, M.A., of Wycliffe College, Toronto. The service will be choral communion. Holy communion will take place at 8 a.m. At 7:30 p.m. there will be a confirmation service with the bishop of Edmonton, the Rt. Rev. W. F. Barfoot, conducting the service.

Don't throw away that old garment which you think can never be worn again. Place it with other old clothes you've been meaning to discard and call the Salvation Army at 26813 and the Van will call. Rags, magazines, newspapers, furniture and any other article that can be put to a useful purpose will be gratefully received.

The Rev. Dr. Murdoch MacKinnon, acting minister of Robertson United church will preach at both morning and evening services on Sunday. For the morning sermon he has chosen the topic "There Is a River" and for the evening "Some Things That Matter". Anthem in the morning will be "Thou, O God Governor". Soloist in the morning will be Mrs. S. G. Collier.

"The Living Church" will be the subject of the sermon to be delivered by the Rev. Daniel Young, minister at First Baptist church, on Sunday morning. Anthem at that time will be "I Will Sing of Thy Power". Topic of the Sunday evening service will be "Where Do You Live?" The anthem will be "Son of My Soul" sung by the Turner male quartet.

"In the Universe, including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon at all Christian Science churches on Sunday. The Golden Text is I Corinthians 8:6. One of the Scriptural citations is "All things were made by him; and without him was not any thing made that was made" (John 1:3). One of the correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, is "The great I AM made all that was made. Hence man and the spiritual universe coexist with God." (p. 267).

The Sacrament of the Lord's supper will be observed Sunday at 11 a.m. at First Presbyterian church. The anthem will be "Lord for Thy Tender Mercies' Sake." At 7:30 p.m.

City Lad, About 4, "Packs Up" . . And Starts Out to See World

"World Traveller at 21" is the way a recruiting sign reads. But that apparently was too long for a very young man to wait—just about 17 years too long. So, with his tiny suitcase in his hand, his eyes to the northwest and his feet pointing to the Alaska highway, he started out. He had reached some railroad tracks out in Edmonton's west end, when a couple spotted him, suitcase, heavy rubber boots and all.

At 4:30 p.m. Friday, shortly after being found, the little traveller was ushered into the city police station by the couple who gave their names as Mr. and Mrs. McDonald. Inside the suitcase was found—not clothes, but a couple of soda crackers. He ate heartily of policemen's lunches while waiting for his parents to come for him. But being unable to speak, he couldn't say who they were.

Jury Doubts Death Caused By Accident

There was no direct evidence to show that the death of Mike Miss was due to an accident on June 5, a coroner's jury declared Friday. The jury found that Miss died in the Royal Alexandra hospital June 12, death having been caused by a perforated ulcer.

The deceased was struck by a truck at 97 street and 103A avenue, and the evidence showed that no blame could be attached to Albert Clifford, the driver.

DOCTOR TESTIFIES

Dr. Walter Anderson told the jury that Miss had come to his office with head injuries. Later in hospital, he examined him. After being in the hospital for a few hours, the injured man became much sicker, and would become unconscious and conscious in turn. He had suffered one severe epileptic seizure during the week he was in hospital, when his arms and legs twitched. He complained mostly, said the witness, about his head. Death was caused by a perforated duodenal ulcer, he said.

Dr. Morton E. Hall stated he had conducted a post-mortem, at which time he found a fracture in the left posterior of the skull, injury to the cerebrum, a larger injury on the right side, absence of the left kidney and marked disease of the other. Death, he said, was caused by an ulcer and peritonitis. There was no means of telling when the ulcer became perforated.

Ralph Maxwell, street car operator, told the jury he saw the man run out from the east curb as he was travelling south on 97 street near 103A avenue. He pulled the key, he said, and put the car into reverse, in order to avoid hitting him.

Then he saw the truck coming north. It was not travelling more than five to eight miles an hour, when the accident occurred. Miss fell on the fender of the truck, and then to the pavement.

Albert Clifford said he saw Miss when only three feet from his fender, as the latter ran from the southeast to southwest corner. He did not speak to him, he said.

POLICE EVIDENCE

Constable A. Hamelin told the jury he had responded to a call and upon arriving at the scene of the accident found the injured man sitting on a chair in the doorway of a business place. When he asked the injured man if he was injured, the latter said his nose and back of head were hurt.

Paul Bodnar said he had been with Miss and that the other had told him he was going across the street to a restaurant. Miss stopped to let a street car pass, continued the witness, who said he was about two feet behind. He saw the truck coming at "20 miles and hour or maybe 40." The truck hit and threw Miss on top of it, dragging him 15 to 20 feet. The man had stopped for the street car when the truck hit him, said the witness.

Dr. E. A. Braithwaite, chief provincial coroner, thought the opinions of the pathologist and other witnesses could be relied on, rather than that of the last witness who proved himself excitable during the questioning.

The jury was composed of J. W. Parks, foreman; A. Whetstone, Francis LeGassick, A. J. Tidlow, David Kirk and David Duncan.

The Bulletin's SPORT SHOW by Hal Dean

SPORTS EDITOR

AFTER absorbing eight successive setbacks in the Girls' Fastball League, Bomberettes caught up with a 3-2 win against C.W.A.C. at Kingsway Park last night. Al Pelz started out as pitcher for Lt. George Regitko's club, U.S. Air Force, but Edna Jones went in with the bases full and nobody out in the fifth, retiring the side without damage.

Ray Carruthers not only pitched the U.S. Engineers to their second triumph in the men's league last night, but contributed a pair of hits as well, one along with a run coming in the big eighth when the three-run rally which meant the game was in the process of construction.

Ernie Colman, of the "M" Depot Red Devils allowed only six hits, but five errors behind him certainly could not be termed much of an asset. Ernie retired 14 via the strikeout route, but he issued 10 gratis ducats to first.

DODGERS VERSUS HORNETS

RALPH Morgan's Dodgers, very much in need of another win will have to go all-out against the Hornets in tomorrow afternoon's senior baseball fixture at Renfrew Park. To date the teams are on even footing.

Jack Quinn pitched the Dodgers to a 5-1 victory in their season's opener against the Aircraft Repair club on May 25, but in turn Tommy Brant lost in a 3-2 photo finish against Bud McLean, aided by Newt Picking on June 3.

It would not be surprising to see Brant go back against the Hornets tomorrow, for he hasn't worked since last Sunday when he opposed the U.S. Army. Morgan and Ed. Lindsay are also available for the Dodgers, while the Hornets have McLean and Picking, although the latter had to perform a four-inning relief turn against the Arrows on Tuesday.

Dodgers are expected to have Bill Connelly at short and Jim McDermott helping out behind the plate. Ab. Superstein is still out and so George Green will likely be in centre.

ARMY and Navy Pats, of the Senior Girls' league, may soon lose another player to the pro softball circuit in the United States. Kay Heim, who has few equals, if any, as a receiver in western fastball is reported to have received an attractive offer to make the jump as a member of the Kenosha, Wis., club. Helen Nichol, former star pitcher of the Pats is on the Kenosha team.

Pte. Ernie Patzer, now at Wetaskiwin Basic Training Centre, is one of the top net-minders in western hockey. Ernie is a former member of the Yorkton Terriers. He is on the soldiers' fastball team and as might be expected, attends to the receiving end of the battery. Strange, but goal-keepers usually turn out to be catchers when they switch to either baseball or fastball.

Bennie Klingspoon, who played with the Dodgers in the local senior baseball loop last season, is also at the Wetaskiwin Centre. He is third-baseman for the fastball team. Bennie has also seen considerable hockey service in Edmonton and two winters ago was with Wetaskiwin Colonels.

American Teams Register Upsets in Fastball Doubleheader

U.S. Engineers Edge Out "M" Depot 8-7

3-Run Rally In 8th Frame Beats Airmen

TWO American teams recorded upsets in the doubleheader at Kingsway Park Friday night when U.S. Engineers defeated No. 3 "M" Depot 8-7 in a Senior Men's Fastball League game in the second half and Air Force Bomberettes chalked up their first victory of the season in the Senior Girls' Fastball League by defeating C.W.A.C. 3-2 in the curtain raiser.

Ray Carruthers, although allowing 11 hits, pitched the Engineers to their second victory of the year and enabled them to move into fourth place in the men's loop.

Ernie Coleman for the Airmen, held the winners to six safeties and struck out 14.

George Kuhn, the first man to bat, received a walk, went to second on Bob Smith's single, third on a sacrifice that caught him out at second and home on an error to open the scoring and give No. 3 "M" Depot the lead.

A counter by George Wetzstein in the second gave the Airmen a 2-0 edge, but a four-run rally in which Bill Sawyer, Wes Benjamin, Anthony Lollo and George Culpepper all scored in the second half of the session put the U.S. club out in front for the first time. No. 3 "M" Depot regained the lead in the next frame, however, as Doug Darrah, Bill Stockdale and Norm Le Cree counted.

Culpepper came home in the fourth for the Engineers to tie the game up, but Wetzstein and Len Oaklenfold put the Depot men ahead 7-5 in the sixth.

After Lollo had flied out, Culpepper fanned and it looked like a win for the Airmen. Lou Russo received a base on balls and advanced to second as Lou Fitzgerald walked. A two-base hit by Carruthers brought in Russo and sent Fitzgerald to third and a single by Manny Morgan combined with an error scored Fitzgerald and Carruthers to end the game.

Air Force Bomberettes won their first Senior Girls' Fastball League game of the season last night when they beat C.W.A.C. 3-2 behind the pitching of Edna Jones and Al Pelz.

Jones relieved Pelz in the fifth inning with the bases loaded and none out and retired Nicky in a row to end the frame. She went on to win in the remainder of the contest with the help of her teammates who rallied in the sixth for three runs.

Doris Hall opened the counting with a run in the fourth and Helen Syryda added one in the same inning to give the C.W.A.C. club the lead, but Margaret Chapman, Betty Smith and Jones came home in the fifth to win the game for Bomberettes.

St. Louis Cards Beaten 6-1

Phillies Overcome 8-0 Lead In Defeating Dodgers 10-8

BROOKLYN, June 19.—(AP)—After being held to one hit for five innings, the Phillies lit the fuse in a big sixth inning yesterday, practically blew the Dodgers out of the park with a nine-run explosion, and went on to knock off the Bums 10-8.

This lifted the "phantastic Phils" into the National League's first division, since Pittsburgh lost. It also marked the fifth straight setback—the seventh in eight starts—for the desperate Dodgers, and left them with just a slim one-game hold on second place.

Lloyd Dietz, the brand new refugee from Pittsburgh and third Phil flinger of the afternoon, was the winner, holding the Brooklyns to four hits down the last four frames.

CUBS TRIM CARDS 6-1

ST. LOUIS, June 19.—(AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals looked anything but like the 1942 world champions Friday night, in losing to the Chicago Cubs in a frenzied seventh inning. The Cubs scored four runs without a hit, breaking a two-inning tie and scoring again in the ninth to win 6-1.

STARR SHUTS OUT BUCS 1-0

PITTSBURGH, June 19.—(AP)—Cincinnati Reds got the jump over Pittsburgh's Buccaneers Friday as they opened a four-game series with third place in the National League standings at stake by taking a 1-0 decision in 14 innings behind superb hurling by Ray Starr.

Starr, 37-year-old mound sensation, and Max Butcher staged the closest pitching duel of the season here. The contest was enlivened by seven double plays, four by the Pirates.

After permitting two hits in the fifth, Starr allowed but three more men to get on base, two by singles and one a pass. One of these was erased by a double play.

BRAVES OVERCOME GIANTS

BOSTON, June 19.—(AP)—The Braves tried to hand a ball game to New York Giants yesterday, but Chet Ross wouldn't let them.

After three Braves' errors had given the Giants a pair of tallies and a two-run lead in the eighth inning, Ross came along as a pinch-hitter with two down and two on board in the ninth and blasted one of Johnny Wittig's shots over the left field screen for a homer that gave Boston an 8-6 victory.

NEWARK, N.J., June 19.—(AP)—Buffalo Bisons, who have been moving up in the International League standings at a swift pace since leaving home, chalked up their eighth victory in nine starts by defeating Newark Bears last night 8-3.

Rufe Gentry, who hurled an 11-inning no-hitter against Newark early in the season, allowed only five safeties to garner his seventh victory.

Finals To Be Played Today in Tennis Tourney

DETROIT, June 19.—(AP)—Five showdown singles matches and surprise intervention by the United States Lawn Tennis Association Friday stripped the 3rd national clay-courts of all but seeded players—Pauline Betz of Los Angeles and Nacy Corbett of Chicago in the women's division and four men.

Top-ranking Miss Betz, who won the title in 1941 when it was last contested, breezed through a 6-1, 6-0 decision yesterday over Pearl Peterson of Detroit. Today Miss Betz meets second-seeded Miss Corbett, for the title.

Top-seeded Billy Talbert of Cincinnati, defending champion Seymour Greenberg and third-seeded Jimmy Evert of Chicago gained quarter-final victories to continue their title fights today. Meantime, Earl Cochell of Los Angeles got in without playing through the disqualification of 18-year-old Charles Hubbard of Long Beach, Calif.

On instructions from Charles S. Garland of Baltimore, chairman of the U.S.L.T.A. amateur rule committee, Hubbard was barred on the grounds that he still was under suspension for playing illegally in a tournament in April, 1942, at Santa Monica, Calif.

Rochester handed Jersey City its fifth straight defeat in a twilight game Friday night, the Red Wings winning 10-0 in the opener of a four-game series.

Majors Plan Benefit Program

War Relief Goal is $500,000

By SID FEDER

NEW YORK, June 19.—(AP)—Baseball wheeled out its big guns, for an all-out war relief barrage yesterday and "head gunner" Kenesaw Mountain Landis aimed them at $500,000 target for the diamond's three-day benefit program this summer.

Through National League President Ford Frick, baseball's high commissioner outlined plans for the game's first "united" relief card and announced that he hopes the eight games each on June 30 and July 28 and the all-star game in Philadelphia, July 13, will produce that amount.

All receipts in both leagues for those days will be dropped into the pot, from which the first $100,000 will go to the bat-and-ball fund and the rest to various relief agencies, to be announced later.

This year's set-up marks the first time baseball has plotted such an all-out united program.

This time, every big league game on June 30 and on July 28 will be turned over to the project. On the first card, in addition to the Giants and Cardinals, the Natio'al league program presents Cincinnati Reds at Brooklyn in an afternoon twilight twin bill, Chicago Cubs at Boston in another doubleheader and the Phillies entertaining Pittsburgh Pirates in a night tussle.

The American League has the Athletics at St. Louis, Boston at Detroit and New York Yankees at Cleveland in night games and Washington Senators at Chicago.

For the July 28 set-up, the American League will have the eastern spots — in Washington, Philadelphia, New York and Boston—while the senior circuit swatters will entertain at Chicago, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and St. Louis. Landis figures each day will produce $200,000 or so and the all-star game about another $100,000.

Madigan Named Coach of Iowa U.

IOWA CITY, Ia., June 19.—(AP)—Edward P. (Slip) Madigan, former football coach at California's St. Mary's college, Friday was named head coach at the University of Iowa to end for him a three-season separation from the sport.

Madigan, who coached the Gaels for 10 years and developed some of the United States' outstanding elevens, will take over the reins here for a six-month period beginning July 1, succeeding Dr. Eddie Anderson, now an army major.

The board in control of athletics at the university did not disclose what plans it had for a coach after next Jan. 1. Madigan's salary was not disclosed.

Canadian Derby Set for July 1

WINNIPEG, June 19.—(CP)—The third running of the Canadian Derby, a $5,000 stake, will be staged at Polo Park July 1 instead of July 5, it was announced yesterday by Winnipeg Jockey Club officials.

The change of date was required when Dominion government authorities switched the date of Dominion Day celebrations from July 5 back to July 1.

Forty-one eastern and western Canadian thoroughbreds have qualified for the event, the second richest stake in the Dominion.

Dates for the Winnipeg Futurity and the Polo Park Handicap have also been changed with the former now scheduled for July 3 and the latter July 5.

23 Horses Entered

Lord Astor's Entry, Way In Overnight Favorite for Derby

LONDON, June 19.—(CP Cable)—Lord Astor's Way In was the favorite on the eve of the Derby, premier event in Britain's racing season, to be held at Newmarket today. At Thursday's call-over here Way In remained top choice at 11-2 in a field of 23 horses.

Last-minute money made Merchant Navy second joint favorite with Kingsway at 7-1. The largest horse in the race, Merchant Navy stands 17 hands.

For the Oaks, fillies classic run on Friday, the favorite was Tropical Sun owned by Mrs. S. Macdonald-Buchanan at 8-4. Ribbon is second choice at 100-30. The winner was J. V. Rank's Why Hurry at 7-1, ridden by C. Elliott.

The Derby carries a purse of 2,000 sovereigns added to the winner, while the Oaks stake was 1,000 sovereigns added.

Here are the entries in the Derby giving owner, jockey and odds:

Way In, Lord Astor, C. Richards, 11-0; Merchant Navy, A. Hedley, W. Nevett, 7-1; Kingway, A. E. Saunders, S. Wragg, 7-1; High Chancellor, Lt. Col. Hornung, F. Furnival, 8-1; Umiddad, Aga Khan, C. Major's Start Games Earlier

NEW YORK, June 19.—(AP)—A new starting time, 2:30 p.m., E.D.T., instead of 3 for all regular single week-day games to be played at the three major league baseball parks in greater New York has been agreed upon by the heads of the Yankees, Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers. It will become effective next Tuesday.

Numerous night shift workers in various war plants in the greater New York area, New Jersey and Connecticut had written to the three local clubs asking the earlier start.

Of the thousands of parcels sent through the British Red Cross to British war prisoners in Germany and Italy, only one in 750 is lost.

Dodgers to Play Hornets Sunday

Dodgers and Aircraft Repair Hornets meet for the third time this season in tomorrow afternoon's senior baseball league game at Renfrew Park. Starting time is 3 o'clock.

These two teams have had an even break to date, Dodgers winning the first 5-1 and Hornets the second 3-2.

In 27-Team League

Stores Maintain Record Aircraft Fastball

Only team to maintain division leadership in Aircraft Repair's 27-team Interdepartmental Fastball League for the second week was the Stores club piloted by Jacques Moon, according to the summary issued today by the plant's recreation department.

Dope Gang from the Paint Shop took over Division "A" top spot from the Fabric Dept. Metal Shop, while "Forty Bs" night-shift Fabrics team moved into first slot in Division "B", replacing the Woodpeckers. Al Elhorn's "Typhoons" from the Assembly Floor are in sole possession of Division "D" leadership. Moon's "Stores" club heads Division "C".

First three divisions are made up of "mixed" teams and minimum of five girls must play for each team. Fourth division "D" is all men. League schedule is divided into two sections; first section of 79 games to be completed by July 4.

Games are played every day, noon and evening, for all shifts. Grounds used are Coronation Park and Victoria High school.

Following are the team standings:

Division "A": No. 1 Shift—

Dope Gang (Paint)	3	3	0
Stitches (Fabrics)	3	2	1

NEW YORK, June 19.—Will Chief specialist J. Gregory Rice of the U.S. Marines beat Gunder Haegg, Sweden's "phantom fireman", in their big international foot race at Triborough Stadium Sunday?

We like Rice in this 5,000-meter grind (three miles, 188 yards) because little Greg, the former Notre Dame star, has proved himself one of the great competitors in American athletic history.

Rice enters this feature event of the National A.A.U. track and field championships boasting a string of 65 straight victories. Until we see Haegg or some other runner beat him, we'll not believe it can be done, regardless of existing world record clockings.

ODDS AGAINST FOREIGNERS

THE percentage is against foreign track stars or fighters making a successful American debut in top flight competition, despite brilliant performances abroad. Initial failures were registered by such invading track performers as Hannes Kolehmainen, Joseph Guillemot, Hubert Houben, Nikklas Sazbo, Sydney Wooderson, Taisto Maki and the two Swedish runners, Edwin Wide and Erik Ny.

However, there were such notable exceptions as Paavo Nurmi, David Lord Burghley, Charley Hoff, Dr. Otto Peltzer, Luigie Beccali and J. E. Lovelock.

Haegg is one of the most widely publicized athletes to visit these shores and with good reason. He holds seven world records—from 1,500 meters to 5,000 meters. His time performances are amazing. But, speaking of stop watches, no one knows for certain just how fast Greg Rice can run, because we can't recall that he's ever been pressed.

HAEGG HOLDS RECORD

HAEGG has run the 5,000 meters in less than 14 minutes, a feat which Paavo Nurmi once declared impossible. Galloping Gunder has registered 13:58.2 against Rice's best 5,000-meter clip of 14:33.4. Rice has run the 5,000 five times, almost invariably in terrific heat. If Sunday is a hot day, we wonder if Haegg can maintain the pace that he set in cooler Sweden last year.

On running form, Haegg, too, seems to have the advantage. He is a slender, willowly blond who glides effortlessly over the track—a feather-footed chap who seems to have floating power. But stocky, barrel-chested Rice pounds the track as he runs, and his stride is a foot short of Gunder's seven-foot five-eater. Moreover, the flying Swede is 24 years old against Rice's 28.

Haegg is temperamental — a moody, impulsive chap. He has shown that during his training at Dartmouth—training that followed a long ocean voyage on a rolling tanker. We have seen many temperamental athletes fold up when the going got rough. There's nothing temperamental about America's "mighty mile". He'll run his heart out, if he has to. That's why we're stringing with Greg until we see him beaten.

Tex Hughson Hurls Red Sox To 3-1 Win Over Yankees

NEW YORK, June 19.—(AP)—Tex Hughson pinned the Yankees' ears back Friday for the seventh straight time in two years. He turned in a four-hitter, fanned nine and batted in a run as he led Boston Red Sox to a 3-1 victory over the American League champions.

During the proceedings, his most "friendly" foe turned out to be Joe Gordon, who had one of his worst days as a Yankee by committing two errors, both of which had something to do with the Red Sox run-making, and fanning three straight times, which boosted his total "whiffs" for the year to 38.

The victory was Hughson's seventh of the season against three setbacks. The only thing that kept him from a shutout yesterday was Johnny Lindell's 420-foot triple and a long fly that produced the Yanks' tally in the second.

Hank Borowy was the loser.

CANDINI WINS SIXTH

PHILADELPHIA, June 19.—(CP)—Milo Candini won his sixth game for Washington Senators last night against six defeats, but had to go 11 innings before gaining a 4-2 victory over the third place Athletics in a night game before 16,427 at Shibe Park.

The winning runs came in the 11th off relief pitcher Bill Fagan who had came in after Luman Harris retired in favor of Lum Thomas in the ninth.

Mickey Vernon singled to start the 11th. A balk put him on second from where Bob Johnson singled him home. Johnson stole second and raced home on Jake Early's single. Candini went out in order in their half.

BROWNS BEAT TIGERS 7-4

DETROIT, June 19.—(AP)—The up-and-coming St. Louis Browns hammered three pitchers for 14 hits good for 23 bases Friday night to take the night to take the opener of a four-game series with Detroit Tigers, 7-4.

Led by Vern Stephens, who gathered two homers and a double and drove in three runs, the Browns lashed away at Hal White, Roy Henshaw and Frank Shiellv in the ninth to gain their seventh victory in 10 games.

Great National Track and Field Meet Opens Today

NEW YORK, June 19.—(AP)—Track and field's greatest show in many a year will be staged here today and Sunday when the pick of American athletes plus Sweden's great Gunder Haegg come together in the National A.A.U. junior and senior championships.

The 21 junior events and three of the senior numbers—1,500 and 10,000-metre runs and 3,000-metre walk—will be decided today. The remaining 18 senior championships will go on the block Sunday with Haegg, world record holder at seven distances from 1,500 to 5,000 metres, making his American debut against ensign Joseph Grigory Rice, the United State's premier distance runner and unbeaten in his last 65 starts.

Haegg and Rice will contest the issue over 5,000 with the slim Swedish ace favorite to take the crown won by Greg the last five years. Since arriving in the United States two weeks ago, after 26 days on a tanker, Haegg has been training at Dartmouth and is said to be in fine shape. Rice, stationed at the Merchant Marine Academy, Kings Point, L.I., has not run in competition since the Penn relays in April.

Fight Postponed

CHICAGO, June 19.—(AP)—The scheduled 10-round bout between Lou Nova, Van Nuys, Calif., heavyweight, and Lee Savold, Paterson, N.J., at Wrigley Field, June 28, was postponed last night. Savold, pleading illness, demanded more time in which to train. A new date will be set within 24 hours.

SUNDAY SERVICES

Church News

Fiftieth anniversary services will be held Sunday, which is Trinity Sunday, at Holy Trinity church at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Present rector of Holy Trinity is the Rev. W. M. Nainby, B.A., L.Th.

The church was first established in 1893 when services were held in the station of the C.P.R., situated in what was then Strathcona. Later the services were held in a one-roomed school house on the corner of Whyte avenue and 106 street.

It was in fall of that year that the first church building was erected and its first pastor was the Rt. Rev. Henry Allen Gray who was later to become the first Anglican bishop of Edmonton.

The church grew in membership and it was decided to build a new and more suitable building and in 1906 the foundations were laid and a basement was built. This was roofed over and served as a church for seven years when the present structure was built. At that time the Rev. Canon C. Carruthers was rector.

The year 1923 marked another special event for the church for it was then that a memorial organ was installed.

Guest preacher at the services to be held Sunday will be Canon, now Major Carruthers, who is now in Winnipeg. Also present at the services will be the Rt. Rev. W. F. Barfoot, bishop of Edmonton.

Holy communion will commence services at 8:30 a.m. and this will be followed by morning prayer. The anthem at that time will be "King All Glorious" and the choir will also sing Handel's Hallelujah Chorus.

Evensong will take place at 7:30 p.m. when Major Carruthers will again preach. Anthem at that time will be "Glorious Is Thy Name" and the choir will repeat the Hallelujah Chorus.

Organist and choirmaster of the church under whose direction the choir will sing is Herbert Wild.

The sacrament of the Lord's supper and reception of new members of the church will take Sunday at 11 a.m. at Knox United church. The minister, the Rev. Elgin G. Turnbull will be in charge of the service. A ladies' chorus will sing "Alas and Did My Saviour Bleed." At 7:30 p.m. there will ze a Communion Sunday choral service. Violin solos will be presented by Miss Patricia Norris while vocal soloists will be Thelma Rice, Mrs. J. W. McAllister, Lennox Buchanan and Jack Williams.

All kinds of gospel literature is also eagerly accepted. It has been my privilege to make friendly contacts with soldiers of the American Army, especially of the Air Force, in Britain. I have found the booklet "For Distinguished Service," published by the Moody Bible Institute, most useful for that purpose.

As American soldiers were leaving Westminster Abbey at the close of their special Thanksgiving Day service, conducted by Chaplain J. L. Blakeney, an evangelist of the Open-Air Mission distributed at the door a gospel booklet, the "Soldier's Daily Remembrancer." A number of U.S. officers gathered round and examined the booklet, which evidently met with their wholehearted approval. Some of them expressed their gratitude that its message was being passed on to their men, and wished the evangelist Godspeed. The booklets were eagerly received, and one man gave his testimony to God's saving grace, to a crowd of his comrades, who listened quietly, and in some cases with real concern.

I am more than ever convinced that "a great door and effectual" has been opened by the Lord among the millions of enlisted men of all the United Nations. Let us pray that the Lord's servants may use the opportunity to the full.

"The Ministry of Trial" will be subject of the sermon to be delivered by the pastor, the Rev. G. R. Dawe at Norwood Baptist church Sunday at 11 a.m. In the evening Mr. Dawe will continue the series "Joseph's Portrayal of Christ".

"Spiritual Insanity" will be the topic of the sermon to be delivered by the Rev. A. D. Cornell at the 11 a.m. service on Sunday at the Edmonton Fundamental Baptist Church in the Masonic Temple. At 9:45 a.m. there will be Sunday school and Adult Bible class. At the Edmonton Prophetic Forum two messages will be delivered at 3 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. by Cyril Hutchinson, principal of the Calgary Prophetic Bible Institute.

President of the Canadian Protestant League headquarters, Dr. T. T. Shields will be guest speaker at a protestant rally to be held Sunday, June 27 at 3 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. in the Capitol theatre. As last year when Dr. Shields spoke hundreds were unable to get in and hear him, complimentary tickets are being issued free this year. They may be had on application to the local secretary, the Rev. G. R. Dawe, 9240 110A avenue.

At Anniversary Services

MAJ. C. CARRUTHERS

THE REV. W. M. NAINBY

Major C. Carruthers of Winnipeg, former rector of Holy Trinity church, and the Rev. W. M. Nainby, present rector, who will conduct the 50th anniversary services at the church Sunday morning and evening. Maj. Carruthers, who was rector when the present structure was built, will preach at both services. Also present will be the Rt. Rev. W. F. Barfoot, Bishop of Edgnonton. There will be special music by the choir under the direction of Herbert Wild, organist and choirmaster.

TODAY'S MESSAGE

By REV. CHARLES T. COOK
Editor of the "Christian," London, England.

"The Warrior and the Word of God"

SOME of my American friends may have seen the bronze statue of Oliver Cromwell, standing outside the British Houses of Parliament. The sculptor has placed a sword in one hand and a Bible in the other. Recently, Winston Churchill, in the House of Commons, described General Montgomery, commander of the victorious Eighth Army, as "that Cromwellian figure." The comparison is an apt one, for the General, who is the son of a missionary bishop, is respected not only as a first-class military leader, but as a fearless Christian, and a man of the Book. In taking farewell of his staff in England last year, before going to his new command in Egypt, General Montgomery said: "Gentlemen, I read my Bible every day, and I recommend you to do the same." Incidentally, the General is also a total abstainer and a non-smoker.

There are many heartening indications that not only highly placed officers, but large numbers of the rank and file in our fighting services, are taking a new interest in the Bible. For example, in one camp, out of two hundred men who came forward asking for Testaments, ninety confessed that they had never possessed a Bible.

The British War Office, unlike your own, does not issue Bibles and Testaments to men called to the colors. Chaplains, therefore, are dependent upon voluntary organizations, such as the Bible societies, for supplies of Scriptures. That fact, however, makes the total of copies distributed all the more impressive, the more especially as in nearly every case Bibles and Testaments are given only to men who make an individual request for them.

At the outbreak of war, the British and Foreign Bible Society printed large editions of the Scriptures. To date, two million copies have been circulated. The Scripture Gift Mission, of which the late Bishop J. Taylor Smith was president, has distributed nearly half a million Bibles and Testaments. The National Bible Society of Scotland has prepared and circulated over half a million copies.

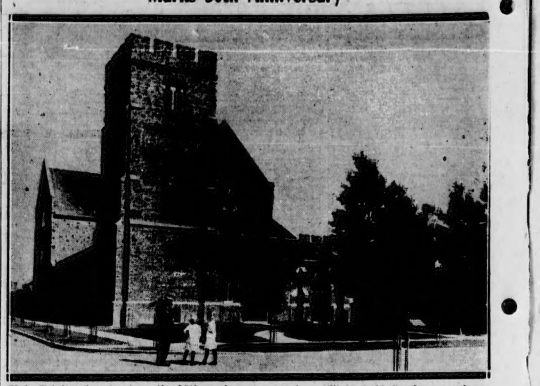

Christian workers in camps and depots, at home and abroad, all testify that the Word of God is being read, with visible results, especially in the matter of conversions. A soldier, home from Dunkirk, told how his regiment received Bibles before they went to France. He said: "I had never been to church or Sunday school. None of us thought of such things at home, yet I read the Bible given to me. I don't know what I should have done without it over there. When we came back from Dunkirk I had to leave everything behind, but I've still got my Bible." Such testimonies could be multiplied indefinitely.

All kinds of gospel literature is also eagerly accepted. It has been my privilege to make friendly contacts with soldiers of the American Army, especially of the Air Force, in Britain. I have found the booklet "For Distinguished Service," published by the Moody Bible Institute, most useful for that purpose.

As American soldiers were leaving Westminster Abbey at the close of their special Thanksgiving Day service, conducted by Chaplain J. L. Situated on the South Side, services at Holy Trinity church were first held in the C.P.R. station and later in a one-room school-house at Whyte avenue and 106 street. The first church was built in the fall of 1893 with the Rt. Rev. Henry Allen Gray, later the first bishop of Edmonton, as its first rector. The present building was completed in 1913 when the Rev. Canon Carruthers was rector. Present rector of the church is the Rev. W. M. Nainby who has been there over a year.

Secretary of the Y.M.C.A. National Council of World Service, Dr. A. J. Brace will be guest speaker at the 11 a.m. service to be held Sunday at McDougall United church. Dr. Brace is a professor, scholar, research worker and teacher who is well qualified to speak on China and has chosen as his topic "Christianizing Changing China." In the evening members of the Northern Alberta Pioneers and Old Timers' Association will attend the service in a body. Assisting at that service will be Rev. Alex Stewart, chaplain to the association.

Harold L. Weir, associate editor of The Edmonton Bulletin, will be guest speaker at the 11 a.m. service at St. Stephen's church on Sunday when there will be a Sung Eucharist. Holy Communion at 8 a.m. will commence services. At 8 p.m. there will be an organ recital.

At 11 a.m. on Sunday morning at Wesley United church there will be a service of Holy Communion conducted by the minister, the Rev. Dr. Edward T. Scragg. There will be no evening service as evening services have been discontinued for the summer months.

Assistant to the Rev. J. A. Vikman at Augustana Lutheran church during the summer months will be Grant Carlson, a graduate from Augustana College, Rock Island, Ill., this year. Mr. Carlson was born at Porter, Ind., and will enter Augustana Theological Seminary this fall. While attending the seminary he will be assisting as a teacher in the Christianity department. Mr. Carlson will be in charge of the divine service Sunday morning at Augustana Lutheran church and will deliver the sermon at evening worship. There will be special music at the services.

Draft Plans for Intensive Drive to Back War Effort

First Sod in War Housing Project To be Turned at Ceremony Monday

The first sod in Edmonton's $1,250,000 housing project under which 250 homes will be erected here by Wartime Housing Ltd., a crown company, will be turned by Mayor John W. Fry in an official ceremony to be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The ceremony will take place at the south-west corner of 115 avenue and 90 street, and will be attended by members of the provincial cabinet, members of the legislature, aldermanic and school board members, executive members of Messrs. Bennett and White, contractors, and representatives of the Canadian and American armed services. Hon. Ernest C. Manning, premier of Alberta, will be the principal speaker at the ceremony. An invitation was issued Saturday by Mayor John W. Fry to the general public to attend the ceremony.

TYPE OF HOMES

The homes to be erected under the project will be four, five and six room dwellings, and will be rented to war workers in the city. An administration office will be established in the city by Wartime Housing Ltd., when the work of construction is sufficiently advanced, and it is understood that the renting of these properties will be vested in this administration office.

Civic officials stressed again Saturday that the homes would be rented, and that they were not for sale.

The homes will be of full concrete basement construction, and the style and coloring of the dwellings would be varied to dissipate any "sameness" in the appearance of the streets.

Sixty of the homes will be erected in the Westwood district, and 190 in the Norwood district.

Arm Is Broken

Lois Wilson, eight years old, of Clover Bar, was admitted to General hospital at 6:30 p.m. Friday, suffering from a broken arm she received when she fell out of a tree at her home. Her condition was said to be good.

C.M.A. Official Is Back From Meeting

Thomas Ashenhurst, secretary of Alberta branch Canadian Manufacturers' Association, on his return from Toronto where he attended the 72nd annual general meeting of the association in the Royal York hotel, June 8, 9 and 10, stated that the official attendance was around 2,500.

Outstanding among distinguished guests who addressed the meeting were Sir William Beveridge, noted British economist and author of the famous Beveridge Report on social security; William Loren Batt, vice-chairman of the War Production Board, Washington, and U.S. representative on the Combined Raw Materials Board; H. A. St. George Saunders, author of "The Battle of Britain," "Bomber Command," and other documentary stories of the war which have enjoyed tremendous circulations; Sir Clive Baillieu, head of the British raw materials mission and British representative on the Combined Raw Materials Board, and Frederick C. Crawford, president National Association of Manufacturers of the United States.

—V—

The Alberta Regional War Labor Board will meet Thursday, June 24, in Calgary, it was learned in Edmonton Saturday. The Calgary meetings will be held in the offices of the Board of Industrial Relations in that city. The Board decided to hold this special meeting in the southern city at the request of citizens there, who wish to appear before it personally. It is understood a full agenda awaits the meeting.

Feted by Friends

John Randolph, United States Consul-General, who was presented with a silver card tray by leaders in Edmonton business and political life as a token of their esteem. The presentation was made by His Honor Lt.-Gov. J. C. Bowen at a banquet held Friday evening at the Edmonton Club. Mr. Randolph is retiring as Consul-General here on June 30.

John Randolph Guest of Honor On Retirement

Leaders in Edmonton's political and business life bade official farewell to John Randolph, American Consul-General, at a banquet held Friday evening at the Edmonton Club under the chairmanship of O. D. K. Kinnaird.

During the ceremony His Honor Lt.-Gov. J. C. Bowen, presented Mr. Randolph with a silver card tray as a token of the esteem in which he was held in Edmonton and Northern Alberta. Hon. Ernest Manning, premier of Alberta, spoke briefly on the good relationship that exists between the United States and Canadian authorities, and the harmony and good-will that marks the work of all joint projects undertaken in connection with the war efforts of the two nations.

Before going to their home in Florida next fall Mr. and Mrs. Randolph will holiday at Jasper. Appointment of a new consul general has not yet been made.

The club president, O. D. K. Kinnaird, presided at the dinner and others at the head table were Mr. Randolph, His Honor Lt.-Gov. J. C. Bowen, Premier Ernest Manning, Mayor John W. Fry, Brig. W. W. Foster, D.S.O., special Canadian government commissioner for defence projects in northwest Canada; Col. Dale V. Gaffney, officer commanding B.C.-Alaska wing, G. H. Steer, K.C., and J. F. MacNeil, special assistant to Brig. Foster.

Premier Manning was introduced and Mr. Steer congratulated him on behalf of the club on his recent appointment as premier and expressed the hope that he would have good fortune in discharging the responsibilities of his new post.

A number of army officers and officials of U.S. contracting firms and others who have been prominently identified with northern projects were introduced.

Others introduced included Brig. Foster, Col. Gaffney, H. W. E. Riley, U.S. war production board; Howard V. Kohr, Alaska travel control; Lloyd Noble, Noble Drilling Corporation; Neil H. Durkee, Betchel-Price-Callahan-Morton-M. Flint and R. H. Helminiolet, U.S. public roads administration; Col. Markey; James Phillips, C. A. Jacobus, American Red Cross; George

THE QUESTION

When are we going to get summer?

THE ANSWERS

BILL FRASER, bookkeeper: You here again about the weather. Isn't it bad enough without your asking questions concerning it. Last winter you asked for comment on the weather and the thermometer dropped to 40 below zero. Scram.

GUY THOMPSON, gardener: The present rains are O.K. by me. It saves me water costs, and the rain water is far better for making vegetables grow than the stuff I have to buy from the city.

HARRY FREEMAN, foreman: It is a little depressing to have so much rain, but I guess it could be worse. June usually is a wet month, but it appears to be excelling itself this year.

New War Savings Stamps Campaign Will Be Staged From June 28 to July 31

A new program for the sale of War Savings Stamps in Northern Alberta, commencing June 28, was announced today by officials of the National War Finance Committee in Edmonton. This program is part of a national campaign with an objective of $1,350,000 for the five weeks—June 28 to July 31.

Slogan of the campaign is "Stamp Out the U-Boat," and sales will be accelerated around the theme that one depth charge costs $90, and this same depth charge can sink or damage a U-Boat. The national objective, if met, will provide 15,000 depth charges.

In Northern Alberta the campaign will be operated under a set-up similar to the machinery that functioned so successfully during the Fourth Victory Loan. Objective for Edmonton was announced by officials today as $2,000 and that for rural Northern Alberta $20,000.

Every rural unit will have its own war savings committee especially appointed for this campaign, and for continued sale of stamps after July 31. A large majority of these committees in rural Northern Alberta have already been organized and are now completing plans for launching the drive June 28.

John F. Sydie, stamp sales chairman for Northern Alberta, is working in co-operation with H. A. Craig, provincial vice-chairman of general sales, whose department has charge of stamp sales in Northern Alberta. One of the first projects undertaken by the committee immediately after the announcement of the national campaign was the immediate launching of an in-

Getting Around

with Jack DeLong

Members of the Edmonton branch of the Canadian Legion are going to make certain that the home fires of men now serving with Canada's forces are kept burning by the families of the absent fighting men in the same homes the latter left behind.

Every right-thinking citizen will applaud the principle involved in the resolutions passed at their recent meeting concerning reported evictions of the dependents of servicemen.

It is outrageous that dependents of any man on active service should be forced out on the street, as was reported to be actually the case in some instances.

McKenney On Bridge

By WILLIAM E. McKENNEY
America's Card Authority

Mrs. Helen Pendleton Rockwell of Warren, Pa., who is a member of the league's executive committee, has just returned from California. She brought a nice hand back from the coast to show.

Mrs. Rockwell uses the Warren slam convention, a bid of four notrump, asking partner to show aces and kings. Aces count five points and kings one. A response of five diamonds would show two points; five hearts showed three points, and the bid is stepped up one for each additional point. Therefore, five no-trump shows a count of five. As this accounted for all of the aces and kings, East's response of seven no-trump was quite correct.

The opening lead of the three of diamonds was won by dummy with the queen, and when South showed out, Mrs. Rockwell (West) returned to her hand by playing a small club. Now the diamond finesse was successfully taken, and the declarer ran off four diamond tricks. South discarded five spades on the five diamonds.

Mrs. Rockwell then cashed her three top spade tricks and South was squeezed. He had to make two discards. If he discarded a club, Mrs. Rockwell's nine of clubs would be established, if he discarded two hearts, the eight of hearts would be good for the thirteenth trick.

Nice bidding and a neat squeeze play gave Mrs. Rockwell her grand slam contract.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Love Main Idea With Men; Girls More Sordid

Domestic Women Rate Far Below Office Worker When Men Choose a Wife; Good Cook Only Second Thought

DEAR MISS DIX: Does the average man marry for love? A group of us girls have been debating that question. Some say that at least for what they think is love when they escort a girl to the altar. Otherwise they would not burden themselves with the support of the ladies who are privileged to write "Mrs." before their names.

In the old days, when daughters were tied to their mothers' apron strings and a man had no chance to talk to a girl without a chaperon listening in, he had to marry the little sweetie who had caught his fancy in order to have any companionship with her. But in these free and easy times, when boys and girls go to school together and play together and work together, the man needs to get married in order to get all the feminine society he desires without making himself liable for the support of a family.

And if the modern young man marries just to get a home, he uses singularly little judgment and acumen in picking out his bride. For it is a matter of common knowledge that the domestic girls, who know how to cook and make edible bread and drinkable coffee and treat a steak tenderly and with the reverence it deserves instead of turning it into something that resembles a shoe sole more than anything else, are not the top-notchers in the matrimonial market.

Instead of this, the girls who get wedding rings the oftenest are those who have gone from the school room into an office and whose only culinary knowledge is how to use a shaker and a can-opener. So, we are bound to conclude that men marry for love and love alone.

As a matter of fact, girls are much more sordid about marriage than boys are. Girls marry for many reasons besides love. They often marry for homes and to get a man to support them. Innumerable of them marry just because they are bored and want a new experience, or because all the other girls are getting married and they are copycats who have to have a wedding because Sally and Mamie are having weddings, and they marry by the thousands for no other reason than that they don't want to be old maids. And they marry because they are tired of Mother bossing them and think they would like to boss a husband for a change.

DOROTHY DIX.

IN LOVE AGAIN

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: For 10 years I have enjoyed a happy and contented life with my husband, but a few weeks ago I met a married man with whom I fell instantly in love and who apparently is just as much in love with me. He has a wife who stopped loving him years ago and centred all of her love and attention on their children. I feel that this man is entitled to some happiness since he has had so little.

Now the problem is how will this change the relationship between my husband and me? He is too fine a person to hurt, yet I want to see this other man as much as possible. I hate the deceit and secretiveness that goes with a thing like this, but how can you stop love?

WORRIED.

Answer: Maybe you can't stop love, but you can certainly quit console-crossing your good husband. That's up to you, and I think that if you will cease idealizing this other man and romancing about him and letting your thoughts clothe him with a thousand imaginary charms and fascinations, you will find out that your love for him has just petered out. Now you are fanning your passion into a flame that is going to burn down your house of happiness and safety if you don't watch out. So you had better get busy dousing it with a little of the cold water of duty and principle and commonsense.

You are not the first middle-aged woman who has gone hay-wire because she was fed up with domesticity and the monotony of having a good husband who was so much in love with her he didn't need to use her tiptoes by making her jealous, and who thought that she fell in love with a stranger. Many of them have thrown away good homes and good husbands in order to have a little sentimental fling, and regretted the balance of their lives repenting it.

Just face your problem with a little intelligence. Realize that you haven't any mission to comfort any man who has fallen out of love with his wife and who is not happy. That's his little red wagon. You attend to your own. Also, realize that the answer to your question about how this affair will change the relationship between you and your husband is divorce. And maybe you will be left without either a husband or a lover, because your boy friend may not indeed giving up his wife and his children to marry you.

Believe me, lady, philandering wives come to no good end.

ENGAGEMENT RING

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: What does a girl do if she doesn't like her engagement ring? I love my fiance very much, but I don't like my engagement ring and I don't know how to tell him.

HELEN.

ANSWER: You certainly are up against a difficult proposition, for, you see, men are very sentimental about their engagement rings, and they expect their girls to feel the same way and to think that there is something holy and sacred in the little circlet that is the pledge of their love, and not to view it with a critic's eye and be disappointed in it because of the size of the diamond, or because the setting isn't the newest thing, or because, somehow, it isn't just what they wanted.

So it is going to take a lot of nerve to tell Bill, or whatever his name is, that you are disappointed in the ring that he picked out with such love and, sprung somewhile thoughts and that you want to swap it off for some other kind. And it is going to take enough diplomacy to qualify you to sit at the peace conference after the war to tell him that you do not like his taste without hurting his feelings.

On the other hand, the big moment in a girl's life when she gets her engagement ring, and half of her pleasure in being engaged is in having a ring that she is proud of and that she can flaunt in the faces of the disengaged girls.

So on the whole, considering that you probably have to wear your engagement ring, the balance of your life, I think you had better risk offending Bill by telling him that while you think his taste is perfect and the ring is adorable still, somehow, you would like to change it for one that you have seen and that just happens to hit your fancy. It is to meet situations like this that has made Emily Post advise all young engaged couples to go together to buy the ring and let the girl select it in the first place.

W. I. in Northern Alberta

Institutes in the Wetaskiwin constituency will attend a conference in Wetaskiwin on Friday, June 25. The meeting will begin at 10 a.m. with Mrs. T. Howes, constituency convener presiding. Mrs. E. E. Morton, Vegreville, vice-president and convener of war work, will be the guest speaker.

GRIMSHAW

Miss Caron gave a pleasing talk on dramatics as taught in the schools, at the W.I. June meeting here. Reports showed assistance had been given in sending a girl to a school for the deaf and dumb. Preparations were made for the coming conference. Two ditty bags were filled.

MOUNTAIN HEIGHTS

Sponsoring a dance, the W.I. was successful in raising a good amount for the purchase of cigarettes to send overseas. Mrs. L. Albert talked about educational matters which led to a general discussion.

WETASKIWIN

Meeting at the home of Mrs. Greenlee, arrangements were made to sell tickets on a needlepoint chair which is being embroidered by the president, Mrs. W. A. MacAllister. Mrs. J. H. Knowlan was appointed delegate to the coming conference. Knitted articles were sent to the Navy League.

A silver tea was arranged to raise funds for the purchase of cigarettes to be sent to local men overseas. Plans were also completed to entertain the constituency conference when Mrs. H. R. Evans, district director will be the speaker.

Members spent a profitable afternoon at the Red Cross rooms where they made quilts. Mrs. Skoberg represented the W.I. at the conference held this week at Alliance.

VEGREVILLE

Mrs. Rodgers was in charge of a program which included stories of first meetings of the W.I., music and a quiz in commemoration of the 22nd birthday of the institute. Mrs. Rodgers also paid tribute to the memory of thirteen members who had been promoted to higher service.

Members are preparing for a bazaar. They will add to general funds by serving supper at a wedding dance. Newly born babies were remembered with gifts of blankets. Mrs. L. Sutherland will be official delegate at the conference to be held at Westlock.

Members spent a pleasant afternoon discussing W.I. matters and preparing wool for a W.I. quilt. It was decided to send cigarettes every month to men overseas. Gardening hints were exchanged.

WINTERBURN

A birthday tea was held at the home of Mrs. W. Wild. Those present prepared a quilt for the Merchant Marine and also contributed knitted articles. Miss Dorothy Wild spoke on home nursing, giving a demonstration of bandaging.

Mrs. H. O. Beebe spoke on unusual accidents and stressed the need for necessary precautions in the home. A committee was appointed to pack 25 parcels to be sent overseas.

Serving supper at a school picnic and sponsoring a dance are two methods used by the W.I. this month. A short course in sewing will be held later in the summer. Wartime recipes were exchanged in answer to the roll call.

ECHO HILL

Plans were made to hold a community social in July instead of the regular meeting. Committees were appointed to have charge of refreshments and entertainment. A successful dance was held in H. Seibert's barn recently. Mrs. S. Yeomans outlined the program of studies used in the schools.

BIG MEADOWS

Plans are going forward for a bazaar and dance to be held on June 23. Members will take a course on what to do in wartime emergencies. The course is being sponsored by the Red Cross. Clothing was shipped to the Salvation Army during the past month.

Members spent the afternoon making a Red Cross quilt and packing a duffle bag when they met at the home of Mrs. G. Nelson.

Mrs. F. W. Lehman, Mrs. E. King and Mrs. B. Scheeler contributed items to the program of the June meeting. Mrs. Lehman spoke on democracy, explaining that home was the place to begin with it. Mrs. King showed the proper method of cleaning silver. Mrs. Scheeler completed the program with a riddle contest.

Members will take a course in home nursing. Woolens will be collected and made into blankets. Suggestions for better Victory gardens were exchanged.

PEACE RIVER

Preparations are already underway for shipping parcels to men overseas at Christmas. A donation was voted to the Salvation Army. Members are salvaging fats. Four quilts were made during the month and a ditty bag filled. Mrs. A. D. Laycock gave a talk on "The Theatre."

Meeting for a social afternoon at the home of Mrs. Primus, members made plans for the summer. Four quilts were completed for the Red Cross. No meeting will be held in July.

FAWCETT

Fire prevention hints were offered by members in answer to roll call. Mrs. Fred Anderson of Minburn, formerly a member of the W.I., was welcomed to the meeting. Fruit was sent to sick members. A picnic will be a pleasant event of the month. The July meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. George Boyd.

INDEPENDENCE

A whist drive and dance were money-making ventures this month. Cash donations were made to the A.W.I. Emergency War Fund and Jam Fund. A friend whose brother was reported missing overseas was remembered with a flowering plant. A number of the members attended the conference which was held on June 16.

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Now that Mothers are increasingly the bread-winners in the family, they have an opportunity to see life from Father's side of the fence and appreciate what makes Fathers tick.

They know now with what eagerness they turn toward home at night and with what disappointment they feel when all they get, once they arrive, is a rehearsal of the children's misdeeds or the smell of burning food, or an array of cross faces.

Many a father must say to himself, "Is it for this I spend my life and energy?"

Of course, there are fathers and fathers. Some debonaire, dialogal, selfish men grace neither the position of husband or father. A day devoted to honoring those men seems one misspent indeed.

But the vast majority of fathers seldom get the appreciation they deserve. Their lives, to their wives, look so desirable. Freedom to leave the problems of the home behind them each morning; the privilege of eating with friends each day and of associating with members of their own sex. This looks like unparalleled bliss.

Wives do not and never can know the nagging worm of insecurity. Suppose they can't pay their life insurance premiums? Suppose they lose their jobs, where would they turn at their time of life? Where to get the money to straighten Bob's teeth, or pay for Mom's fur coat, or pay the school tuition for talented daughter, or for a new davenport or fence in the back yard so baby won't run away, or pay the loan at the bank or keep up the mortgage and pay taxes?

Where, where indeed?

For weeks and months go by without any appreciable sum being laid away for that day when sickness, operations, lay-offs and old age will eat into the pay cheque leaving nothing.

Dads, everywhere, bear these burdens. Mothers worry and skimp and save, but in the end it the man who earns the money who must feel responsible for what that money can or cannot do.

Look around at the fathers you now and you'll find far more pitiful than devils among them. Men who work hard, wear old clothes while their women get the new ones, who get a night out with the "boys" occasionally, (and never hear the last of it) and who get their satisfactions out of pride in their modest homes and families and never beef about the good fortune or the excitement and thrills of life which have passed them by.

It's very little to devote one day a year to a heartfelt appreciation of good old Dad.

Our leaflet, "Books for Parents," consist of a fine assortment of new and helpful books for the parent to read or borrow from the library. It may be had by sending a 4-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

McCoy Health Service

In the beginning, the patient develops no symptoms to warn him, and the pressure may rise to 190 or over without his knowing that he is in any danger. As the blood pressure gradually rises, the remarkable thing is the total lack of symptoms noted. Most cases of high blood pressure come to the attention of a doctor not in the early stages, but during the later stages when the pressure is abnormally high.

In the course of time, the patient may develop various symptoms which he notices but it is an almost invariable rule that distinctive symptoms are absent during the earlier stages. When the arteries of the kidneys are involved, the patient may then develop those symptoms indicative of Bright's Disease or nephritis. In the average case of arterial hypertension, hardening of the arteries will be brought about and high blood pressure and arterio-sclerosis will exist in the same patient. The complication which is most feared is apoplexy. Apoplexy does not however develop until the arteries of the brain are so involved that a blood vessel accident may occur in the brain.

Very often, the symptom which comes most sharply to the attention of the patient is a nervous irritability. He complains that his flies off the handle too easily and that small events irritate him. He is kept in a state of constant turmoil by petty disturbances which earlier in life he ignored without effort. Sometimes the patient says that he awakens, sleep, or that he arises with a headache. Loss of sleep is another common symptom in high blood pressure. The patient may describe roaring or buzzing noises in the ears, or may say that the vision is blurred.

High blood pressure is a chronic disorder in the sense that it lasts over a considerable period of time, if untreated. However, it has been my experience that the blood pressure may be readily reduced closer to the normal, through the use of the fast. As a matter of fact, it is easier to bring down a blood pressure that is too high, than to raise one which is too low. The abnormally high pressure will respond in a gratifying manner to the fast in the majority of cases. It is very necessary that the patient follow the fasting directions exactly as given to get the best results and benefits which thousands have received from the fasting regimen.

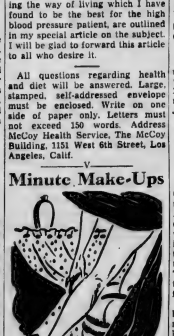

While the fast will rapidly lower the blood pressure in the first place it is important that the fasting period be followed by a restricted diet. The patient is allowed a moderate amount of meat, and an abundance of cooked and raw non-starchy vegetables, and one or two eggs daily but he must avoid sugars, and excessive amounts of salt. The patient is encouraged to take a moderate amount of exercise, which however, must not be too strenuous; walking is the best exercise that could possibly be taken. The patient is also cautioned to avoid mental strain and emotions as anger, worry or anxiety.

Some general suggestions regarding the way of living which I have found to be the best for the high blood pressure patient, are outlined in my special article on the subject. I will be glad to forward this article to all who desire it.

All questions regarding health and diet will be answered. Large, stamped, self-addressed envelope must be enclosed. Write on one side of paper only. Letters must not exceed 150 words. Address McCoy Health Service, The McCoy Building, 1151 West 6th Street, Los Angeles, Calif.

My Day

BY ELEANOR ROOSEVELT

NEW YORK CITY.—Last night one of the most remarkable army benefits, "The Army Play by Play," was given for the Soldiers and Sailors Club of New York.

Mr. John Golden, who has produced many Broadway successes, probably never put on a more interesting performance before a more distinguished audience. When he was asked to give a benefit, he happened to have on his desk a number of plays written by soldiers for a competition, in which he had offered a prize for the best soldier play written by a soldier.

The plays had been weeded down to five when the note asking for a benefit performance arrived, so he simply put them on for it and spent hours of his precious time coaching the soldier casts. He says he never did them, but they still liked him, and I have no doubt that is true. He adds that there are a number of boys who have never acted before and who he really considers good professional material, besides the few boys who were professional actors before the war.

All this work was done for one night's performance, and the first thing Mayor La Guardia said was, "What a waste, they should play for a few times at least. There isn't any question in my mind but that should they happen to play under professional auspices, they could roll up considerable sums for charities.

The soldiers will enjoy these plays, because in places they are like "Private Hargrove," just the life of a soldier with all of his language, his interests, and his separation from the world in which he once lived. Some of the old life still clings to the soldiers, but it undergoes a subtle change and they are just American soldiers, giving due deference to their officers, but never for one minute losing fooled by them.

These boys are the people of the United States. Their families are the families we all know. The plays are gay and you have a good time, but there are lessons in them—lessons of the unity of the American nation which are good for us all to feel in our souls.

As I walked through a side street yesterday I saw a man in black ahead of me. A man in uniform walked by her, stopped and went back. She greeted him warmly and I heard her say, "My, it is good to see you looking so well. You know I lost my boy in this war." I wanted to stop and to tell her how sorry I was that there were so many people who must be saying just the same thing. I hope they said it with as brave a smile and as courageous a ring in their voices as she did.

War Kitchen

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Here are recipes using left-overs from Sunday's meals. They are combined with fresh foods and appear in entirely different form.

This is the last of six articles showing how to use margarine instead of butter. Margarine, having a lower cost than butter, is important in wartime menus.

The New York Academy of Medicine said in a report of February, 1943: "From a nutritional point, when it is fortified with vitamin A in the required amount, oleomargarine is equal to butter, containing the same amounts of protein, fat, carbohydrates, and calories per unit of weight. Under the standards set by the Food and Drug Administration, oleomargarine is as clean and sanitary a food as butter. The two products digest equally well."

BEEF VEGETABLE BALLS

(Serves 4)

One-half pound chopped beef, veal or pork or cold left-over roast, ½ cup minced onions, ½ cup diced celery, ½ cup minced raw carrot, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper.

Grind the meat and raw vegetables and shape into small balls. Panfry in fat over a low flame until done. Garnish with chopped parsley. Make brown pan gravy to serve with it.

POTATO AND GREEN PEA SOUP

(Serves 4)

Two large diced potatoes, 1 sliced onion, 2 cups water in which Sunday's corn was cooked, 1 cup left-over peas, 3 tablespoons margarine, 2 tablespoons flour, 1¼ teaspoons salt, ½ teaspoon pepper, 4 cups milk, ¼ cup chopped parsley.

Boil the potatoes and onions in two cups water until tender. Add the cooked peas and run through a sieve to make a puree. In another pan melt the margarine, add the flour and salt and pepper and cook until smooth. Add the milk, the sieved vegetables and the parsley and cook for 10 minutes. Stir to keep from sticking.

Monday's Menu

(Eat the Basic 7 Every Day)

BREAKFAST: Melon, oats, toasted left-over corn muffins, margarine, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Potato and green pea soup, homemade Melba toast (use left-over stale bread and rolls) string bean salad, with mayonnaise, berries, tea, milk.

WOMAN'S BUMPER CROP

LONDON, May——(AP)—Miss Allson Jellicoe, 20-year-old member of the famous British naval family, has by sheer hard work and with very little help brought 120 acres of neglected Buckinghamshire farm land under the plow. Last year she produced a bumper wheat crop.

Guests in British residential hotels may soon have to supply their own bed and table linen. Several hotels already have had residents they have been unable to renew supplies, and guests must shift for themselves.

Hi-School Hi-Lights

EASTWOOD

By Edna Remnick

Graduation issue of the Eastwood Gazette was published and sold in the halls of Eastwood on Friday. And this Gazette was to be the last of its kind for the duration of the war, the Gazette staff, and especially the editor, Luise Weiss made their greatest effort to make this the best Grad-Gazette on record. The sales were high, and satisfaction and enthusiasm were the main feelings among the students.

Graduation rings and pins will be sold/vended at the beginning of next week, and the students are looking forward to them as a pleasant break before the long hard grind of exam-weeks.

A great deal of the credit for the Gazette belongs to the picture committee of the graduating class. These students made special arrangements for the graduation pictures which are such an important feature of the Grad Gazette. In fact, every committee on the Grad class deserved credit for its splendid work.

McDOUGALL COMMERCIAL

By Don Daynes

The Chronicle "Grad" issue is now in the hands of the students. Autograph hunters were storming one another for a scratch of the pencil while those too impatient to wait to read the publication were deeply absorbed in jokes, sports and editorials.

48-page book, the "Grad" issue was backed by the Chronicle to the limit, most of the articles being written by the staff members. The students are to be congratulated for the fine work and time spent in making the publication a success. We wish to take this opportunity to thank the teachers, students, staff and publishers for their fine cooperation in bringing about the completion of this book.

After the elimination tests had been turned in and the smoke from the keys had cleared, it was announced that the following: Dor othy Hensel, Olga Ivanchuk, Winnie Tait, Margaret Tait, Mildred Kastner, May Shalen, Josephine Stewart and June Hasagawa had qualified for entrance in the finals for the Typewriting trophy.

STRATHCONA

By Gwen McGregor

The Scona movie was presented for those students who may have missed the first performance a week ago Saturday. Of special interest to students were the scenes in the hall taken when classes were changing.

It is very hard to realize that another term will soon be over and with its conclusion we will be losing three of our favorite teachers: Miss E. Forester, J. J. Roxborough and C. S. Edwards. It is with sincere regret that we see these favorites of the hall go and we hope that they will always remember Strathcona High with happy thoughts of pleasant students and good times.

Of course exams are the main topic of conversation again this week. The boys, and girls too, who are entering the armed services must realize the importance of getting through in every exam.

Ken Cook's basket ball team won the series. In the play-offs this week they first put Neil Taylor's team out, then Dave Ellis's. In the final game they defeated Glen Gray in a close challenge.

VICTORIA

By Dolores Kimball

Another school term is almost a thing of the past and Vic graduates are preparing to go out and try their knowledge on the world.

In reviewing the time between last September and this June the students feel that they have been successful in everything attempted, particularly the salvage drive, nickel drives, and other aids to the war effort. One notable event was the purchase of a $100 Victory bond by the Drama Club, and a $50 bond by the Students' Union. An outstanding year play, plus "Vic's," dances, sleigh rides are all activities which will be remembered by students of the 1942-43 term.

In anticipation of the three-month vacation, a great number of students have visited the Selective Service offices seeking summer employment.

Reception Held Saturday for Dr. M. Howson

Garneau home of Hon. Mr. Justice W. R. Howson and Mrs. Howson was the scene of an attractive affair, Saturday afternoon and evening when Mrs. Howson entertained at a trousseau reception in honor of her elder daughter, Dr. Margaret Howson, whose wedding to Lt. Gardiner Craig will take place Saturday afternoon, June 26. Friends of the bride-elect's mother called during the afternoon between 4 and 6 o'clock and members of the younger set will call during the evening.

To receive her guests Mrs. Howson chose an afternoon frock of violet crepe worn with navy blue accessories. Her corsage was of mauve and white lilacs. Dr. Howson received in a beige redingote frock of crepe complemented with black accessories and a corsage of pink carnations and lily-of-the-valley.

In the dining room the tea table was set with a lace cloth and centred with a bowl of carnations in two shades of pink. Tall pink tapers lighted the table. A profusion of lilacs in shades of mauve and white were arranged throughout the house.

Pouring tea during the first hour in the afternoon were Mrs. R. J. Russell and Mrs. R. M. Hunter. During the second hour Mrs. A. B. Mason and Mrs. J. W. Stafford presided.

Mrs. G. D. Lockerbie was in charge of the dining room during the afternoon tea hours and serving were Mrs. Andrew McGregor, Mrs. Fraser Duncan, Mrs. Frank Law and Mrs. Kenneth Martin.

In the evening Mrs. Robert Follinsbee will pour tea. She will be assisted by Dr. Effie Dunn, Miss Jean Irwin, Miss Marion Williams and Miss Dorothy McIntyre in serving.

Mrs. J. E. Bicknell and Mrs. Hall showed the trousseau during the afternoon and in the evening Mrs. Kenneth Martin will be in charge.

Holy Trinity Garden Party Is Planned

One of several affairs to be held in celebration of the 50th anniversary of Holy Trinity church Sunday and Monday, is a garden party in the rectory grounds from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. Monday, when members of the various women's organizations of the church will be hostesses. If the weather in unfavorable, the event will take place in the parish hall.

The party will afford parishioners past and present, an opportunity to meet Major the Rev. Canon C. C. Caruthers of Winnipeg, former rector of Holy Trinity, who came to the city to be guest speaker at the Golden Jubilee services to be held in the church.

Receiving will be Mrs. W. M. Nainby and Mrs. G. G. Reynolds, assisted by presiding officers of the women's organizations, Mrs. R. C. Cooper, Mrs. A. H. Dean, Mrs. W. L. Hammett, Mrs. H. C. Peiler, of the Sanctuary Guild, Mothers' Union, W.A., and Parish Guild respectively.

In the evening, a reception will be held at which refreshments will be served by members of the Young Women's Fellowship, under direction of Mrs. D. R. Burt, and members of the Girls Club, Miss Margaret Sonalan in charge.

The following ladies will do honors at the tea table: Mrs. Birnie Brown, Mrs. Cable, sr., Mrs. H. Cable, Mrs. W. R. Coneybeare, Mrs. H. F. Christie, Mrs. Frank Cowles, Mrs. C. E. K. Cox, Mrs. F. C. Jamieson, Mrs. T. K. Huff, Mrs. A. Lasell, Mrs. Arthur McLean, Mrs. W. A. D. Passmore, Mrs. E. G. Robarts, Mrs. W. J. Saunders, Mrs. Arthur Shaw, Mrs. W. H. Sheppard, Mrs. W. J. Smith, Mrs. A. H. Templeton, Mrs. H. Tye, Mrs. H. Wilson.

A visitors' book will be placed for everyone to sign as a remembrance of the occasion. A short history of the parish, in booklet form, will be on sale for those who so desire it.

TO WED IN EAST

Miss Lois Marie Baker, at left, and Capt. Bruce Fraser Macdonald of the 2nd Armored Regiment, Lord Stratcona Horse, who will be married in Ottawa on the 26th day of June. Miss Baker is only daughter of Lt.-Col. J. O. Baker, E.D., Medical Corps, and Mrs. Baker of this city, and Capt. Macdonald is younger son of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Macdonald, also of Edmonton. The bride-to-be is well-known at the University of Alberta, where she was a student of Arts and Sciences. She is a member of Delta Gamma fraternity. The bridegroom-elect was graduated in Commerce from the University here, convocation 1940. He is a member of Delta Upsilon fraternity. Capt. Macdonald has recently returned from duty with the Canadian Army overseas, and before enlisting was a member of the editorial staff of The Edmonton Bulletin.

Miss Mavis Barber Smith Weds Pte. I. Irving Gould, R.C.O.C.

A profusion of purple and white lilacs, yellow snapdragons and summer greenery formed a colorful background for the wedding in First Baptist church Friday at 8 p.m. of Mavis Barber Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Barber Smith of Edmonton to Pte. I. Irving Gould, R.C.O.C., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Gould of Consort. The Rev. Daniel Young performed the ceremony, assisted by a cousin of the bride's, the Rev. Nowell Holmes, rector of St. Luke's church, Red Deer.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a floor-length gown of ivory sheer fashioned with a deep girdle embroidered with ivory braid, high, round neckline and full sleeves. Her full-length veil of white embroidered net was caught to her head by a coronet of white roses. The bride's only ornament was an antique pendant set with stones, a gift from her mother.

Miss Doris Berry, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. J. P. Berry, was bridesmaid. Her gown was buttercup yellow sheer and she wore flowers in her hair. Her bouquet was of mixed summer flowers.

Best man was Kenneth Gould, brother of the bridegroom.

Ushering guests to pews marked with white satin ribbon and clusters of white lilacs, were Jack McCauley and William Archer.

WEDDING MARCHES

Wedding marches were played by Mrs. F. Barber Smith, mother of the bride and during the ceremony Miss Ada Toffey sang "All Joy Be Thine."

Immediately after the ceremony a reception to more than 50 guests was held in the parlor at First Baptist church. Mrs. Gould, mother of the bridegroom and Mrs. Smith receiving with the party. Mrs. Smith wore a frosty green lace over satin gown with a large white straw hat and white accessories. Her corsage was of Picardy gladioli. Mrs. Gould's gown was black sheer with which she wore black accessories and a corsage of deep red roses. Mrs. Jessie Holmes, an aunt of the bride, wore a black sheer dress with a bodice of black lace over pink, white hat and accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

WEDDING TABLE

The wedding table was centred with the bride's cake and decorated with tall mauve and white tapers and yellow snapdragons in a silver basket. Presiding at the tea urns were Mrs. J. F. Woolworth of the Indian Residential school and Mrs. Roy Chubb.

Dr. J. F. Woodsworth proposed a toast to the bride and Howard W. Smith toasted the bridesmaid.

During the reception Miss Lorena Ritchie who attended Llanarthney school with the bride sang "Because" and Mrs. A. L. Howe sang "Hope."

Out of town guests included Fred C. Smith of Lamont; Miss Eunice Holmes and the Rev. Nowell Holmes of Red Deer; Mrs. Arthur M. Smith of Lake Saskatoon; Miss Loreena Ritchie of Bremner; and Mr. and Mrs. J. Glenn Harrold of Bellrose.

CRESCENT
FURNITURE COMPANY
Takes Pleasure in Announcing THE WINNERS of the
"Calling Mrs. Jones" Contest
FIRST PRIZE
$50 VICTORY BOND
MISS JESSIE MacKINNON
22 Rene LeMarchand Apts.
Edmonton
Yes, Mrs. Jones, we're calling you. Calling from the steaming jungles of southern Pacific islands—from the frustrating fogs and interminable winds of the Aleutians. Calling from the poignant loveliness of desecrated Hong Kong where the sunlight reaches us only through the rigid bars of our internment cells. Do you hear our despairing cries from a raft lost in the darkness of the bitter North Atlantic?
You have sacrificed much, Mrs. Jones, but it is not enough—not yet. A few empty shelves in the corner store may mean less gnawing hunger in a prison camp or on a tossing raft. The things you are doing without are the things we must have, or perish.
We're calling you, Mrs. Jones, you must not fail us!
SECOND PRIZE—$30 WAR SAVINGS CERTIFICATE
MRS. H. G. ALEXANDER
P.O. Box 103,
Vegreville, Alberta.
If we are asked what we considered to be the most cruel thing in the world, our thoughts would, undoubtedly, turn to War. Yet I recall a sentence, read long ago, "Nature is the most cruel thing in the world".
We are accustomed to Nature's tragedies: droughts, floods, hurricanes, earthquakes; famines; epidemics; old age.
Yet we allow similar horrors of war to lessen our belief in the goodness of God.
We cannot wonder at our young people and our men (who are only grown up children) questioning and doubting.
But we women must keep our hearts high, and let the world see that peace of mind comes only to those who "walk by faith, not by sight."
THIRD PRIZE—$20 WAR SAVINGS CERTIFICATE
MRS. STUART TAYLOR
Lacombe, Alberta.
You Marthas, Marys, and countless others who are today making history for Canada are the WAAC's, the WAAVES, the munition workers, etc. You are true daughters of pioneer women, who when all was peaceful stayed near their covered wagons—cooking, mending, raising children—but when their country was threatened with warring hordes, they were right there behind their men with guns or whatever weapons of warfare were at hand.
You women of today are made of just such stuff, your manners, your speech, even your homeland, are being threatened so you brave women of Canada have risen to a mighty challenge.
Hence you also shall go down in history along with the brave men who carry on so valiantly in the air, on the land and the sea.
HONORABLE MENTION...
MRS. W. H. GIBBS
10819 69 Avenue,
Edmonton
"We, as judges, were so impressed by the submission of Mrs. W. H. Gibbs' essay, that we would suggest this article be given honorable mention." The only reason it was not considered for placing in the prize list was that it was not kept within the 12½ word limit set to the rules of the contest.
THE JUDGES WHEN MAKING THE AWARDS HAD THIS TO SAY:
"It was not an easy matter to reach decisions; three meetings being required inasmuch as there were so many excellent entries, and necessitated the reading of all the advertisements published. Calling Mrs. Jones" — is where the complete set of advertisements are read at one sitting that a full appreciation of this campaign is evident."

Judicial Sale of Farm Property by Tender

PURSUANT to the Order for Sale and directions of the Honourable Mr. Justice McLaurin, sealed tenders will be received for the purchase of:

The South East quarter of Section Two (2), Township Fifty-three (53), Range Nineteen (19), West of the Fourth Meridian, in the Province of Alberta, as shown upon a map or plan of survey of the said Township approved and confirmed at Ottawa on the 23rd day of January, A.D. 1904, by Edouard Deville, Surveyor-General of Dominion Lands and of record in the Department of the Interior and containing by admeasurement One hundred and fifty-nine (159) acres, more or less. Reserving thereout all mines and minerals and

The North West quarter of Section Thirty-six (36), Township Fifty-two (52), Range Nineteen (19), West of the Fourth Meridian, in the Province of Alberta, containing One hundred and sixty (160) acres, more or less; Reserving unto His Majesty all mines and minerals.

There are four buildings, consisting of a house, barn, granary and chicken house, all frame with shingle roofs, and all situate on the South East quarter of Section Two (2) aforesaid. Approximately 150 acres of the land have been cultivated. The land is 11½ miles from the nearest elevator at Chipman, and 2½ miles from the nearest post office and school.

The property is offered for sale at an upset price of $6,000.00, subject to the right of the Defendants or any lessee of the premises to take off the 1943 crop and to reside on the premises until such crop has been harvested, but not later than the 1st day of November, A.D. 1943. The purchaser may at any time enter upon and take possession of the uncultivated portion of the lands, and after the grain grown upon the cultivated portion has been cut, may take possession thereof for the purpose of preparing the same for crop for the succeeding year.

Tenders must be enclosed in sealed envelopes marked "Tenders re National Trust Company Limited vs. Duncan, No. 32632 S.C.A.", addressed to R. P. Wallace, Clerk of the Supreme Court, Court House, Edmonton, Alberta, and must be in the hands of the said R. P. Wallace not later than 12.00 noon on the 3rd day of July, A.D. 1943.

TERMS OF SALE: Each tender must be accompanied by a marked cheque for 10% of the amount of the tender and the balance of the purchase price shall be paid into Court within 60 days after acceptance of tender without interest or the deposit of 10% shall be forfeited by the successful tenderer if he refuses to carry out the purchase after acceptance of his tender. Cheques of unsuccessful tenderers shall be returned to them immediately after rejection thereof.

The highest or any tender not necessarily accepted.

In all other respects the terms and conditions of sale will be the standing conditions of sale of the Supreme Court of Alberta so far as the same are applicable hereto.

For further particulars apply to GERALD O'CONNOR, K.C., BARRISTER, 1 NATIONAL TRUST BUILDING, EDMONTON, ALBERTA.

1943 Stampede At Calgary To Be Great Show

Plans are rapidly nearing completion for the 58th celebration of the annual Calgary Exhibition and Stampede, July 5 to 10. All features of this great event will again be presented, along with many added new attractions.

The show this year has been dedicated to "Quality Food Production for Victory and Freedom" and it will mirror the Canadian War Effort, particularly in the field of Livestock and Agricultural products. The Livestock exhibit is expected to be one of the finest in many years with a very large entry anticipated. The Swine show, in keeping with the times, will probably be the largest ever held in Canada. On display in the spacious Cattle Pavilion will be an outstanding exhibit of "keystones" of breed improvement.

BIGGEST IN WORLD

The biggest Stampede in the world, with 500 cowboys competing in the hair-raising events, will again feature the afternoon performances. Horse Races, with seven races daily will intersperse the program on the last four days, Wednesday to Saturday. Monday and Tuesday afternoons will be filled with the most thrilling collection of Western Sports ever presented. Along with the Stampede on those afternoons the track events will consist of Roman Standing Races, Pony Express Races, Stake Turning Races and Cart Races. Calgary has long been famous for its exciting Chuck Wagon Races held each evening in front of the Grandstand. These afternoon attractions are expected to challenge the thrills of the Chuck Wagons.

The glorious week will begin with the Stampede Parade on Monday morning, at 10 a.m., for which the Armed Services are again cooperating to display Canada's mighty forces of war. Indians, cowboys and old timers will join the Services to present one of the finest spectacles ever presented. The Indians will again come to the Exhibition for their annual holiday and will camp in their picturesque surroundings at the grounds. On Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday mornings Street Displays will be presented in down-town Calgary. The Old Timers will again entertain all their old friends in the pleasant atmosphere of their old log cabin.

CLEVER COMEDY

The evening attraction on the grandstand platform is entitled "Allies Victorious", and will combine clever comedy and mirthful music in the most attractive presentation ever staged on the A circuit. Each evening the grandstand performance will be opened with the thrilling Chuck Wagon Races. Already over 20 entries have been received for this event, the greatest entry for many years, and thrills and spills will be the result for at least five heats each night. Saturday evening the Indians will parade on the platform in their colorful costumes and Stampede Championships will be presented to the top cowboys of the week. Fireworks will be presented on Monday and Saturday evenings, and will undoubtedly be the greatest display presented in Canada this year.

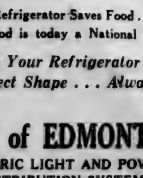

The All Canadian Midway, "Frolic-Land", with many new rides and shows will be in Calgary again for the week of July 5 to 10, and will do its part in providing entertainment and relaxation for the public generally and the members of the Armed Services stationed in the West.

Seat reservations may be made by mail accompanied by self-addressed stamped envelope with cheque or money order.

Conservatives Name Officers For New Year

Members of the Edmonton central executive of the Progressive Conservative Association at a meeting held Friday elected S. Bruce Smith, K.C., as president for the ensuing year.

Other officers elected were Mrs. D. M. Duggan, Edward C. Perry and A. L. Burrows, as vice-presidents. A fourth vice-president will be elected at a later meeting.

"Honorary presidents of the organization are Maj. Gen. W. A. Griesbach, C.B., C.M.G., D.S.O., V.D., and R. W. Ward. E. W. S. Kane was named secretary-treasurer.

Delegates to the association from the Edmonton West Progressive Conservative Association are Ronald Martland, K.C., A. L. Burrows and William Anderson; from Edmonton East Progressive Conservative Association, Alex F. J. Mitchell, R. F. Bayley and Mrs. M. A. Marshall.

Delegates from the Edmonton Women's Progressive Conservative Association are Mrs. T. D. Fitz-Simon and Mrs. Wolfe.

Heavy Rainfall On Friday Night

With gardens saturated and trees and bushes hanging downwards with the weight of moisture, Edmonton experienced still more rainfall Friday night when a heavy rainfall commencing at 10 p.m. brought .87 inches of rain. This rainfall brought the total for the week to one and three-quarter inches.

Gardens are thriving with the abundant moisture, but so are the weeds, and gardeners who do their gardening in the evenings have found it difficult to get out and weed their gardens between downpours.

The forecast for the week-end promises more of the same kind of weather—"partly cloudy" on Sunday and Saturday, with scattered showers and not much change in temperature.

Raise C.W.A.C. Age

TORONTO, June 19. — (CP) — Headquarters of Military District No. 2 here last night announced that age limit of recruits for the Canadian Women's Army Corps has been raised from 45 to 50 years. When that corps was organized the age limits were 21 to 40, and a year ago were changed to 18 to 45.

Charge Airman With Passing Rubber Cheques

LAC. Michael John William Taylor, R.A.F., charged with uttering forged cheques, was handed over to city authorities on Thursday. Taylor, passing under the assumed name of Robert E. W. Sandon, was identified by employees of the Bank of Montreal, Canadian Bank of Commerce and Bank of Nova Scotia, at a line-up of airmen at No. 3 "M" Depot.

Information laid on Friday by William C. Lumsden, accountant, Canadian Bank of Commerce, told how the man, representing himself to be Sanderson, wearing an air force uniform, had presented a cheque payable to himself on May 29. The cheque was drawn on a Calgary branch of the bank, and was, he said, from a friend there who owed him the money. He wanted to cash it as he was on 48 holidays and needed the money badly.

REFUSED CHEQUE

The teller had refused to cash the cheque, and referred the airman to the accountant, who told him to get the cheque initialled by the group captain, after which he would cash it. Sanderson was reported to have said he would return to the "M" depot and have it endorsed. Shortly after the bank had closed, he returned to the bank, where he received $25 from the teller. The back of the cheque had been endorsed in pencil in what appeared to be the signature of Group Captain Smith, No. 3 "M" Depot.

The cheque, forwarded to Calgary, was returned saying there was no account there. Group Captain Smith, upon being shown the cheque stated he knew nothing about it. He also stated there was no one by the name of Sanderson at the Depot. Security police have asked the banks to have their employees attend a parade for identification when a number of men on sick parade were also visited.

LEAVES LINE-UP

As Mr. Lumsden and a teller entered the place, an airman left the line-up and made for the door. He was recognized and caught up with outside by Lumsden. Other bank clerks positively identified him.

Accused was also reported to have presented a cheque for $43 at the Bank of Nova Scotia on June 4. This also was drawn on the Calgary branch, and the same procedure was taken in getting the purported endorsation of Group Captain Smith.

IDENTIFIES MAN

Lawrence B. McPhee, accountant, said he had initialled the cheque after which accused received the $43 from the teller. McPhee identified the man in the line-up.

A cheque for $26 was presented on May 28 by Sanderson at the Bank of Montreal, R. J. Cameron, clerk, told authorities. At that time he used an identification card with his photo attached, for identification. Cameron stated he had initialled the cheque and the teller cashed it. The cheque was returned from Calgary.

Sanderson, or Taylor, made no plea when he appeared in police court Friday and was remanded for one week. Other charges are to be laid, police stated.

L. Tolman and A. B. Corcoran, U.S. consulate; F. G. Rounthwaite, assistant general manager of North West Purchasing Ltd.

In his address Mr. Steer lauded the achievements of the U.S. building of northern projects through overcoming stupendous difficulties in an amazingly short time.

Mr. Steer said "We welcome you all." "The citizens of the U.S. who have come to fight the war in this theatre could not have come to any place where they would have been more welcome."

WILL BE MISSED

The Randolph family will be missed said Mr. Kinnaird and he remarked that the club had gathered to pay honor to Mr. Randolph who, from the day he and his family arrived here a year ago, had fitted into the life of the community.

The Lieutenant-Governor said that Mr. Randolph and his family were held in the highest esteem in Edmonton. This was largely due to Mr. and Mrs. Randolph and their family having become so interested in the country and were apparently so much at home with the people.

Objective philosophy, seeing the best in everything the governor pointed out, was a valuable trait in any family. The U.S. consul-general had entered into the life of this community with enthusiasm and zest equal to that of any of the citizens.

The Lieutenant Governor concluded his address with a presentation to Mr. Randolph of a silver tray bearing the inscription "Memories of Edmonton Club, 1943."

APPRECIATION

In expressing his appreciation of the gift, Mr. Randolph spoke of the charming kindness of the people of Edmonton and said there was scarcely any place where a more friendly reception could have been given him.

Mr. Randolph said he thought the efforts of his country and Canada to win the war and the peace to follow, were increasing the feeling of friendship on both sides of the border. He said this was a feeling he had sought to improve in every way he could.

The speaker told of experiences in other countries and said he had memories of many pleasurable and interesting incidents in various British countries.

In concluding, Mr. Randolph expressed his pleasure at being stationed in this city. He said it had been a great experience to be here during the construction of the Alaska Highway and that he would always remember Edmonton.

Now Overseas

Flt.-Lt. J. Gordon Brown, former minister at Robertson United church in Edmonton, and now on active service as a chaplain in the R.C.A.F., has arrived overseas, it was learned here on Saturday.

Times Writer Here Gathering Data

Gaining first hand knowledge of Canada's provinces A. Inglis, Ottawa, resident correspondent in Canada for The Times, London, arrived in Edmonton Saturday morning for a brief stay. He is a guest at the Macdonald hotel and is accompanied by Mrs. Inglis.

He was appointed to the post of resident correspondent last January, and had previously served as The Times correspondent in India for 10 years, joining The Times staff in 1923. Prior to that he was attached to the London office of the Christian Science Monitor.

Mr. Inglis will visit Premier Ernest Manning, and Mayor John W. Fry as well as business leaders in Edmonton.

Greeks Seeking Assistance in Battling Enemy

"Row upon row of little skeletons, pallid and dirty, devoured by vermin, stand with hands held out to passers-by. One sees the children fighting over garbage cans in search of food, and disputing bones with dogs of the gutter. On the iron rungs beneath the electric railway bridge in Athens, which receives the heat of the engines, the children stretch out to warm themselves. . . ."

This is a description of conditions found in Greece by a Red Cross worker. Wouldn't you like to do something about this appalling state of affairs. All who can are asked to help quickly in order that life saving supplies may be sent to the suffering people of Greece.

One week more remains of the Greek War Relief fund's campaign to raise $500,000 in Canada and although donations are mounting the Edmonton district objective of $30,000 is still far from being reached.

All money received will quickly be converted into food, clothing and medical supplies to be distributed in Greece by the International Red Cross. Donations may be sent to J. G. Nickerton, manager, Edmonton main branch, The Royal Bank of Canada, or to any branch of The Royal Bank.

Butchers Riot

MEXICO CITY, June 18.—(AP)—More than 1,000 butchers rioted yesterday at the city slaughterhouse when they were told the supply of meat would satisfy only one-third of their needs. Police dispersed the mob with tear gas. The rioters stoned the slaughter-house and the market where meat is sold.

Appointed

H. E. Bendickson of Edmonton, who has been appointed executive officer of the Regional War Labor Board. Mr. Bendickson succeeds Clayton Adams, chairman of the Board in Industrial Relations, who resigned from the Regional Board some weeks ago in order to devote his full time to the Industrial Relations Board.

Name Officer To Post With Labor Board

H. E. Bendickson, wage officer of the Regional War Labor Board, has been appointed executive officer of the board, Premier Ernest Manning, minister of trade and industry, and chairman of the board, announced Saturday. Mr. Bendickson succeeds Clayton Adams, who resigned from the post several weeks ago.

Mr. Bendickson, well known in newspaper circles in Edmonton and Vancouver, was born in Vancouver in 1897, and was educated at the coast city. He has been on the staffs of all three newspapers in Vancouver, filling positions in the business and circulation departments.

Coming to Edmonton in 1941, he was appointed circulation manager of The Edmonton Bulletin, a post which he held until his appointment as Wage Officer upon formation of the Regional War Labor Board.

Mr. Adams resigned as executive officer of the Regional Board in order to devote full time to his position as chairman of the Board of Industrial Relations. Until his resignation, he occupied both positions, but the increased tempo of Alberta industries demanded a full time chairman on the industrial board.

See Increase Of Beer Likely This Province

There is some likelihood more beer will be available to citizens of Alberta soon, although officials of the liquor control board here are silent on the matter.

It was announced in Saskatchewan Friday by liquor officials in that province that the new Dominion government regulations regarding beer for troops would add to the per capita quota there, and it is unlikely the Dominion government would make this regulation apply to Saskatchewan alone.

(The new regulations, announced by Ottawa, say active service canteens will be supplied with enough beer to guarantee a gallon a month per man to those in the services. The gallon per man will apply to the nominal strength of the unit, not just to those who drink beer.)

The Saskatchewan announcement said this gallon a month for each man was to be supplied over and above the regular quota allowed for the province, and thus it would constitute an extra supply of beer for the province, by taking some of the demand away from liquor stores.

If the same situation were to apply to Alberta, taking the active service military population of the province—an unofficial figure—at 10,000 men, there would be an extra 10,000 gallons of beer a month for the province as a whole.

However, it was pointed out that this extra allowance goes only to the service canteens, and any effect upon the civilian supply will depend on the soldiers themselves. If they refrain from buying at the liquor stores, because of their canteen allowance, there will be more beer for citizens.

But the soldiers, regardless of the beer they may buy in their own canteens, are still eligible to buy beer at the liquor stores, on their permits, and at beer parlors.

If they continue to buy beer on their permits and in the beer parlors, on top of their canteen allowance, at the present rate, then there could be no increase in the dozen-a-month quota now in effect.

Plan to Honor "Father" During Very Own Day

Tomorrow is the day when father reigns supreme—or a little higher than on any other day of the year. The reason is Fathers' Day—when everyone honors 'good old Dad."

While Fathers' Day has not achieved the popularity of Mothers' Day, which is held in May, it is nevertheless gaining in importance as a special event of the year. It was first observed at the instance of a group of mothers, who felt there should be a Fathers' Day, just as much as there should be a Mothers' Day.

The custom of wearing flowers, as on Mothers' Day, has not been followed in the case of Fathers' Day, nor has it until lately been noted in Sunday church services.

It has always been customary in Canada to mark Fathers' Day with gifts, and Edmonton merchants this year report that signs point to record sales for the week-end.

Neckties, tobacco, wearing apparel, books, stationery, magazine subscriptions and phonograph records seem to be the choice of local buyers of gifts for their Dads, the merchants report. Cards, for dads away, were in demand as much as five weeks ago, and by the beginning of this week, smaller stores reported their stocks depleted.

It will be the fourth Fathers' Day since the war began, and there will be some children here who will be sending cards and gifts to fathers they have never seen—and mothers hoping for the safe, speedy return of their husbands.

There will be some mothers and wives, too, to whom the day will bring a pang, and the realization that their husbands will not return.

But all over the world light is beginning to shine again, and the hope is strong in many hearts that 1943 will see the last Fathers' day of this war, and by next spring all the dads in the armed services may be with their lasses and lads at home.

It is with this thought that Edmonton will mark Sunday as Fathers' day, June 13, 1943.

Copper Wire Goes to War

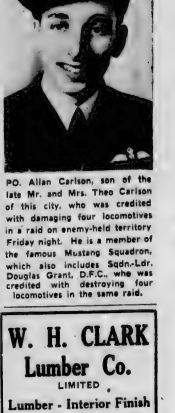

Vast quantities of copper wire are needed for the war effort of the United Nations. The wire goes into airplanes, ships, tanks, and innumerable other places. Copper is also required for many other purposes than wire. There is not enough copper to go around, and that is why the Government severely restricts the use of wire in the telephone business.

Manufacturers who might have made the switchboards and automatic equipment we need to meet the telephone demands in our territory are not permitted to do so because the materials, personnel and machines are needed to fill war orders. So we must get along largely with what we have.

These are reasons why many people who want telephone service are now unable to get it.

Montreal & Toronto

MONTREAL, June 19—(CP)—After an easier opening trends stiffened in trading on the stock exchange and curb market today. In utilities B.C. Power "B" was stronger and Winnipeg Electric was shaded. C.P.R. lost ground in carriers.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, June 19—(AP)—The slightly irregular pattern continued in today's stock market with dealings among the slowest for the past year. Revival of the coal labor crisis generally served to keep potential buyers in the conservative ranks.

Chicago Wheat Weak at Close

CHICAGO June 19—(AP)—Wheat prices weakened toward the close today as a little more hedging pressure came into the market. Favorable weather conditions for harvesting in the southwest made trading cautious and they were inclined to stay out of the market. Oats and rye were firm.

At the close wheat was ¼-¾ lower, corn was unchanged, oats were ⅜ lower to ⅛ higher, and rye was unchanged to ¼ lower.

Closing prices:

Wheat: July 1.43; Sept. 1.43⅛; Dec. 1.44⅝-½.

Corn: July 1.05b; Sept. 1.05b; Dec. 1.01b.

Oats: July 67¾; Sept. 65½; Dec. 66¼.

Rye: July 97½; Sept. 98⅞-99; Dec. 1.01¾-⅞.

Cash grain: No wheat; corn sample grade yellow 1.05; oats sample grade white 70½-71½; barley malting 1.06-14v, feed 98-1.06 nom.

WEEKLY LIVESTOCK REPORT

Report from the Edmonton stockyards for week ending June 18:

Receipts—	Cattle	Calves	Hogs	Sheep
Today	91	15	149	3

Trading on the cattle market was reasonably active the forepart of the week but closed draggy. Packer buyers being indifferent about purchasing due to local conditions. The receipts were fairly plentiful, the general quality showing some improvement. The high for the week was $12.50 per cwt. paid for two car lotts of really choice weighty steers. The bulk of the good to choice steers sold from $11.75 to $12.25 per cwt.. Good to choice steers sold from $11.75 to $12.25 per cwt. Good to choice heifers traded from $10.50 to $11.25, with the odd one topping $11.50 per cwt. Good light cows were mostly from $9 to $9.75 with a few light heifery kinds topping $10 per cwt. Grassy cows however were 25c to 50c lower. Good heavy cows $8.50 to $9.25. Bulls held steady throughout trading from $8 to $9.25.

Following are the quotations:

CATTLE—

Good-choice fed calves	$11.50	to	12.00
Good-choice h'vy steers	11.75	to	12.25
Good-choice steers	11.50	to	12.00
Fair-medium steers	10.75	to	11.25
Common to fair steers	9.50	to	10.75
Good-choice heifers	10.50	to	11.25
Fair to medium heifers	9.75	to	10.25
Common to fair heifers	8.50	to	9.75
Good-choice light cows	9.00	to	10.00
Good-choice heavy cows	8.50	to	9.00
Fair to medium cows	7.75	to	8.50
Common to fair cows	7.00	to	7.75
Canners and cutters	4.50	to	6.50
Bulls	8.00	to	9.25

Stockers and feeders of suitable quality were in fairly good demand. Better quality light steers selling up to $11 with the ordinary kinds from $8 to $10.50. Stock cows $8 down.

Veal calves held firm throughout with only a handful on offer. Really choice vealers topping $13.50 with others $13 down. Heavy and common kinds from $11 down.

Hogs unchanged basic for shipment $15.90 locals $15.40; sows live weight $9.75; plants basic $15.40 to $15.50; sows dressed discounted $3 per cwt. Feeders on the stockyards average weights $11.75; choice light feaders up to $13.

Lamb market steady to firm. Choice spring lambs topping $14; others $12.75 to $13.25. Good light yearlings $9.00 down and ewes $7.00 down.

Notice to Swine Producers: The advanced registry feed day is being held Saturday, June 26, at Lacombe experimental farm, commencing at 1 p.m. Be sure to attend, as the time will be well spent.

Winnipeg Wheat Futures Recede

WINNIPEG, June 19—(CP)—Wheat futures dipped ⅜-¼ cent a bushel today on Winnipeg grain exchange after an irregular session. July closed at $1.01⅝.

Buying during the session was credited to United States interests. Offerings were fairly liberal and were mostly elevator hedges.

A good export business in Canadian flour was reported with the United Kingdom.

Trade in the cash wheat market was quiet with only odd cars changing hands. Sales in cash coarse grains were light.

Rye futures worked higher through local spreading operations, but oats and barley futures remained at the ceiling with no trades reported.

Country marketings yesterday were 1,382,000 bushels compared with 281,000 bushels last year.

12 D.S.O.'s FOR RUSSIANS

MOSCOW—(CP)—For the first time in the war British decorations, including 12 Distinguished Service Orders, have been conferred on fighting men in the Soviet Army, Navy, Air Force and Merchant Marine.

LAFF-A-DAY

"Oh, go paddle your battleship!"

5 Veterans' Groups Unite Into Body

OTTAWA, June 19—(CP)—Five ex-servicemen's organizations have united in a body to be known as the "National Council of Veteran Associations in Canada," Dr. P. B. Meldon, secretary of the Army and Navy Veterans in Canada announced yesterday.

The associations in the new federation are the Sir Arthur Pearson Association of War Blinded; the War Amputations of Canada; the Canadian Corps Associtaion; the Canadian Pensioners' Association of the Great War and the Army and Navy Veterans.

"The National Council will speak for, and represent, the combined organizations, each of which retains its own identity and control of its particular field of work among veterans and their dependents," said Mr. Mellon's statement.

"The National Council replaces the Dominion Presidents' Conference of Veteran Associations which was formed in 1939, but is more comprehensive in scope, representing, as it does, branches of the constituent organizations in all parts of the Dominion."

Chilean Official Urges Spanish in Canadian Schools

CALGARY, June 19.—(CP)—It would be an "excellent idea," in the opinion of Dr. Humberto Diaz-Casanueva, secretary of the Chilean legation at Ottawa, if Spanish were made a compulsory subject in Canadian schools.

Visiting Calgary in the course of a cross-Canada trip, the Chilean stated yesterday he had learned to speak English, which he speaks well, at school in Chile.

If Spanish were taught in Canadian schools it would do much to help cement Canadian - South American relations, he said.

$1,000,000 Damage As Plants Burn

MASSILLON, O., June 19.—(AP)—Fire swept through two Massillon industrial plants last night, causing damage estimated at more than $1,000,000 and disrupting electric service to nearly half the city when flames severed power lines. The flames destroyed the Buckeye Cereal Company plant and spread to the Massollon-Cleveland-Akron Sign Company, Fire Chief Raymond Earle said.

Properly speaking, the name of the former capital and leading city of Turkey has never been "Constantinople." Its name was originally "Byzantium," which was changed in 329 A.D. to "New Rome," and today is called "Istanbul." The name Constantinople is a term used to describe no single city, but the group of cities lying on both sides of the Golden Horn at the junction of the Bosporus and the Sea of Marmora. The capital of Turkey is now Angora (or Ankara, in Turkish).

Before The Magistrate

Fifteen charges in connection with the R.C.M.P. alleged black market operating in Edmonton, resulted in that number of convictions by Magistrate A. I. Millar, K.C.

Seven of the charges were against Chris Doyce Needham, to each of which a plea of guilty was entered. Charges concerned supplying of butter to another, three pounds of coffee to a second person, four pounds of coffee to a third, two pounds of coffee to a fourth, one pound of coffee to a fifth, one pound of butter to a sixth, and one pound of coffee to a seventh.

Chris D. Needham was fined $150 and costs or three months in jail, sentence to date from the time of his arrest, by Magistrate Millar in police court Saturday morning. There were three or four serious charges of breach of the Excise Act against the accused, the court was told. Sentence should be passed on one of those, at least, it was recommended.

The accused had obtained bogus priorities, the court was informed as it was explained how he had got the coffee. All seven charges were remanded for one week. Three charges of conspiring have also been preferred against Needham.

F. C. Hayward pleaded guilty to purchasing four pounds of coffee from Needham. He was fined $15 and costs or 21 days. The accused said the beverage was offered to him by Needham, and he had bought it, without thinking what he was doing. G. W. Mardorf was assessed $15 and costs or 21 deys when he pleaded guilty to purchasing two pounds of coffee from Needham. Byron Webster, with two charges against him, was fined $10 and costs or 14 days on each, terms to run consecutively.

Edward Bailey pleaded guilty to purchasing 30 pounds of sugar from Robert M. Rado and was fined $25 and costs or 35 days. Rado, it was stated, had delivered the sugar to the accused's residence, but no money had changed hands so far as was known. There was no idea of the accused having obtained it for resale, the court was told.

Adam Latawsky, charged with possessing American cigarettes in accordance with the Canadian Excise Act, pleaded guilty. He was fined $75 or three months.

Six brands of cigarettes, aggregating 855, were found when the police made a search of the accused's premises, the court was informed. The accused stated they were gifts from Americans he carried to and from the airport in a taxi. He had accepted them as gifts, not knowing it was illegal to have them in his possession even when given to him.

A court of inquiry to ask that deportation proceedings be taken, was suggested to the court.

James Pickrell, charged with non-support of his wife and six children, all under 16 years old, was found guilty by Magistrate A. I. Millar, K.C., Saturday morning and sentenced to three months in Fort Saskatchewan jail.

Mr. Millar asked him why he hadn't contributed towards their support during the last two months when his earnings were $30 a week. Accused replied that he had been saving up money to build a home for them.

Frank Knox Fears U-Boat Sinkings To Again Increase

WASHINGTON, June 19—(AP)—An increase in the submarine sinkings of Allied ships was predicted yesterday by Navy Secretary Frank Knox, who said the present lull in the Atlantic "must indicate some change in the plans of the Germans." Knox told a press conference that at present the progress of Allied anti-submarine operations is "very satisfactory, but realistically we know they'd be going to do something."

Mrs. R. Grey Senior Regent

At a colorful ceremony Wednesday evening the Women of the Moose installed their new officers. Graduate regent Mrs. M. Freeman was grand installing officer.

The newly appointed officers are: Mrs. R. Crawley, graduate regent; Mrs. R. Grey, senior regent; Mrs. M. Brooks, junior regent; Mrs. E. McHardie, recorder; Mrs. M. Green, treasurer; Mrs. M. Armstrong, chaplain; Mrs. B. Smith, guide; Mrs. D. Keen, assistant guide; Mrs. A. Mitchell, sentinel; Mrs. A. Boyd, argus; and Mrs. C. Hart, pianist.

Grand installing guide for the ceremony was Mrs. R. Lammie and during the ceremony Mrs. R. Crawley was presented with her jewel of office.

Refreshments were served by a committee under the convenership of Mrs. A. McLaughlin.

Mrs. H. Spilliow, gradute regent, extended an invitation to the members to attend a silver tea and sale of home cooking to be held in the Empire room of the Hudson's Bay Company store, the afternoon of June 30 arranged by members of the Greek Women's Auxiliary.

Sale of the quilt was postponed from June 28 to July 29. Tickets were on sale for a card party to be held in the Empire Room of the Hudson's Bay Company store. The party is being convened by Mrs. A. Rennie.

Mrs. E. Bishop, Mrs. J. McLennan and Mrs. M. De Filippi were appointed to the auditing committee to meet July 5.

Japs Use New Type of Plane

By FRANK HEWLETT

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin
Copyright, 1943, by British United Press

ADVANCED SOUTH PACIFIC BASE, June 19.—The Japanese air force was reported Friday to have been using a new type of plane flown by inexperinced pilots, in the battle over Guadalcanal two days ago in which it lost 77 planes with 12 more damaged.

Military observers believed the Japanese are trying to develop a new plane in an effort to cope with growing allied air strength in the Southwest Pacific.

American pilots reported that the enemy planes apparently were piloted by greenhorns who could not hold their own in combat, leading to speculation that Japan either is holding back its first-rate airmen or no longer has a first team.

Forty Survivors Of Sunken River Ship Picked Up

RIO DE JANEIRO, June 19—(AP)—The steamer Marcilio Dias has picked up 40 survivors from the river ship Maocir which foundered and sank Wednesday night while en route from Belem to Manoas, dispatches from Belem said yesterday. The bodies of five of the 75 passengers and crewmen of the Moacir were also reported aboard the Marcilio Dias. What happened to the other 30 was not known. It was believed an explosion in its oil cargo had caused the Moacir to founder and sink.

What To Do

Is it possible to get acquainted at a country club when you know none of the members?

Answer—The fact that you belong to the club puts you on the same plane as the other members.

You may seek out the club president and introduce yourself. He will probably see that you meet some of the club members.

You will also find that the locker room is a very good place in which to get acquainted with other members. The informality and the conversations about the day's golf scores will probably give you an "in." The 19th hole—which very often is in the locker room will give you a chance to know your fellow members.

Don't push your way into their cliques or conversations though. If they want you, you'll be invited to join them.

One of the Toughest Jobs on Canada's Home Front Turns Giant Spruce into Bombers
900 Lumberjacks Swing Mighty Axes on Pacific Island near Border of Alaska

Canadian lumberjacks are striving to cut 200,000,000 feet of spruce log this year, much of it airplane Sitka spruce from Queen Charlotte Islands, just 50 miles from the Alaskan border. Train takes logs to the inlet where they are floated into huge rafts. The lumbermen daily walk five miles through bush to work.

Lumbermen work ten hours a day at muscle-building toil, are on piece work and can earn up to $15 a day, sawing and chopping seven-foot thick, 300-year-old trees. Boom men pole the mighty logs to make up a Davis raft.

Bill White starts up tree.

High riggers begin cutting.

Men of every race, ex-wrestlers, athletes, tough men of the backwoods, fell the forest giants. Alex Pallipcher, a Ukrainian, likes hard work.

Joe McNeil, boss of the "cold deck pile", takes a chaw of stimulating tobacco.

Jack Crosse is a French-Canadian, six feet tall, 225 pounds, an ex-wrestler, is forty years old, but puts in a gruelling 10-hour day as a "faller" — a good one.

Ed Bedlow, boom man, makes up Davis rafts comprised of forty-foot spruce logs.

Alec Barr, an ace faller, strides to work, saw and wedge hammer on shoulder.

The top forty feet falls.

So adept at leaping from log to log in the river or walking the whirling tree trunks are these lumber men, they can walk tightropes in best circus style.

Partner of giant Jack Crosse is Ollie Brackoos, a 38-year-old Scandinavian, 135-pound dynamo who hits blow for blow with his huge co-worker. They stick springboards in the tree bole and swing six-pound axes from this perch.

Norman Wagstaff poses beside a Sitka spruce to show the diameter. It is nine feet through, was nearly 300 feet in height, and close to 400 years old.

Greetings from 250 feet up.

Much of the Sitka spruce goes into pulpwood to make paper or other pulp products. It is cut up, pressed and crushed, made into a wet mash. Above, a worker beats the pulp in the last process before it goes to the presses to become paper. Sitka also is used in gun cotton from which comes cordite for explosives.

Spruce is a source of veneers, thin layers glued together with adhesives, shaped, trimmed and cut with razor-edged tools, to make Mosquito plane fuselages. George Martin of Toronto, who used to do all the fibre woodwork on the moving parts of pianos, finds his peace-time experience valuable in aircraft work.

Women Won't Talk

By RENE RYERSON MART

CHAPTER XI

CONNIE stood up. Her nervous fingers were tugging at the knot of the scarf around her shoulders. "I lost it one evening last week — taking a walk after dinner," she said jerkily.

I couldn't bear to look at her face. I looked down and that was how I happened to see the sequin-weighted scarf slipping from her shoulders. She had unconsciously untied it. And then I stared. Sloping across one shoulder and white arm was an ugly purplish-red bruise.

Shaw couldn't see it, she was facing him. I must do something before he did.

But I needn't have worried. He had something urgent on his mind for the moment. His men had been searching the upstairs while he kept us occupied in the living room, and panning for gold dust they had found a nugget. Shaw drew a piece of paper from his pocket.

"Perhaps you can explain this, too, Mrs. Kralk. We found it in the wastebasket in your room."

He held out the piece of paper for her to see.

Connie shrank back as if he had struck her.

He read the note aloud: "I'm hiding in the old play cave. Come this evening. I've got to see you. It's a matter of life and death. Derek."

It is marvelous in a split second how many thoughts can crowd into the human mind. I saw Connie wearing slacks and a coat to hide this hurt on her arm; Connie fainting over Derek's body; Connie insisting that I phone for Walter—that she simply had to have him; Connie searching my room (the room I occupied now, the mulberry room that had been hers until some time Wednesday afternoon), searching for a book, she had said, and coming out with that lost look upon her face.

Was it this note she had been looking for? This note that she had read and laid down somewhere, and that had only assumed tragic importance after Derek was murdered. And then, perhaps, she couldn't remember in her excitement where she had left it. But it didn't make sense—Connie did not know Derek.

I looked at the girl. She was swaying on her feet.

She gave Shaw a despairing look. "I killed him—but I didn't mean to."

Walter jumped forward and pushed Connie back down on the divan. He wasn't very gentle about it and his face was awful.

"Connie, you don't know what you're saying. Keep quiet!"

She looked at his pathetically. "Oh, yes, I know, Walter." Her breath caught. "I can't go on trying to hide it. I've nearly died. I've got to tell this man—"

She turned back to Shaw. "I didn't mean to kill him. I only pushed him hard — to keep him from kissing me. We were standing about half way down the bank of the ravine, so that no one could see us from the house. It was pretty steep there, and when I shoved him we both lost our balance. I fell against a tree, that's when I hurt my shoulder, and he fell—down in the ravine. I saw him lying there on his back, but I didn't think he was hurt badly. I just turned and ran. That's when I lost my bead. He—he must have crawled back up the side of the ravine—before—he died."

Shaw was staring at her. "When did this happen, Mrs. Kralk?"

"Wednesday evening—after dinner."

"That was the evening of the day you got his note—the day before you found his body?"

Connie nodded agreement.

* * * *

"What did Derek Grady want to see you about—what did he mean by that note?" Shaw pursued.

"He wanted money to get away on. He said he was in trouble with the police."

"You took him the money, and then he tried to make love to you? Is that it?"

Walter broke in violently. "This is nonsense. She didn't even know the man."

Connie drew away from Walter. Her voice was shamed. "Yes, I knew him—but—I didn't know that he was the Derek you knew. I met him a long time ago when he came to live with his father, who was a neighbor of ours. I went around with him a lot the summer before I went away to nurse's training school."

Something clicked in my mind. I knew now why the address on Wheatland avenue that the newspaper had given as Derek's home had been familiar. Of course, that was the same street where Connie had lived before she married Walter.

"Did you give him some money?" Shaw persisted.

"No." Connie said slowly. "I didn't have any here at the house. I told him to go away at once or we would call the police—and then—then . . ."

Shaw cut short her misery. "No need to go over that again, Mrs. Kralk. Just one more question. Who brought you the note from Derek Grady?"

"His grandmother," Connie said. Two spots of red began to burn in her white cheeks.

Shaw's face was pretty grim. Connie watched it like a bird fascinated by a snake.

"Do I have to go with you now?" Her voice was a whisper.

The deputy shook his head, and his next words brought me out of a bad dream. "No, you don't have to go with me. You didn't kill Derek Grady—if you're telling the truth. Your story explains the injury on the back of his head, but that wasn't what killed him. He was shot."

Charred Bodies Of Indian Women Found in Blaze

CRANBROOK, B.C., June 19.—(CP)—The charred bodies of two Indian women, Mrs. Joe Eugene, 29, and Mrs. Willie Stevens, 38, were identified in the smouldering ruins of their home on the Shushwap reserve near Invermere late yesterday.

The fire was noticed by residents of the reserve this morning, but when help arrived the fire was too advanced for any attempts at aiding the residents.

Husbands of both women are serving with the Canadian army overseas.

Police are investigating circumstances of the fire.

Report 3 Indians Burned to Death

VICTORIA, June 19.—(CP)—A brief report to provincial police headquarters yesterday said three Indians, two men and a woman, were burned to death in a building on the Shuswap Indian reserve near Cranbrook, B.C. No further details were given.

FUN IN THE PARK

(To be colored with paints or crayons. Whenever you come to a word spelled in CAPITAL letters use that color.)

YELLOW-haired Susie May and BROWN-haired Teddy are having lots of fun in the little wading pool in the park. Teddy has his new RED sailboat. It has big white sails and a YELLOW mast and prow. The water in the pool is BLUE, reflecting the darker BLUE sky above. Teddy's White sailor suit is trimmed with wide bands of RED and his tie is bright RED, too.

Susie May wears a PINK (use RED lightly) frock that is trimmed at the neck and sleeves with narrow YELLOW ribbon.

The grass is GREEN and has a little YELLOW dandelion growing near the pool. Its leaves are a lighter GREEN than the grass, but the flowers behind Susie May have darker GREEN leaves and their flowers are bright RED and ORANGE (use RED and YELLOW mixed) color.

The park bench is painted GREEN.

Susie May has BLUE eyes and PINK cheeks, her lips are RED like Teddy's. Teddy has PINK cheeks, and both children have PINK legs as the water in the pool is nice and cool.

You can paint the lettering ORANGE color.

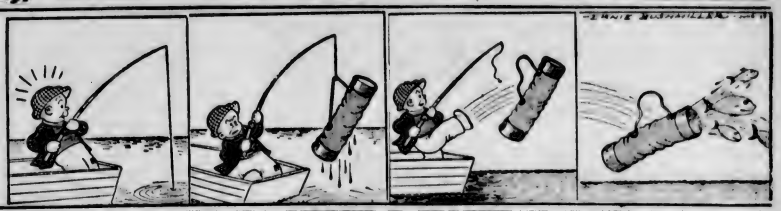

The stone edge of the pool should be colored GRAY (use BLACK lightly) for this.

Instructor, Pupil Of R.A.F. Killed In Plane Crash

MOOSE JAW, Sask., June 19.—(CP)—Two members of the R.A.F.—an instructor and a student pilot—from No. 32 service flying training school, Moose Jaw, were killed when their training plane crashed near Stelcam, 10 miles southeast of here.

They were on a routine training flight at the time of the mishap.

The next-of-kin have been notified and their names will be released shortly. A court of enquiry into the accident has been set up.

Plan Campaign To Boost Sales Of War Stamps

PERIOD OF COMPETITION

The competition will be for the period from June 15 to Dec. 15, and in view of the extended summer vacation campaign officials urge upon the school teachers to complete and return to headquarters the entry form sent to them recently. It is imperative, officials stated, that every school submit its entry form before the close of the school term, as this will give the pupils of that school the benefit of a three and a half months' vacation for purposes of raising funds and purchasing stamps.

The schools are divided into four categories: schools within the city of Edmonton; schools in towns or cities having a population of more than 500; schools in villages having a population of 100 to 500; schools in hamlets and rural communities.

SEPARATE PRIZES

Three separate sets of prizes will be given the winners. The first is a prize to the school in each category making the largest per capita sales; second to the pupil of a school in each category selling the most stamps; third, the pupil of any high school grade within a school of any category selling the most stamps.

Though the school competition will continue until Dec. 15, campaign officials are anxious for early entries as any sales made between June 28 and July 31 in this competition will be credited to the quotas of the various units.

Stamp committees already organized in the various units are planning various ways and means of increasing sales in their respective communities.

ACTIVE COMMITTEE

In Edmonton an active committee, under the chairmanship of W. W. Prevey, is completing plans for instituting various activities that various activities that would serve as outlets for increased sales. In most cases the plans are underway in the city and in rural Northern Alberta, being prepared with a long range viewpoint in order that the increased sales can continue following the closing date of the "Stamp Out the U-Boat" campaign. This was found essential in view of the comparatively disappointing results in war savings stamp sales in Northern Alberta to date. Stamp sale officials announced today that month-by-month sales in this part of the province have been less than half of the sales in Southern Alberta and that the province at large, in comparison with the other western provinces, is last on per capita sales basis.

Light Horse Show Date Is Altered

Owing to the decision by Ottawa authorities to celebrate the Dominion Day holiday on July 1 instead of July 5, as at first considered, the management of the Edmonton Exhibition Association announced Saturday that the forthcoming light horse show will be held on Wednesday, June 30 and Thursday, July 1 instead of June 29 and 30 as previously announced. As the city stores will be open all day on Wednesday of that week on account of the holiday, their employees would not have had an opportunity to visit the show. By this change of dates they will now be able to visit the horse show on Thursday, July 1.

Getting Around

us what can be done in the way of providing efficient shelter in a hurry for troops and civilian workers. Prefabricated buildings, erected in a day, may be seen in several parts of the city.

Has the government investigated the possibilities of securing this type of temporary structure, as one means of easing the serious housing problem in Edmonton?

In total war why shouldn't the problem of civilian housing be on the same basis as military housing?

We are told time and time again by those competent to know, that nothing lowers the morale of servicemen more than worries over the welfare of families back home.

Landlords who are still operating on a pre-war basis of "get all you can" are committing a form of sabotage, even if their actions are the result of thoughtlessness.

It is true there may exist the odd case where a landlord is the injured party where proceedings for eviction have been undertaken. Such cases are readily recognizable. The Legion has men and women in the executive capacity quite competent to make fair and impartial investigation of each case.

By and large the principle of no evictions of servicemen's dependents is one that will receive the support of the overwhelming majority of Canadians.

Officer Dies

OTTAWA, June 10—(CP)—Lieut Gordon Honeyman, who was in training for a staff position in the army's Pacific Command, died in hospital here Thursday night after an illness of seven months, aged 29. He was born in Ottawa.

Busy Beaver Begins a Hard Night's Work

"Night Work", a detailed study of a beaver, taken by Alfred Blyth, city photographer for The Edmonton Bulletin. The beaver was caught just as he came out to begin work for the night. The setting is in the Vermillon Lakes district, Banff National Park. The picture was hung in the Portland Society of Art, Portland, Maine, and is one of many taken by Mr. Blyth, which have been acclaimed by photographic salons throughout the world. Many of the pictures so honored have appeared exclusively in The Edmonton Bulletin.

Edmonton Photographer's Pictures Shown in Many International Exhibitions

By HOPE MORRITT

Edmonton and Alberta pictures, scenery and character studies, and studio portraits taken by Alfred Blyth, noted city photographer, many of which have been published exclusively in The Edmonton Bulletin, have gained fame and popularity throughout the world.

Outstanding features of the city as a whole, including buildings and bridges, parks and surrounding lakes, have been photographed by Mr. Blyth and have been shown in well-known salons throughout the British Empire, and the United States.

Of particular interest is a picture of a snow-shower, taken at the Edmonton airport, and published in The Edmonton Bulletin last winter, just after the unprecedented snowfall of Nov. 15. This photograph was on display in the Paducah International Salon of Photography, Paducah, Kentucky.

Another noteworthy picture was that of an Anson bomber with its silver lines and show of power, taking off at the Edmonton airport. Entitled "Take Off" it was hung in the International Salon at Pittsburgh, U.S.A., and at Montreal, Quebec.

"Mista Jim," a character study of a Canadian Indian, "Winter Shadows," depicting a scene of snow and shadows at Bonnie Doon, and "Sailboats on Cooking Lake," were shown at the Photographic Salon, Edinburgh, Scotland, where they won unstinted admiration.

MAJESTIC GRANDEUR

Banff and its surrounding majestic grandeur, its lakes, and even its small beaver inhabitants such as the one shown in the picture starting his work for the night, were caught by Mr. Blyth's camera. These studies have drawn enthusiastic and widespread comment. The picture of the beaver, taken at Vermilion Lakes, Banff National Park, was hung in the Portland Society of Art, Portland, Maine. It is called "Night Work."

"Plowing Near Ellerslie," "Macdonald Hotel," "High Level Bridge," "Roadway Along Saskatchewan," "Mista Jim," "A Portrait," "Sailboats on Cooking Lake," were titles of pictures shown at the New Zealand Salon, Hamilton, New Zealand. "Winter Shadows," considered by critics to be one of Mr. Blyth's best productions was hung at the Los Angeles Salon of Photography, the Rochester International Salon of Photography, the Hamilton, Ont., Canadian Salon of Photography, and the Edinburgh, Scotland Photographic Salon.

Mr. Blyth has the distinction of having had royal approval placed on his work, as he received a letter from Buckingham Palace conveying Their Majesties pleasure at a picture he took of them at the C.N.R. station here, June 2, 1939.

In addition to photography, Mr. Blyth takes a deep interest in tennis of which he is an able exponent, and is interested in motoring and good roads.

Advances in Grain Being Developed

OTTAWA, June 10.—(CP)—Dr. L. H. Newman, Dominion cerealist, said at the annual meeting of the Ottawa Valley Seed Growers' Association here yesterday that quick-growing grains with high resistance to disease now are being developed, and postwar crops may reach the point where they are only slightly affected by weather conditions.

Triplets Doing "Nicely Thanks" At Royal Alex

Lawrence, Leonard and Larry McKort, triplet sons who were born to Mr. and Mrs. Fred McKort of 13212 121 street, May 27, in the Royal Alexandra hospital are doing quite nicely and although they are not husky, hospital officials hope that it will be possible to raise them all, Dr. A. F. Anderson, superintendent, reported at the regular monthly meeting of the board held Friday evening.

The triplets are still in a specially heated room but have definitely gained in weight. They will not, however, be taken from the hospital until they are five pounds each at least. At birth they weighed three pounds, two ounces, three pounds, seven ounces and four pounds, seven ounces.

Twins were also born at the Royal Alexandra hospital during May, making two multiple births in one month.

American Night Is Planned Here

An "American Night", sponsored by a committee of the American Women's Service Club, is to be held Thursday evening, June 24 in Talmud Torah Hall, 103 street. The program is being arranged for members of the Society for Development of Canadian Culture.

Mrs. Dorothy Hewston, formerly of Chicago, is convening the program, and will be assisted by Mrs. Alice Sedgewick.

Man Fled Germany Loses Alberta Job

A man who said his father, a former member of the German parliament, is now in exile in Switzerland, and who claimed to have fled from Germany to Canada in 1939 after "trouble with the Nazis," was remanded for one week by police court magistrate A. L. Millar Friday on a charge of changing his name to procure employment.

The remand was given after the man said R.C.M.P. would vouch for him at Calgary, where he was employed in a hotel until the outbreak of the war in 1939, when he was dismissed. He had been on the staff for nine years.

He and his English wife went to High River and subsequently returned to Calgary, but each time he got a job he was dismissed after his employer learned he was a German.

He said he had changed his name in desperation. He had secured employment here under his assumed identity and was working when arrested.

Exhibition of Drawings

War Reporting by Clayton Knight

Well-Known Artist - Correspondent Now Connected With Canadian Aviation Bureau in the United States. Portraits of Personalities, Combat, Behind-the-Scenes Sketches.

It's an interesting story . . . that of Clayton Knight. He flew in the Royal Flying Corps last war . . . and collaborated with Elliott Whitesprings as co-author and illustrator of that famous book on flying, "War Birds", a story of the R.F.C. in action. Now it's another war . . . and at the request of the Canadian Government, Clayton Knight flew to England to record his impressions of our boys in action. Every Canadian will want to see this exhibit—it's fascinating simply as art, for the wash and pencil drawings, the watercolors, have an on-the-spot clarity that pleases the eye. Here is reporting with a pencil, instead of a typewriter . . . visual notes on what goes on in R.C.A.F. Stations overseas, as well as in planes, and behind the scenes. See them in our windows!
